Introduction

"We are the music makers,
And we are the dreamers of dreams,
Wandering by lone sea-breakers,
And sitting by desolate streams;
World-losers and world-forsakers,
On whom the pale moon gleams:
Yet we are the movers and shakers
Of the world forever, it seems."

There will probably never be a time when music will not be a vital part of the acts of worship. The functioning of worship includes the working of those mysterious elements of human feeling which may not be accurately measured or controlled, but which must nevertheless be recognized, and used if possible, in the development of the finest and best that worship can give. The emotional element in worship, properly aroused, leads to that higher and finer form of religious experience which may be called fruition. Worship merely as contemplation would never lead out of itself. Music affords a universal means of expression, either actually, or vicariously, and its use guarantees to religion one of her greatest ministries, leading out of self to the great world where love and service unite for the building of the Kingdom of God.

This is not just another hymnal, — it is a hymnal which has been prepared with painstaking labor, to meet the need of youth for expression through music, in an age when method must keep pace with content; and when training in the art of worship has become a recognized part of the program for the religious education of youth.

This hymnal emerges from a background of practical idealism. The recognition of the great motivating ideal of Christianity is to be noted in classification and arrangement, as well as in the content of the hymns themselves. Special effort has been made to select those hymns and hymn tunes which will meet the needs of the younger adolescent group, and to relate worship to everyday life.

We, the Music Makers, present this hymnal to the youth of America, with the hope that through its use they may give expression to an ever higher and more vital feeling of desire to find God, and to make his purposes known in a world of persons and things.

HYMN
A mighty fortress is our God 210
Abide with me, fast falls the eventide . . 20
All beautiful the march of days 326
All creatures of our God and King 45
All glory, laud and honor 116
All hail the power of Jesus' name 135
All my heart this night rejoices 85
All the past we leave behind 211
All things are thine 310
All things come of thee, O Lord 341
Ancient of days 34
And did those feet in ancient time 269
Angel voices ever singing 228
Angels, from the realms of glory 88
Another year of setting suns 328
Are ye able, said the Master 205
Art thou weary, art thou languid 151
As comes the breath of spring 65
As with gladness men of old 95
At length there dawns the glorious day . 286
Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve . . . 195

Backward we look, O God of all our ways. 233
Be of good cheer 193
Be strong! we are not here to play 182
Be thou my vision, O Lord of my heart . 236
Believe not those who say 183
Beneath the cross of Jesus 120
Bless thou the gifts 340
Blest be the tie that binds 312
Blest land of Judea 105
Blow, golden trumpets 134
Book of books, our people's strength . . . 69
Break thou the bread of life 71
Breathe on me, breath of God 61
Brightly beams our Father's mercy . . . 253
Brightly gleams our banner 208
Bring, O morn, thy music 5

HYMN
Christ of the upward way 235
Christ, the Lord, is risen today 129
Christian, dost thou see them 179
Christians, lo, the star appeareth 90
City of God, how broad and far 267
Come, let us join with faithful souls . . . 241
Come, O Lord, like morning sunlight . . . 14
Come, thou almighty King 38
Come, ye thankful people, come 322
Comrades, known in marches many . . . 238
Crown him with many crowns 136
Day is done, gone the sun 344
Day is dying in the west 17
Dear God, our Father, at thy knee confessing 153
Dear Lord and Father of mankind 152
Dear Lord, who sought at dawn of day . . 112
Down the dark future 292
Draw nigh to thy Jerusalem 118
Draw thou my soul, O Christ 149
Easter flowers are blooming bright 126
Fairest Lord Jesus 137
Faith of our fathers, ... 256
Far round the world thy children 8
Father eternal, ruler of creation 287
Father in heaven, hear us today 161
Father in heaven, who lovest all 175
Father of lights 1
Father, we praise thee, now the night . . 26
Father, who on man doth shower 171
Father, whose will is life and good 169
Fight the good fight with all thy might . 207
Fling out the banner 304
For all the saints 330
For mercy, courage, kindness, mirth . . . 165
For the beauty of the earth 46
Forget them not, O Christ, who stand . . 260
Forward through the ages 263

Index of First Lines

HYMN
From homes of quiet peace 315
From the eastern mountains 94

Galilee, bright Galilee 106
Gather us in, thou love that fillest all 300
Gird us, O God, with humble might 246
Glad that I live, am I 172
Glory be to the Father 335
Glory to the King of Angels 337
God, bless our native land 283
God of our fathers, known of old 282
God of our fathers, whose almighty hand 273
God of our youth, to whom we yield 162
God of the earth, the sky, the sea 49
God of the glorious sunshine 42
God of the nations, near and far 296
God of the nations, who from dawn 274
God of the shining hosts 289
God of the strong, God of the weak 212
God send us men 255
God that madest earth and heaven 18
God the Omnipotent 284
God who created me 170
God who made the earth 58
God who touchest earth with beauty 223
God's trumpet wakes the slumbering world 203
Great Master, touch us with thy skilful hand 222

Hail, the glorious golden city 264
Hail the hero workers 190
Hail to the brightness 303
Hail to the Lord's anointed 301
Hark, hark, my soul 329
Hark! the herald angels sing 77
Hark! the vesper hymn is stealing 16
He who would valiant be 204
Hear our prayer, O Lord 342
Heaven is here, where hymns of gladness 240
Heralds of Christ 258
Holy Father, thou hast given 73
Holy, holy, holy, Lord God almighty 4
Holy, holy, holy, Lord of Hosts 336
Holy, holy, holy, Lord, thy disciples 107
Holy Spirit, truth divine 60
Hosanna, loud Hosanna 117
How firm a foundation 74
How strong and sweet my Father's care 53

HYMN
I bind my heart this tide 121
I cannot put the presence by 139
I cannot think or reason 122
I heard the voice of Jesus say 147
I know not how that Bethlehem's Babe 143
I know not what the future hath 332
I love thy kingdom, Lord 311
I need thee every hour 150
I sought his love in sun and stars 142
I thank thee, Lord, for life 166
I vow to thee, my country 331
I would be true 177
If I can stop one heart from breaking 242
Immortal love, forever full 140
In Christ there is no East or West 299
In heavenly love abiding 48
In life's earnest morning 213
In the cross of Christ I glory 124
In the hour of trial 178
In the lonely midnight 89
Into the woods my Master went 119
It came upon the midnight clear 78

Jesus calls us o'er the tumult 144
Jesus, lover of my soul 157
Jesus, Saviour, pilot me 160
Jesus shall reign where'er the sun 305
Jesus, the very thought of thee 158
Jesus, thou divine Companion 191
Joy to the world, the Lord is come 76
Joyful, joyful, we adore thee 43
Judge eternal, throned in splendor 277
Just as I am, thine own to be 145

Lamp of our feet, whereby we trace 72
Lead, kindly light 333
Lead on, O King eternal 199
Let the whole creation cry 44
Let the words of my mouth 338
Let there be light, Lord God of hosts 291
Let us with a gladsome mind 32
Life has loveliness to sell 227
Life of ages, richly poured 214
Lift up our hearts, O King of Kings 295
Lift up your hearts 3
Light of the world, we hail thee 9
Little things that run and quail 243
Lord, as we thy name profess 176

Index of First Lines

HYMN
Lord, for tomorrow and its needs 317
Lord God of hosts, whose purpose 247
Lord, guard and guide the men who fly. . 290
Lord Jesus, Son of Mary 86
Lord of all being, throned afar 33
Lord of health, thou life within us. . . . 167
Lord, speak to me, that I may speak. . . 251
Lord, we come with hearts aflame 250
Love divine, all love excelling. 67
Love thyself last. 239

March on, O soul, with strength. 184
Marching with the heroes. 259
Master, no offering 252
'Mid all the traffic of the ways 159
Mine eyes have seen the glory. 280
My country is the world 294
My country, 'tis of thee 279
My faith it is an oaken staff 185
My faith looks up to thee 155
My God, I thank thee who hast made . . 51
My Master was so very poor 110

Nearer, my God, to thee 156
No longer, Lord, thy sons shall sow . . . 132
Not in vain the distance beacons 297
Now in the days of youth 146
Now thank we all our God 325
Now the day is over 23
Now with creation's morning song. . . . 10

O beautiful for spacious skies 271
O beautiful, my country 275
O blessed day of Motherhood 318
O brother man, fold to thy heart thy brother. 244
O Christ, the Way, the Truth, the Life. . 216
O Christ, who holds the open Gate . . . 234
O come, all ye faithful 83
O come, let us worship. 343
O come, O come, Emmanuel 75
O day of rest and gladness 15
O Father, thou who givest all. 316
O God, beneath thy guiding hand 270
O God of truth, whose living word. . . . 181
O God, I cried, no dark disguise 40
O God, who workest hitherto 189
O gracious Father of mankind. 66

HYMN
O happy home, where thou art loved. . . 313
O Jesus, I have promised. 196
O Jesus, once a Nazareth boy. 174
O Jesus, thou art standing 148
O Jesus, youth of Nazareth. 103
O joyous Easter morning. 125
O life that maketh all things new 219
O little town of Bethlehem 82
O Lord, all glorious, life of life 31
O Lord of heaven and earth and sea . . . 56
O Lord of life, thy quickening voice . . . 13
O Lord, our God, thy mighty Hand . . . 272
O Lord, thy benediction give 218
O love that wilt not let me go. 154
O Maker of the sea and sky. 37
O Master, let me walk with thee 197
O Master Workman of the race 98
O native land, how fair you seem 281
O Son of man, our hero strong and tender 109
O Son of man, thou madest known . . . 188
O Splendor of God's glory bright 11
O star of truth down-shining 200
O thou great Friend 141
O thou whose glory shone like fire 309
O thou whose gracious presence 314
O word of God incarnate 68
O worship the King 36
O ye who taste that love is sweet 248
O young Mariner 231
O Zion, haste, thy mission 306
On wings of living light 131
Once more the liberal year laughs out . . 324
Once to every man and nation 220
Onward, Christian soldiers 209
Our God, our help, in ages past 28

Pass on the torch, pass on the flame . . . 229
Peacefully round us the shadows 21
Praise God from whom all blessings flow 334
Praise the Lord, ye heavens, adore him . 30
Praise to the Lord, the Almighty 35
Praise we the Lord who made all beauty . 224

Rejoice, ye pure in heart 27
Ride on, ride on, in majesty 115
Ring out, wild bells 327
Rise up, O men of God. 254

HYMN

Saviour, again to thy dear name 24
Seek not afar for beauty, lo, it glows 225
Send down thy truth, O God 268
Shepherd of tender youth 138
Silent night, holy night 81
Slowly, by thy hand unfurled 217
Spirit of God, descend upon my heart 62
Spirit of God, for every good 64
Spirit of life in this new dawn 63
Stand fast for Christ, thy Saviour 180
Stand up, stand up for Jesus 201
Still, still with thee 6
Strong of body, high of spirit 163
Strong Son of God, immortal love 215
Sun of my soul, thou Saviour dear 22

Take my life and let it be 198
Temper my spirit, O Lord 173
The body, Lord, is ours to keep 164
The church's one foundation 308
The day is past, the shadows round 19
The day of resurrection 127
The earth is hushed in silence 7
The fathers built this city 266
The first Noel the angel did say 79
The gray hills taught me patience 186
The heavens declare thy glory 41
The hidden years at Nazareth 97
The King of love my Shepherd is 50
The kings of the east are riding 92
The land we love is calling 276
The light along the ages 128
The lone, wild fowl, in lofty flight 59
The Lord bless you and keep you 25
The Lord is my Shepherd 57
The Maker of the sun and moon 87
The ships glide in at the harbor's mouth 226
The Son of God goes forth to war 262
The spacious firmament on high 47
The spring again is here 319
The strife is o'er, Alleluia 133
The summer days are come again 321
The touch of human hands 237
The winter night was dark and still 80
There's a beautiful star 93
There's a light upon the mountains 285
There's a song in the air 84

HYMN

There's a wideness in God's mercy 55
There's not a bird with lonely nest 52
These things shall be — a loftier race 293
Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old 111
This is my Father's world 39
Thou art my Shepherd 54
Thou didst leave thy throne 101
Thou Lord of light, across the years 257
Thou who taught the thronging people 113
Through the dark the dreamers came 91
Thy hand, O God, has guided 307
Thy palm trees fed with dew and sun 114
Thy Word is like a garden, Lord 70
To every man there openeth 232
To the knights in the days of old 230

Watchman, tell us of the night 298
We bear the strain of earthly care 194
We bless thee, Lord, for all this common life 221
We give thee but thine own 339
We know the paths wherein our feet 187
We plough the fields and scatter 323
We praise thee, God, for harvests earned 206
We praise thee, O God, our Redeemer 29
We thank thee, Lord, thy paths 249
We three kings of Orient are 96
We would see Jesus, lo, his star 100
Welcome, happy morning 130
Welcome, morning, bright and blue 168
We've a story to tell to the nations 302
When I survey the wondrous cross 123
When morning gilds the skies 2
When the golden evening gathered 108
When the Lord of love was here 104
When through the whirl of wheels 192
When thy heart with joy o'erflowing 245
When wilt thou save the people 288
Where cross the crowded ways of life 265
Who goes there, in the night 261
Who is on the Lord's side 202
Wild roars the blast 278
With happy voices singing 320
Worship the Lord in the beauty 12

Ye fair green hills of Nazareth 102
Young and radiant he is standing 99

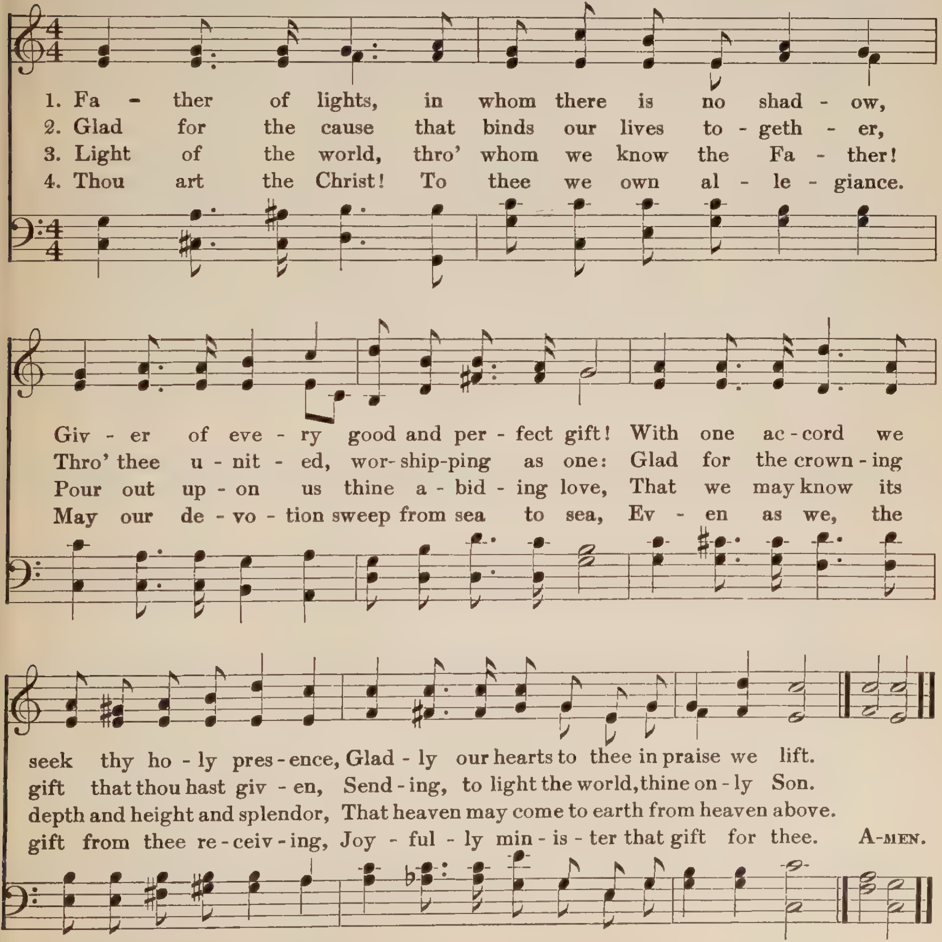
Father of Lights

(ANCIENT OF DAYS. 11, 10, 11, 10)

Elizabeth Wilson and Helen Thoburn, 1913 J. Albert Jeffery, 1886



1. Fa - ther of lights, in whom there is no shad - ow,
2. Glad for the cause that binds our lives to - geth - er,
3. Light of the world, thro' whom we know the Fa - ther!
4. Thou art the Christ! To thee we own al - le - giance.
Giv - er of eve - ry good and per - fect gift! With one ac - cord we Thro' thee u - nit - ed, wor - ship - ping as one: Glad for the crown - ing
Pour out up - on us thine a - bid - ing love, That we may know its May our de - vo - tion sweep from sea to sea, Ev - en as we, the seek thy ho - ly pres - ence, Glad - ly our hearts to thee in praise we lift.
gift that thou hast giv - en, Send - ing, to light the world, thine on - ly Son.
depth and height and splendor, That heaven may come to earth from heaven above.

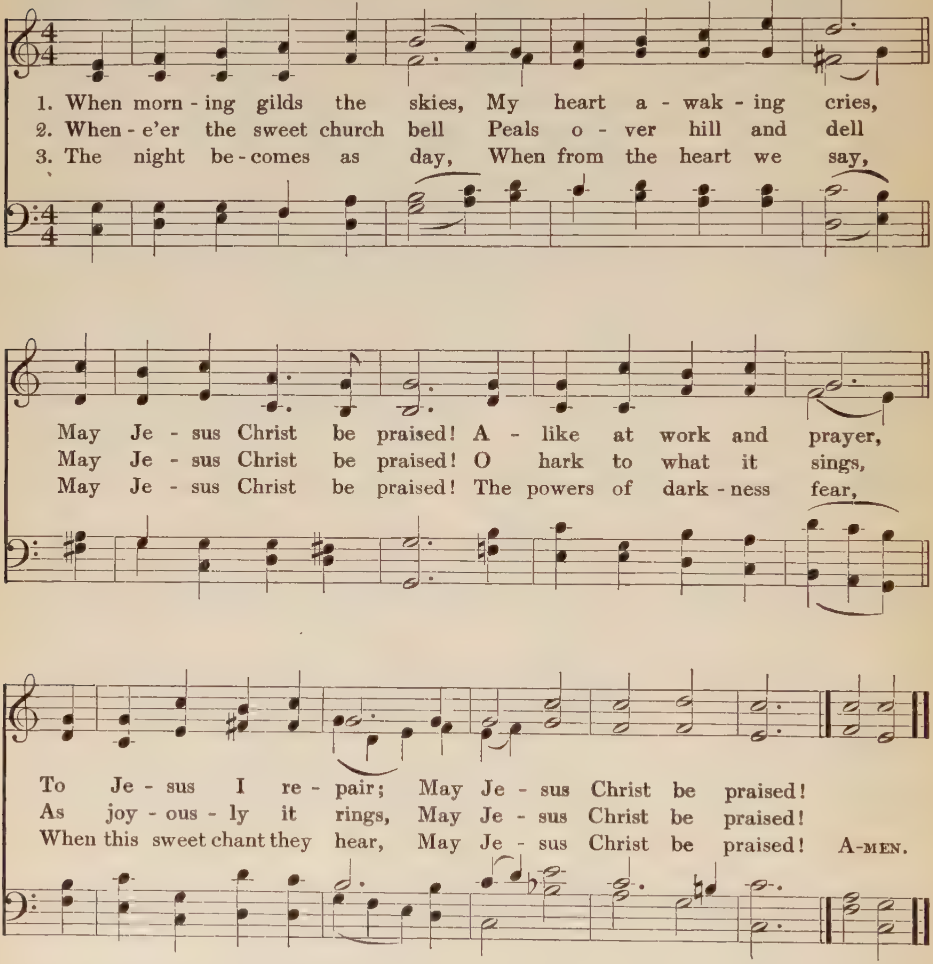
2 When Morning Gilds the Skies

(LAUDES DOMINI. 6, 6, 6, 6, 6, 6)

Anonymous (German) 1800
Translated by Edward Caswall, 1853, 1858

Joseph Barnby, 1868



1. When morn - ing gilds the skies, My heart a - wak - ing cries,
2. When - e'er the sweet church bell Peals o - ver hill and dell
3. The night be - comes as day, When from the heart we say,
May Je - sus Christ be praised! A - like at work and prayer,
May Je - sus Christ be praised! O hark to what it sings,
May Je - sus Christ be praised! The powers of dark - ness fear,
To Je - sus I re - pair; May Je - sus Christ be praised!
As joy - ous - ly it rings, May Je - sus Christ be praised!
When this sweet chant they hear, May Je - sus Christ be praised! A-men.

4 Ye nations of mankind,
In this your concord find,
May Jesus Christ be praised!
Let all the earth around
Ring joyous with the sound,
May Jesus Christ be praised!

5 Be this, while life is mine,
My canticle divine,
May Jesus Christ be praised!
Be this the eternal song,
Through all the ages long,
May Jesus Christ be praised!

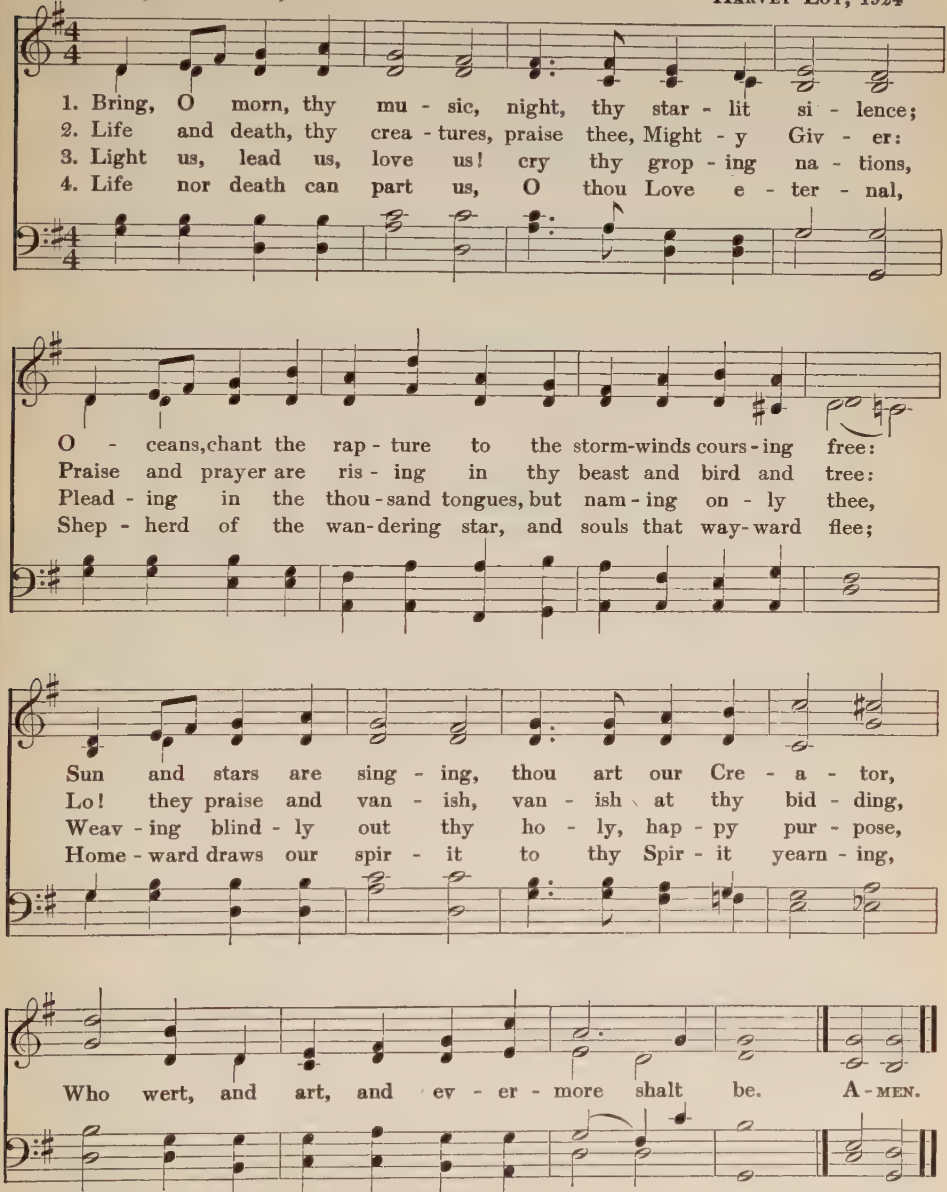
Bring, O Morn, Thy Music

(GANNETT. 12, 13, 12, 10)

William C. Gannett, 1893

Harvey Loy, 1924



1. Bring, O morn, thy mu-sic, night, thy star-lit si-lence;
2. Life and death, thy crea-tures, praise thee, Might-y Giv-er:
3. Light us, lead us, love us! cry thy grop-ing na-tions,
4. Life nor death can part us, O thou Love e-ter-nal,
O-ceans, chant the rap-ture to the storm-winds cours-ing free:
Praise and prayer are ris-ing in thy beast and bird and tree:
Plead-ing in the thou-sand tongues, but nam-ing on-ly thee,
Shep-herd of the wan-dering star, and souls that way-ward flee;
Sun and stars are sing-ing, thou art our Cre-a-tor,
Lo! they praise and van-ish, van-ish at thy bid-ding,
Weav-ing blind-ly out thy ho-ly, hap-py pur-pose,
Home-ward draws our spir-it to thy Spir-it yearn-ing,
Who wert, and art, and ev-er-more shalt be.

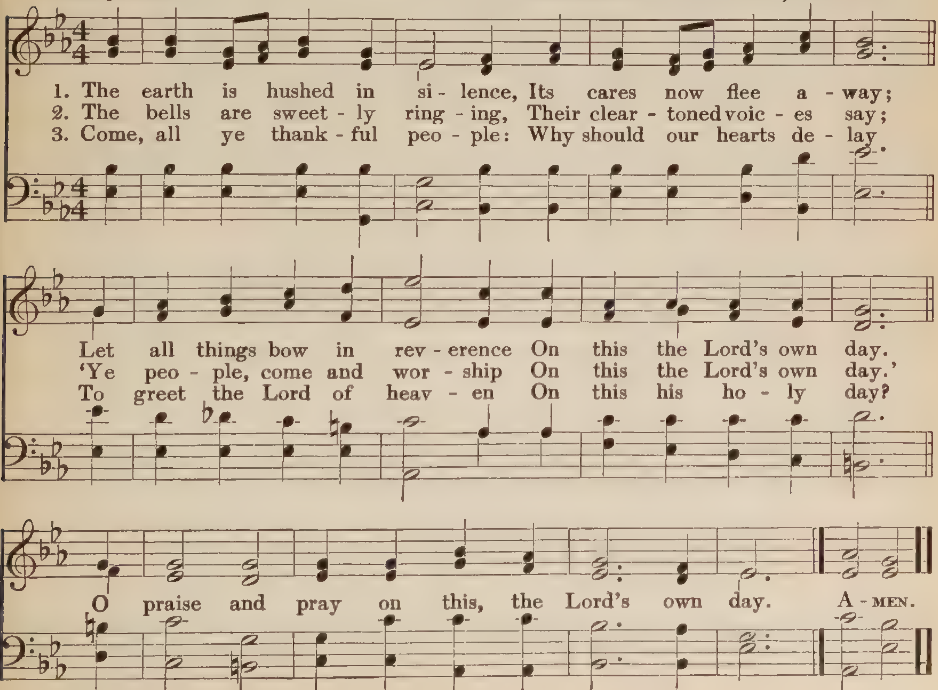
7 The Earth is Hushed in Silence

(LORD'S DAY. 7, 6, 7, 6. With Refrain)

Anonymous, 1897

FELIX MENDELSSOHN-BARTHOLDY, 1809–1847



1. The earth is hushed in si-lence, Its cares now flee a-way;
2. The bells are sweet-ly ring-ing, Their clear-toned voic-es say;
3. Come, all ye thank-ful peo-ple: Why should our hearts de-lay
Let all things bow in rev-erence On this the Lord's own day.
'Ye peo-ple, come and wor-ship On this the Lord's own day.'
To greet the Lord of heav-en On this his ho-ly day?
O praise and pray on this, the Lord's own day.

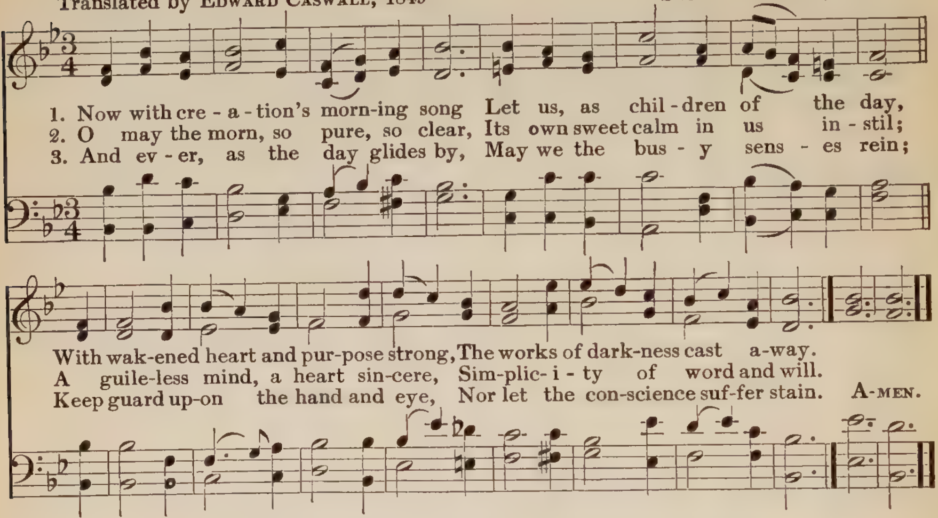
(GERMANY. L. M.)

Aurelius Clemens Prudentius, 348–414
Translated by Edward Caswall, 1849

William Gardiner's
Sacred Melodies, 1815



1. Now with cre-a-tion's morn-ing song Let us, as chil-dren of the day,
With wak-ened heart and pur-pose strong, The works of dark-ness cast a-way.
2. O may the morn, so pure, so clear, Its own sweet calm in us in-stil;
A guile-less mind, a heart sin-cere, Sim-plic-i-ty of word and will.
3. And ev-er, as the day glides by, May we the bus-y sens-es rein;
Keep guard up-on the hand and eye, Nor let the con-science suf-fer stain.

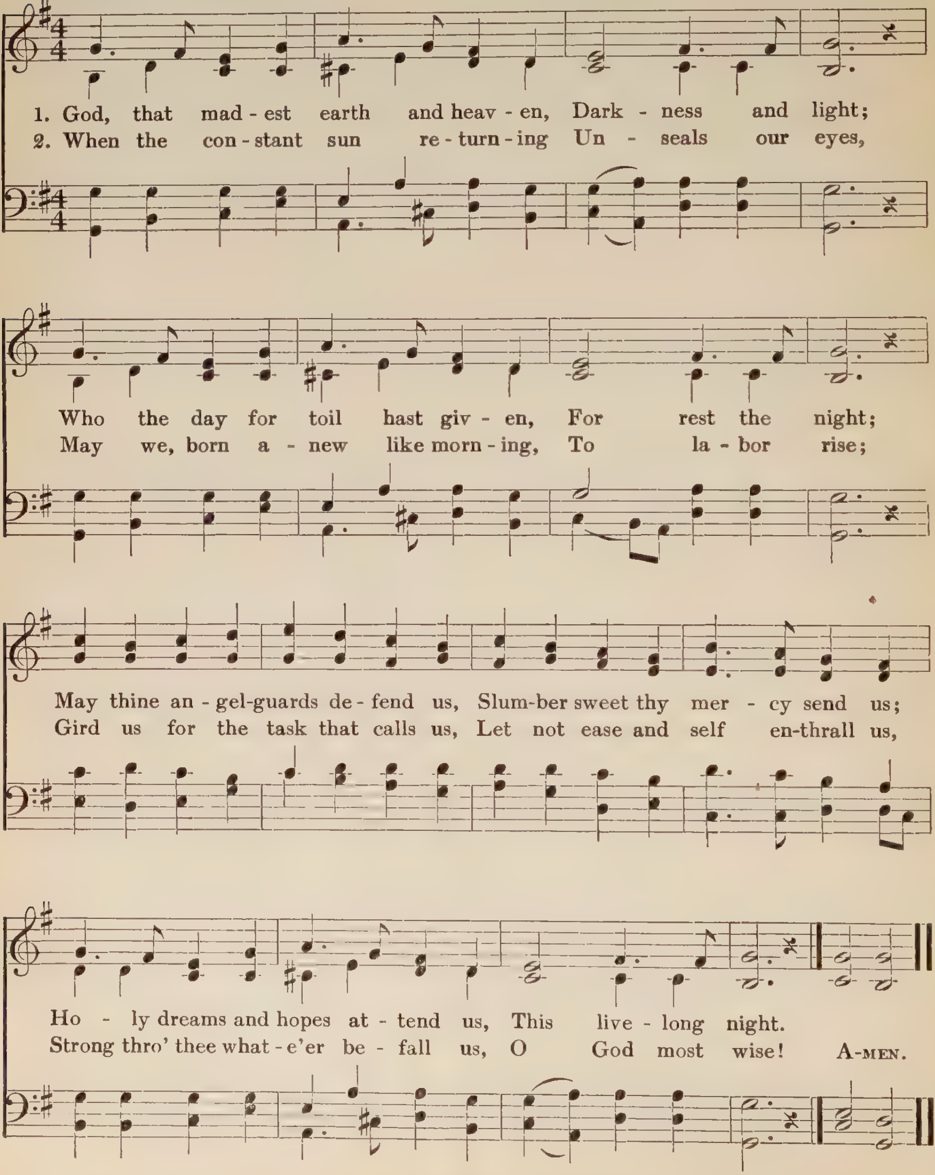
God, that Madest Earth and Heaven

(AR HYD Y NOS. 8, 4, 8, 4, 8, 8, 8, 4)

Reginald Heber, 1827
Frederick L. Hosmer, 1912

Welsh Traditional Melody
Harmonized by L. O. Emerson, 1906



1. God, that mad - est earth and heav - en, Dark - ness and light;
2. When the con - stant sun re - turn - ing Un - seals our eyes,
Who the day for toil hast giv - en, For rest the night;
May we, born a - new like morn - ing, To la - bor rise;

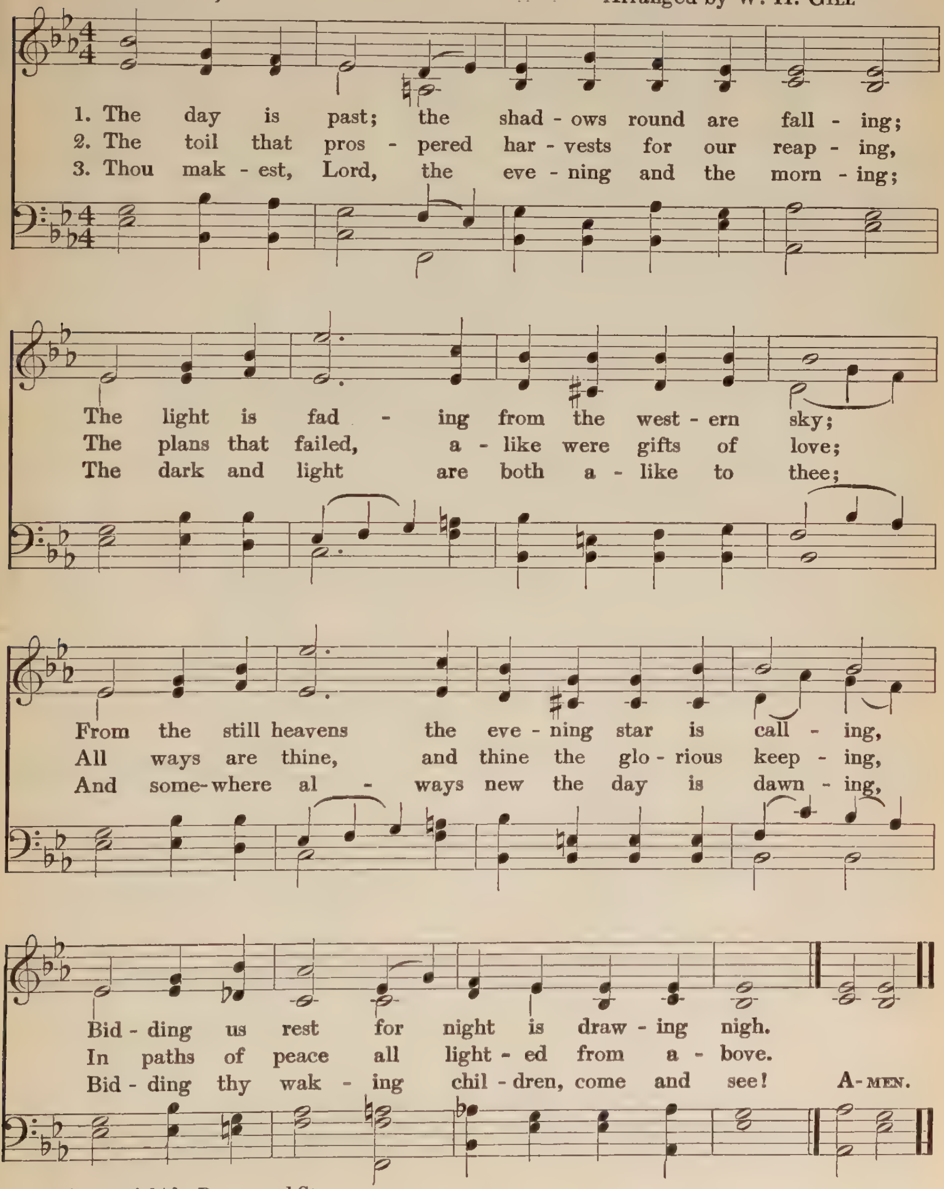
19 The Day is Past; the Shadows Round

(PEEL CASTLE. 10, 10, 10, 10)

Manx Fishermen's Evening Hymn
Arranged by W. H. Gill

Henry Burton, 1924



1. The day is past; the shadows round are falling;
2. The toil that prospered harvests for our reaping,
3. Thou makest, Lord, the evening and the morning;
The light is fading from the western sky;
The plans that failed, alike were gifts of love;
The dark and light are both alike to thee;
From the still heavens the evening star is calling,
All ways are thine, and thine the glorious keeping,
And somewhere always new the day is dawning,
Bidding us rest for night is drawing nigh.
In paths of peace all lighted from above.
Bidding thy waking children, come and see!

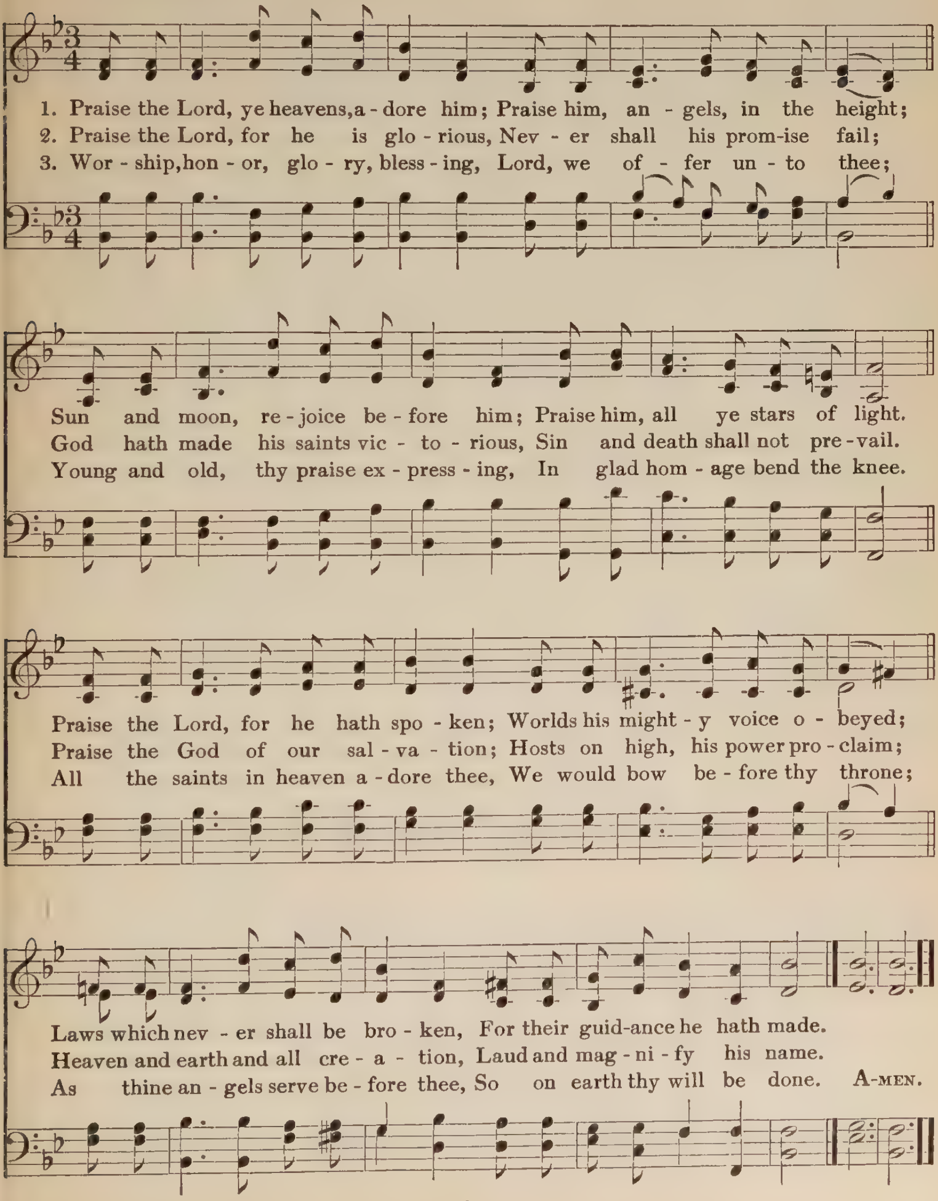
30 Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens, Adore Him

(FABEN. 8, 7, 8, 7, D.)

Stanzas 1, 2, Anonymous, 1801
Stanza 3, Edward Osler, 1836

John H. Willcox, 1849



1. Praise the Lord, ye heavens, a - dore him; Praise him, an - gels, in the height;
2. Praise the Lord, for he is glo - rious, Nev - er shall his prom-ise fail;
3. Wor - ship, hon - or, glo - ry, bless - ing, Lord, we of - fer un - to thee;
Sun and moon, re - joice be - fore him; Praise him, all ye stars of light.
God hath made his saints vic - to - rious, Sin and death shall not pre - vail.
Young and old, thy praise ex - press - ing, In glad hom - age bend the knee.
Praise the Lord, for he hath spo - ken; Worlds his might - y voice o - beyed;
Praise the God of our sal - va - tion; Hosts on high, his power pro - claim;
All the saints in heaven a - dore thee, We would bow be - fore thy throne;
Laws which nev - er shall be bro - ken, For their guid-ance he hath made.
Heaven and earth and all cre - a - tion, Laud and mag - ni - fy his name.
As thine an - gels serve be - fore thee, So on earth thy will be done.

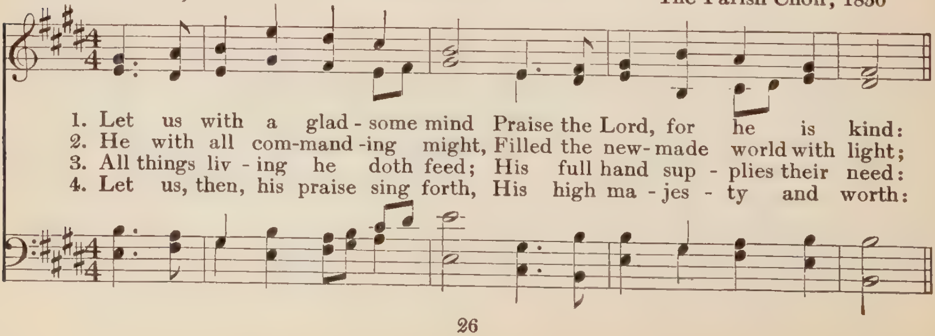
Let Us with a Gladsome Mind

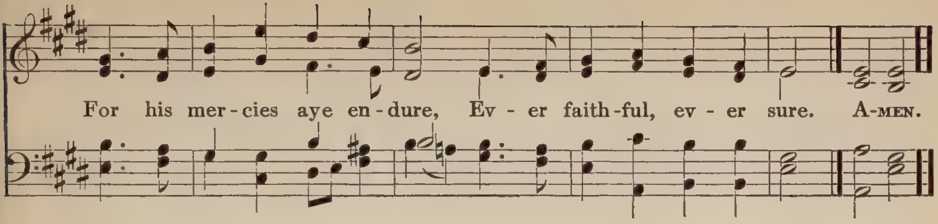
(INNOCENTS. 7, 7, 7, 7)

John Milton, 1624

The Parish Choir, 1850



1. Let us with a glad - some mind Praise the Lord, for he is kind:
2. He with all com-mand - ing might, Filled the new - made world with light;
3. All things liv - ing he doth feed; His full hand sup - plies their need:
4. Let us, then, his praise sing forth, His high ma - jes - ty and worth:



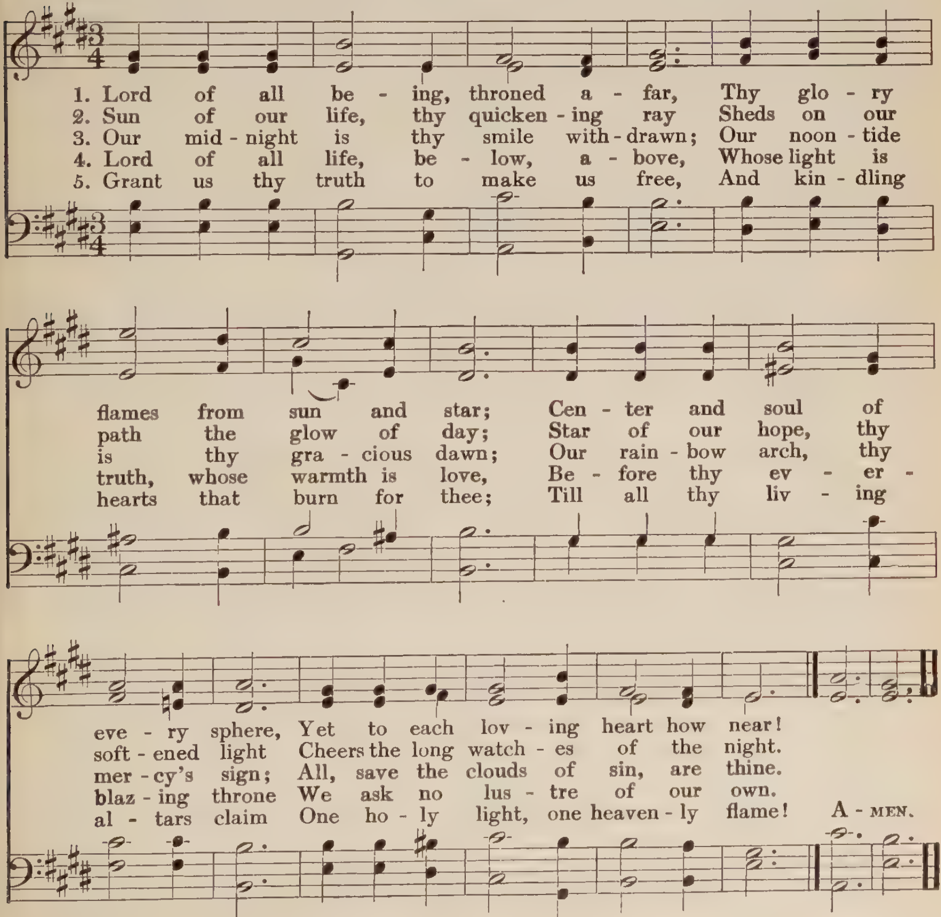
For his mer-cies aye en-dure, Ev-er faith-ful, ev-er sure. A-MEN.

33 Lord of All Being, Throned Afar

(ST. CRISPIN. L. M.)

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, 1848

GEORGE J. ELVEY, 1862



1. Lord of all be-ing, throned a-far, Thy glo-ry flames from sun and star; Cen-ter and soul of eve-ry sphere, Yet to each lov-ing heart how near!
2. Sun of our life, thy quicken-ing ray Sheds on our path the glow of day; Star of our hope, thy soft-ened light Cheers the long watch-es of the night.
3. Our mid-night is thy smile with-drawn; Our noon-tide is thy gra-cious dawn; Our rain-bow arch, thy mer-cy's sign; All, save the clouds of sin, are thine.
4. Lord of all life, be-low, a-bove, Whose light is truth, whose warmth is love, Be-fore thy ev-er-blaz-ing throne We ask no lus-tre of our own.
5. Grant us thy truth to make us free, And kin-dling hearts that burn for thee; Till all thy liv-ing al-tars claim One ho-ly light, one heaven-ly flame!

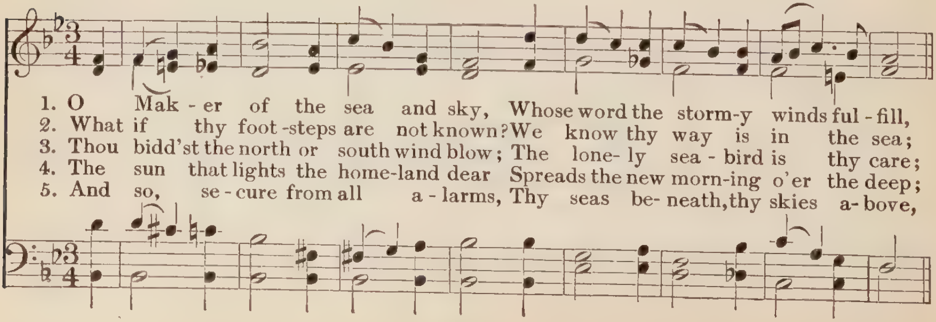
37 O Maker of the Sea and Sky

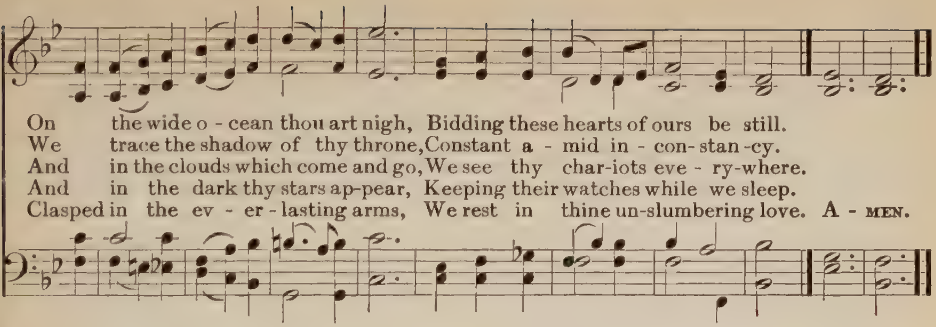
(SANTA TRINITA. L. M.)

Henry Burton, 1905

E. Pieraccini



1. O Maker of the sea and sky, Whose word the stormy winds fulfill,
2. What if thy footsteps are not known? We know thy way is in the sea;
3. Thou bidd'st the north or south wind blow; The lonely sea-bird is thy care;
4. The sun that lights the home-land dear Spreads the new morning o'er the deep;
5. And so, secure from all alarms, Thy seas beneath, thy skies above,



On the wide o - cean thou art nigh, Bidding these hearts of ours be still.
We trace the shadow of thy throne, Constant a - mid in - con - stan - cy.
And in the clouds which come and go, We see thy char-iots eve - ry-where.
And in the dark thy stars ap-pear, Keeping their watches while we sleep.
Clasped in the ev - er - lasting arms, We rest in thine un-slumbering love. A - MEN.

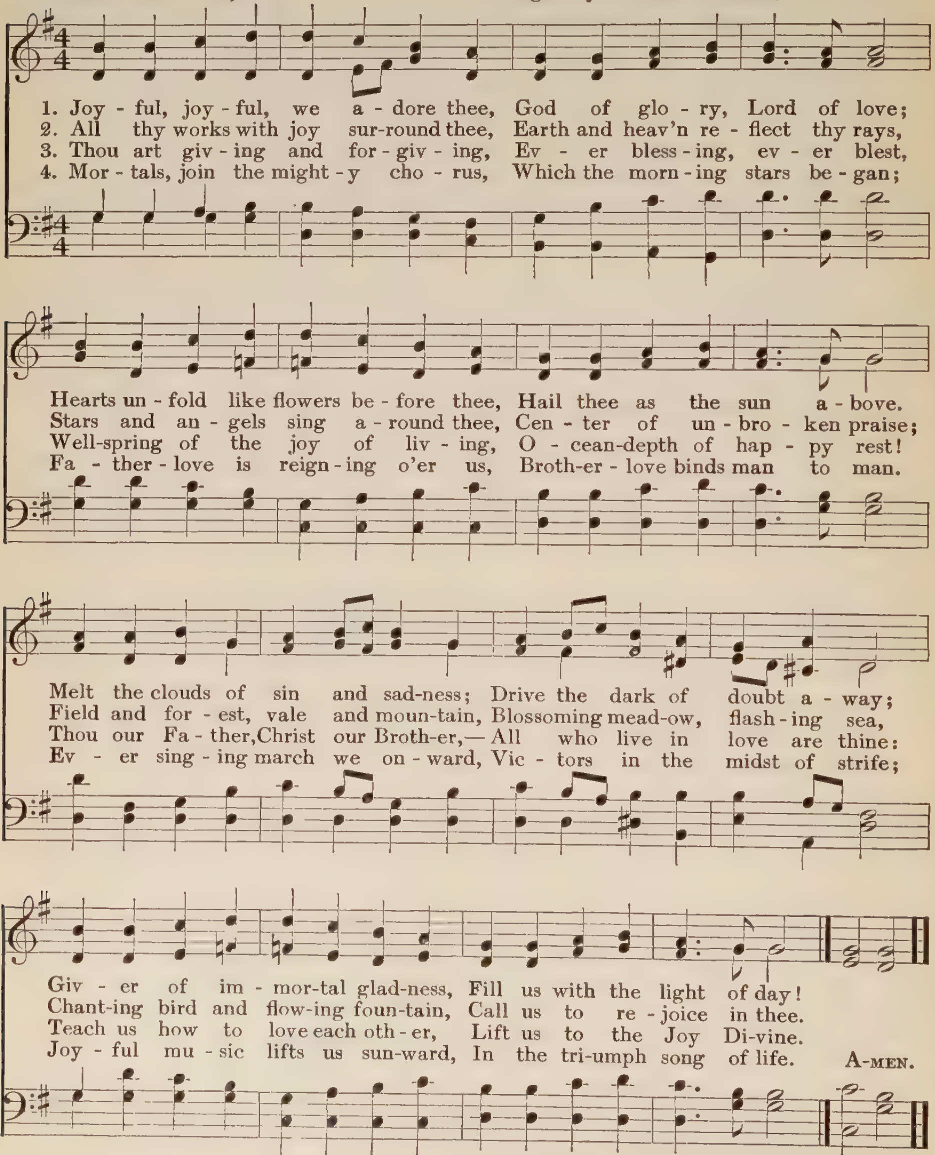
Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee

(HYMN TO JOY. 8, 7, 8, 7, D.)

Henry van Dyke, 1908

Ludwig van Beethoven, 1826
Arranged by Edward Hodges, 1796–1867



1. Joy-ful, joy-ful, we a-dore thee, God of glo-ry, Lord of love;
2. All thy works with joy sur-round thee, Earth and heav'n re-flect thy rays,
3. Thou art giv-ing and for-giv-ing, Ev-er bless-ing, ev-er blest,
4. Mor-tals, join the might-y cho-rus, Which the morn-ing stars be-gan;
Hearts un-fold like flowers be-fore thee, Hail thee as the sun a-bove.
Stars and an-gels sing a-round thee, Cen-ter of un-bro-ken praise;
Well-spring of the joy of liv-ing, O-cean-depth of hap-py rest!
Fa-ther-love is reign-ing o'er us, Broth-er-love binds man to man.
Melt the clouds of sin and sad-ness; Drive the dark of doubt a-way;
Field and for-est, vale and moun-tain, Blossoming mead-ow, flash-ing sea,
Thou our Fa-ther, Christ our Broth-er,— All who live in love are thine:
Ev-er sing-ing march we on-ward, Vic-tors in the midst of strife;
Giv-er of im-mor-tal glad-ness, Fill us with the light of day!
Chant-ing bird and flow-ing foun-tain, Call us to re-joice in thee.
Teach us how to love each oth-er, Lift us to the Joy Di-vine.
Joy-ful mu-sic lifts us sun-ward, In the tri-umph song of life.

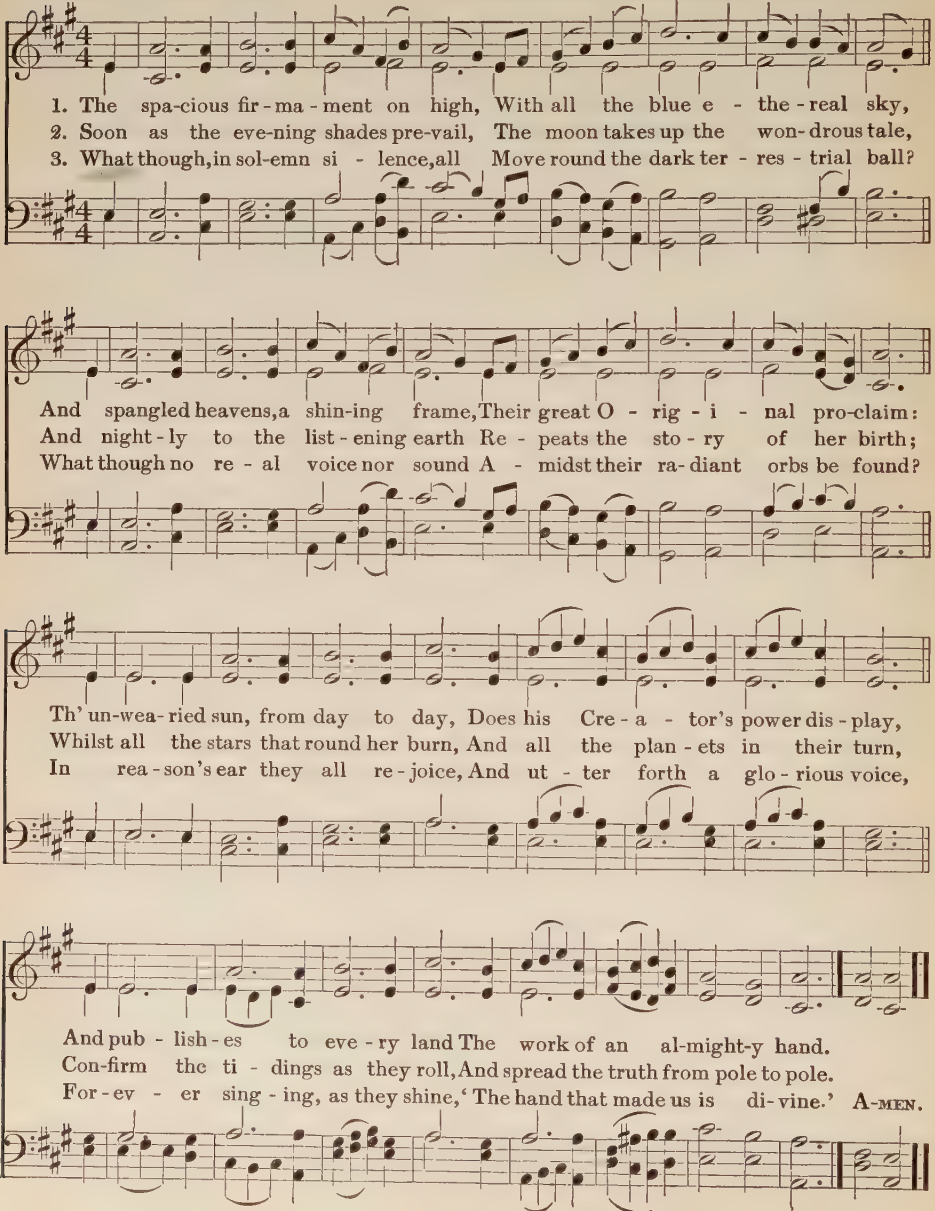
47 The Spacious Firmament on High

(CREATION. L. M. D.)

Joseph Addison, 1712 Arranged from Franz Joseph Haydn, 1798



1. The spa-cious fir-ma-ment on high, With all the blue e-the-real sky,
2. Soon as the eve-ning shades pre-vail, The moon takes up the won-drous tale,
3. What though, in sol-emn si-lence, all Move round the dark ter-res-trial ball?
And spangled heavens, a shin-ing frame, Their great O-rig-i-nal pro-claim:
And night-ly to the list-ening earth Re-peats the sto-ry of her birth;
What though no re-al voice nor sound A-midst their ra-diant orbs be found?
Th' un-wea-ried sun, from day to day, Does his Cre-a-tor's power dis-play,
Whilst all the stars that round her burn, And all the plan-ets in their turn,
In rea-son's ear they all re-joice, And ut-ter forth a glo-rious voice,
And pub-lish-es to eve-ry land The work of an al-might-y hand.
Con-firm the ti-dings as they roll, And spread the truth from pole to pole.
For-ev-er sing-ing, as they shine, 'The hand that made us is di-vine.'

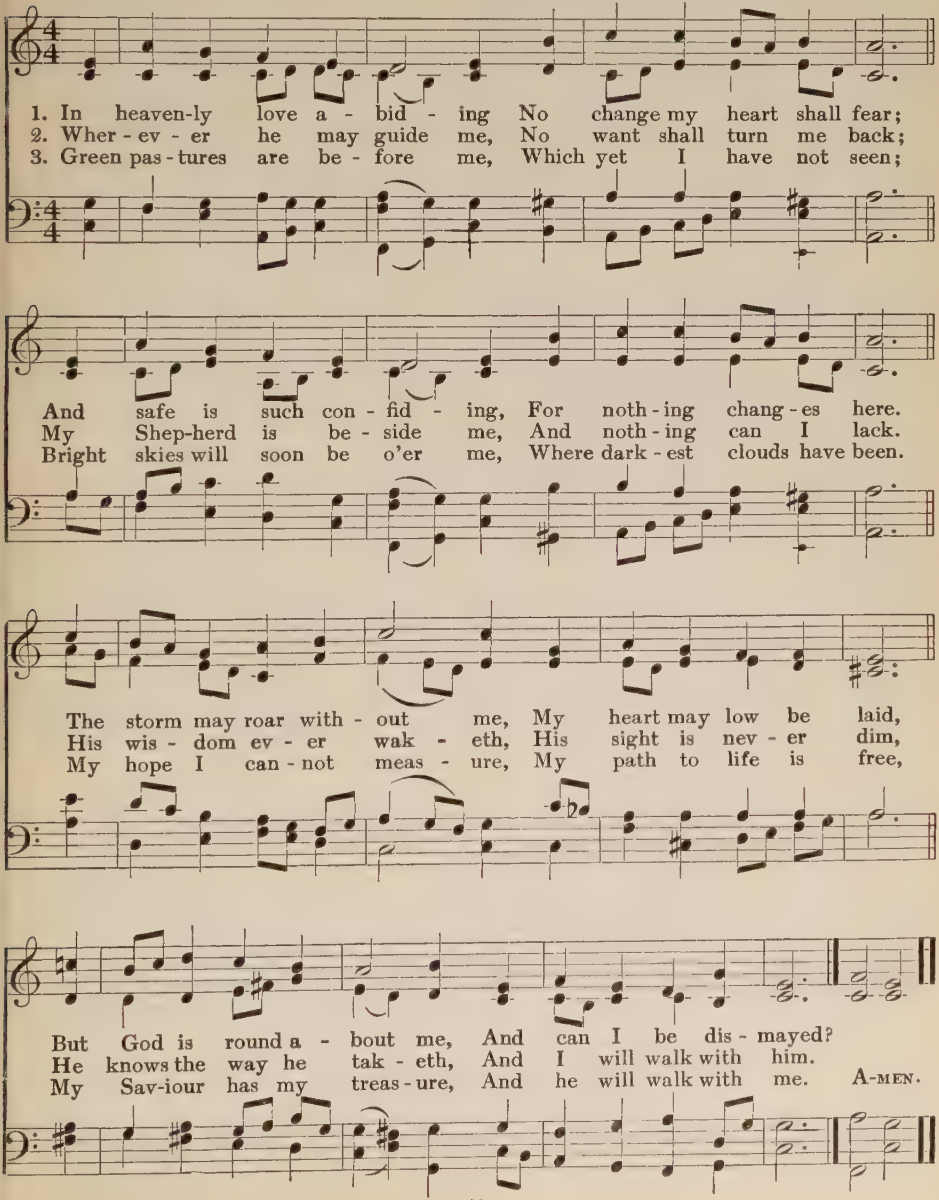
(PASSION CHORALE. 7, 6, 7, 6, D.)

Anna L. Waring, 1850

Melody by Hans L. Hassler, c. 1601
Harmonized by John Sebastian Bach, 1719



1. In heaven-ly love a - bid - ing No change my heart shall fear;
2. Wher - ev - er he may guide me, No want shall turn me back;
3. Green pas - tures are be - fore me, Which yet I have not seen;
And safe is such con - fid - ing, For noth - ing chang - es here.
My Shep-herd is be - side me, And noth - ing can I lack.
Bright skies will soon be o'er me, Where dark - est clouds have been.
The storm may roar with - out me, My heart may low be laid,
His wis - dom ev - er wak - eth, His sight is nev - er dim,
My hope I can - not meas - ure, My path to life is free,
But God is round a - bout me, And can I be dis - mayed?
He knows the way he tak - eth, And I will walk with him.
My Sav-iour has my treas - ure, And he will walk with me.

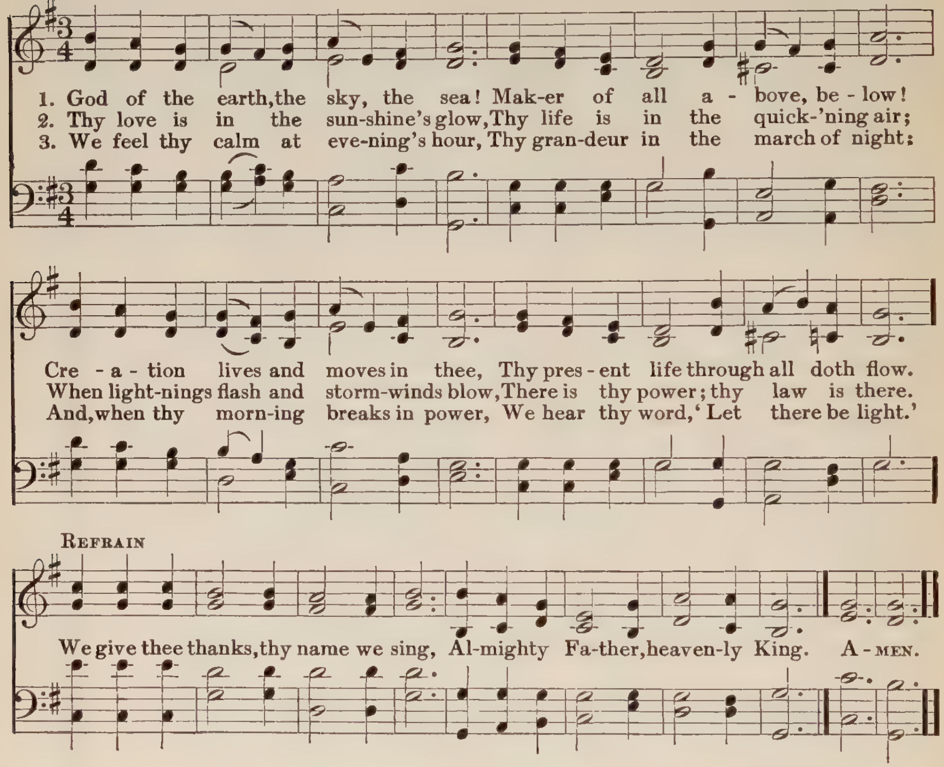
49 God of the Earth, the Sky, the Sea

(ST. CATHERINE. 8, 8, 8, 8, 8, 8)

Henri F. Hemy, 1864
Samuel Longfellow, 1864 Arranged by James G. Walton, 1874

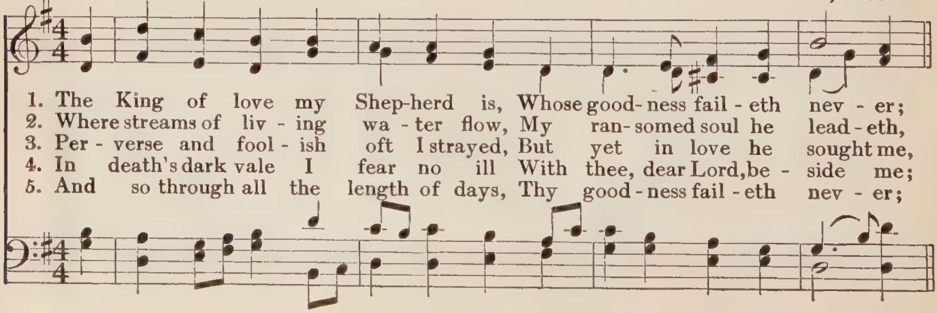


1. God of the earth, the sky, the sea! Mak-er of all a - bove, be - low!
2. Thy love is in the sun-shine's glow, Thy life is in the quick-'ning air;
3. We feel thy calm at eve-ning's hour, Thy gran-deur in the march of night;
Cre - a - tion lives and moves in thee, Thy pres - ent life through all doth flow.
When light-nings flash and storm-winds blow, There is thy power; thy law is there.
And, when thy morn-ing breaks in power, We hear thy word, 'Let there be light.'
Refrain
We give thee thanks, thy name we sing, Al-mighty Fa-ther, heaven-ly King. A - men.

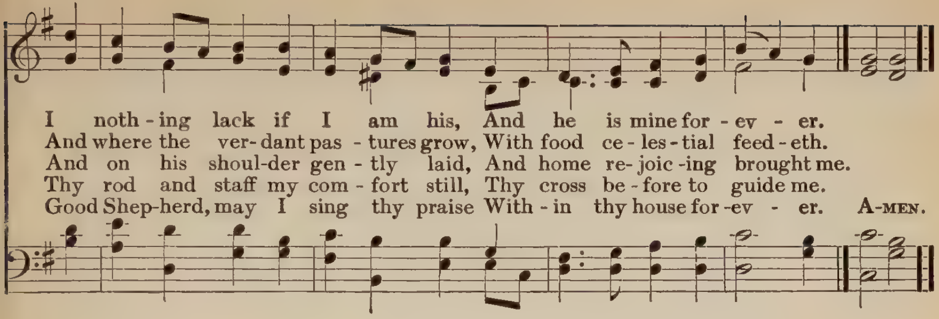
50 The King of Love My Shepherd Is

(DOMINUS REGIT ME. 8, 7, 8, 7)

Henry W. Baker, 1868 John B. Dykes, 1868



1. The King of love my Shep-herd is, Whose good-ness fail - eth nev - er;
2. Where streams of liv - ing wa - ter flow, My ran-somed soul he lead - eth,
3. Per - verse and fool - ish oft I strayed, But yet in love he sought me,
4. In death's dark vale I fear no ill With thee, dear Lord, be - side me;
5. And so through all the length of days, Thy good - ness fail - eth nev - er;



I noth-ing lack if I am his, And he is mine for-ev-er.
And where the ver-dant pas-tures grow, With food ce-les-tial feed-eth.
And on his shoul-der gen-tly laid, And home re-joic-ing brought me.
Thy rod and staff my com-fort still, Thy cross be-fore to guide me.
Good Shep-herd, may I sing thy praise With-in thy house for-ev-er.

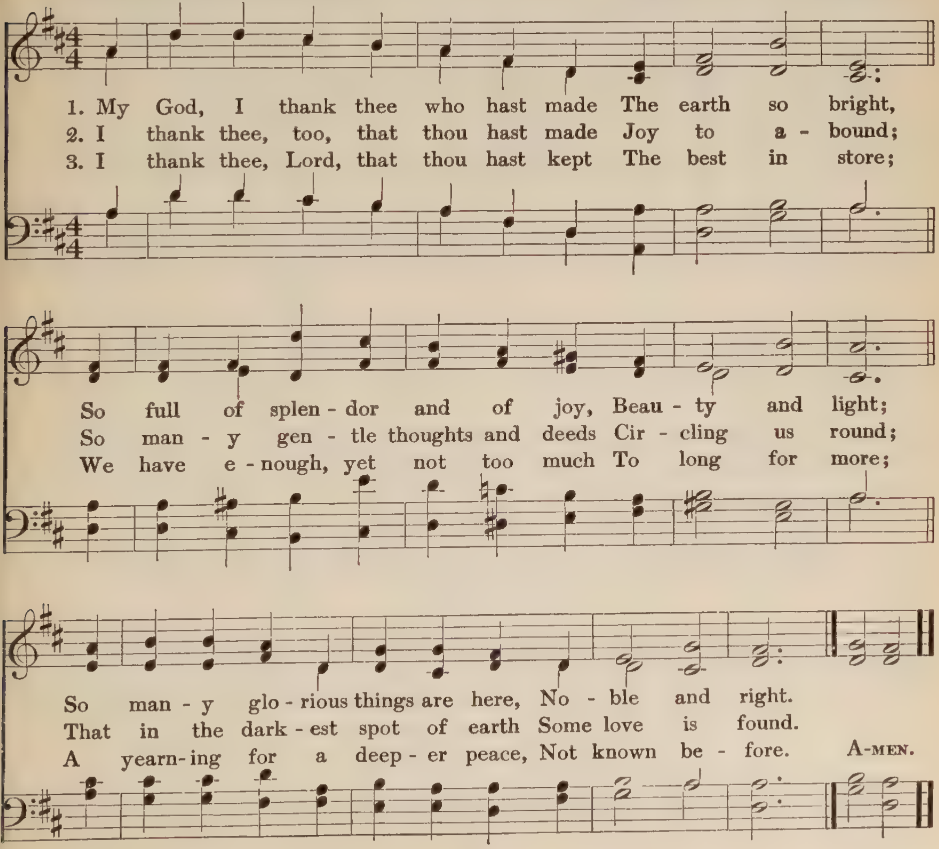
51 My God, I Thank Thee Who Hast Made

(WENTWORTH. 8, 4, 8, 4, 8, 4)

ADELAIDE ANNE PROCTER, 1858

FREDERICK C. MAKER, 1876



1. My God, I thank thee who hast made The earth so bright,
2. I thank thee, too, that thou hast made Joy to a-bound;
3. I thank thee, Lord, that thou hast kept The best in store;
So full of splen-dor and of joy, Beau-ty and light;
So man-y gen-tle thoughts and deeds Cir-cling us round;
We have e-nough, yet not too much To long for more;
So man-y glo-rious things are here, No-ble and right.
That in the dark-est spot of earth Some love is found.
A yearn-ing for a deep-er peace, Not known be-fore.

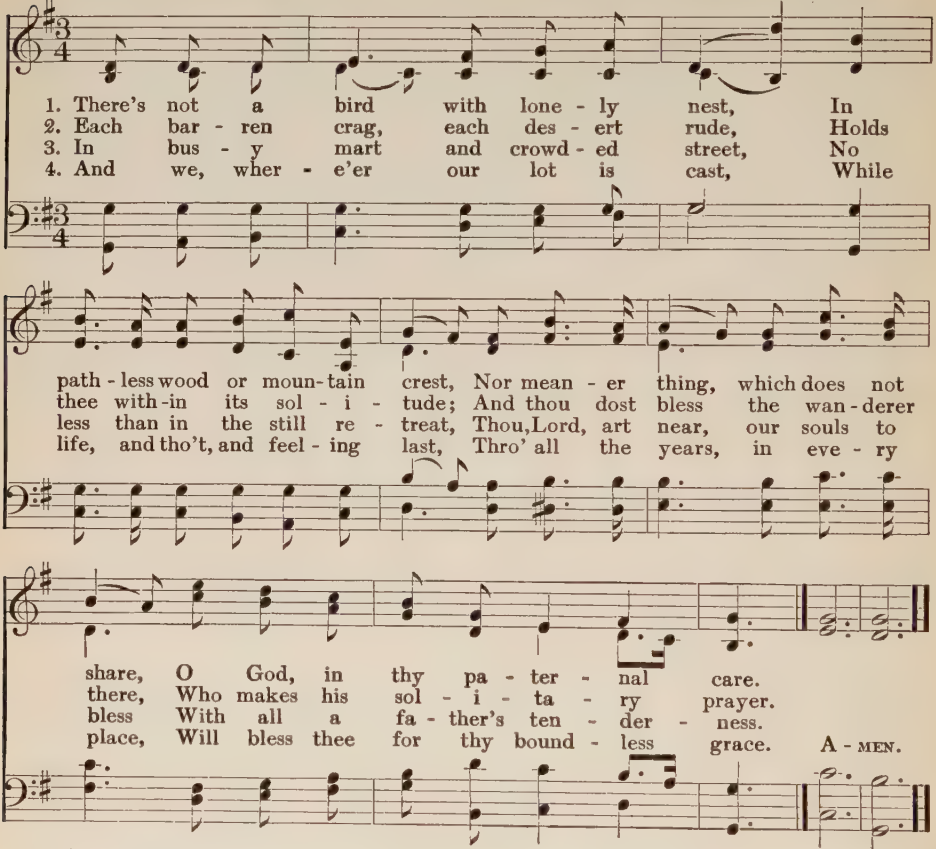
52 There's Not a Bird with Lonely Nest

(THANKFULNESS. L. M.)

Baptist W. Noel, 1832 George A. Macfarren, 1813–1887



1. There's not a bird with lone-ly nest, In path-less wood or moun-tain crest, Nor mean-er thing, which does not share, O God, in thy pa-ter-nal care.
2. Each bar-ren crag, each des-ert rude, Holds thee with-in its sol-i-tude; And thou dost bless the wan-derer there, Who makes his sol-i-ta-ry prayer.
3. In bus-y mart and crowd-ed street, No less than in the still re-treat, Thou, Lord, art near, our souls to bless With all a fa-ther's ten-der-ness.
4. And we, wher-e'er our lot is cast, While life, and tho't, and feel-ing last, Thro' all the years, in eve-ry place, Will bless thee for thy bound-less grace.

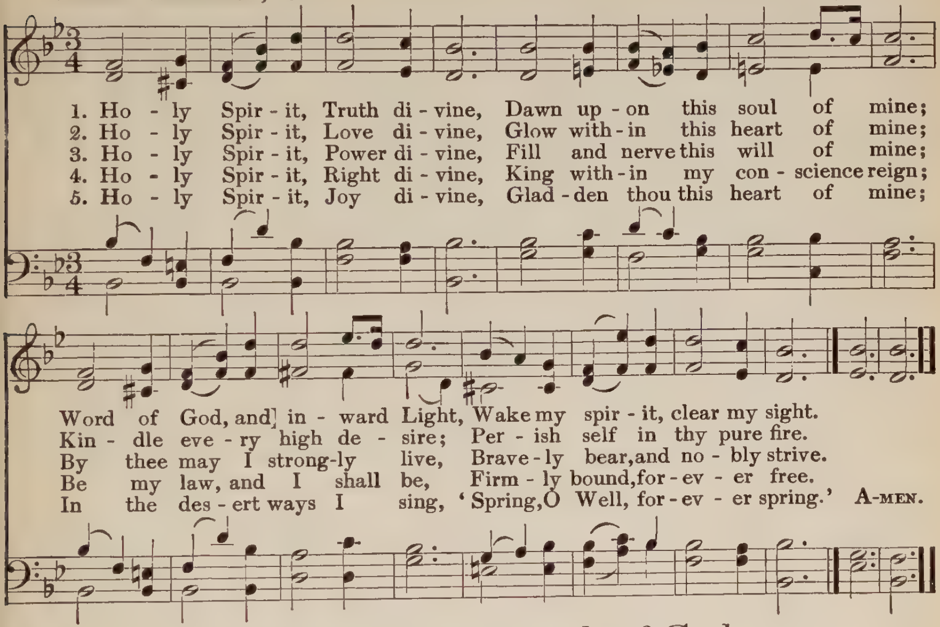
Holy Spirit, Truth Divine

(MERCY. 7,7,7,7)

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1864

LOUIS M. GOTTSCHALK, 1867



1. Holy Spirit, Truth divine, Dawn upon this soul of mine; Word of God, and inward Light, Wake my spirit, clear my sight.
2. Holy Spirit, Love divine, Glow within this heart of mine; Kindle every high desire; Perish self in thy pure fire.
3. Holy Spirit, Power divine, Fill and nerve this will of mine; By thee may I strongly live, Bravely bear, and nobly strive.
4. Holy Spirit, Right divine, King within my conscience reign; Be my law, and I shall be, Firmly bound, for ever free.
5. Holy Spirit, Joy divine, Gladden thou this heart of mine; In the desert ways I sing, 'Spring, O Well, for ever spring.'

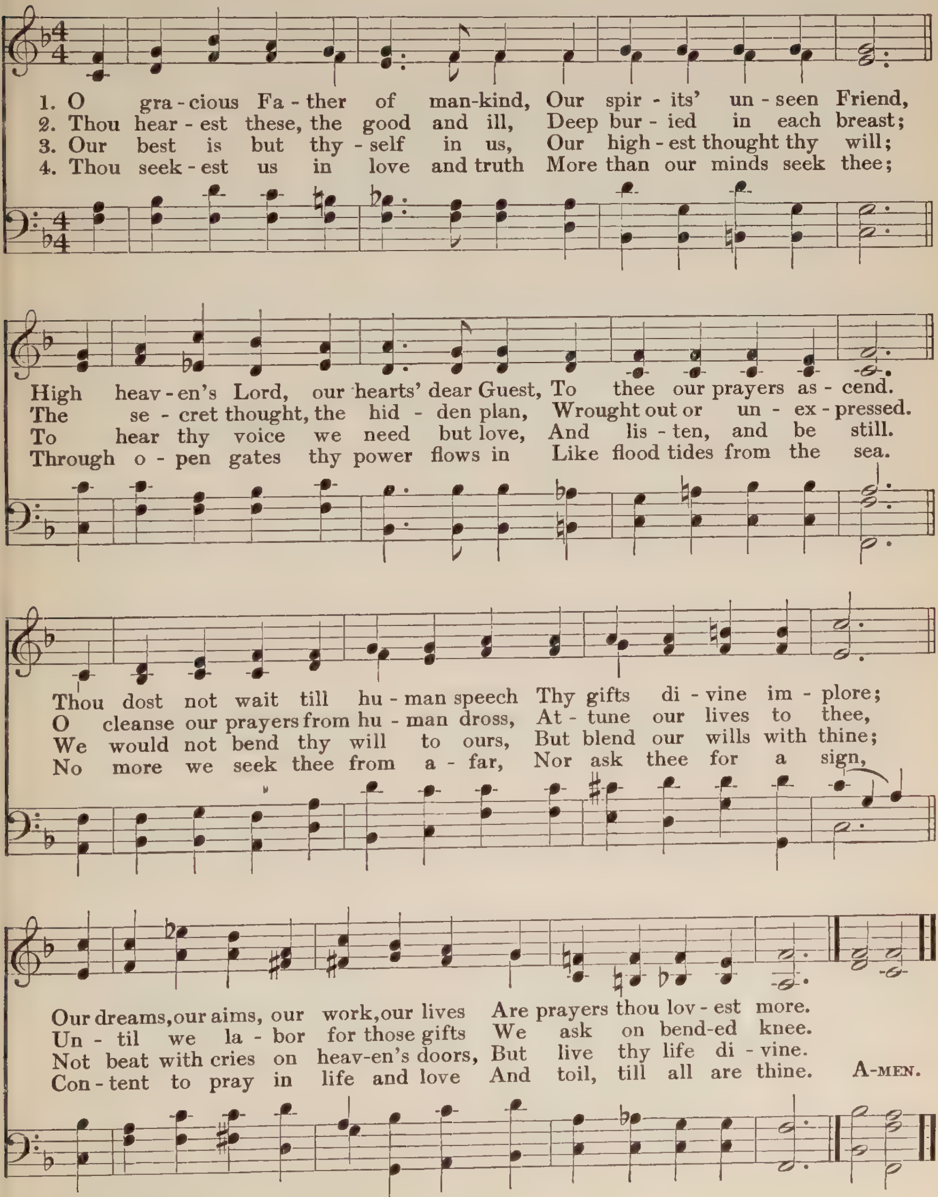
66 O Gracious Father of Mankind

(ST. LEONARD. C.M.D.)

HENRY HALLAM TWEEDY, 1926 — HENRY HILES, 1867



1. O gra-cious Fa-ther of man-kind, Our spir-its' un-seen Friend,
2. Thou hear-est these, the good and ill, Deep bur-ied in each breast;
3. Our best is but thy-self in us, Our high-est thought thy will;
4. Thou seek-est us in love and truth More than our minds seek thee;
High heav-en's Lord, our hearts' dear Guest, To thee our prayers as-cend.
The se-cret thought, the hid-den plan, Wrought out or un-ex-pressed.
To hear thy voice we need but love, And lis-ten, and be still.
Through o-pen gates thy power flows in Like flood tides from the sea.
Thou dost not wait till hu-man speech Thy gifts di-vine im-plore;
O cleanse our prayers from hu-man dross, At-tune our lives to thee,
We would not bend thy will to ours, But blend our wills with thine;
No more we seek thee from a-far, Nor ask thee for a sign,
Our dreams, our aims, our work, our lives Are prayers thou lov-est more.
Un-til we la-bor for those gifts We ask on bend-ed knee.
Not beat with cries on heav-en's doors, But live thy life di-vine.
Con-tent to pray in life and love And toil, till all are thine.

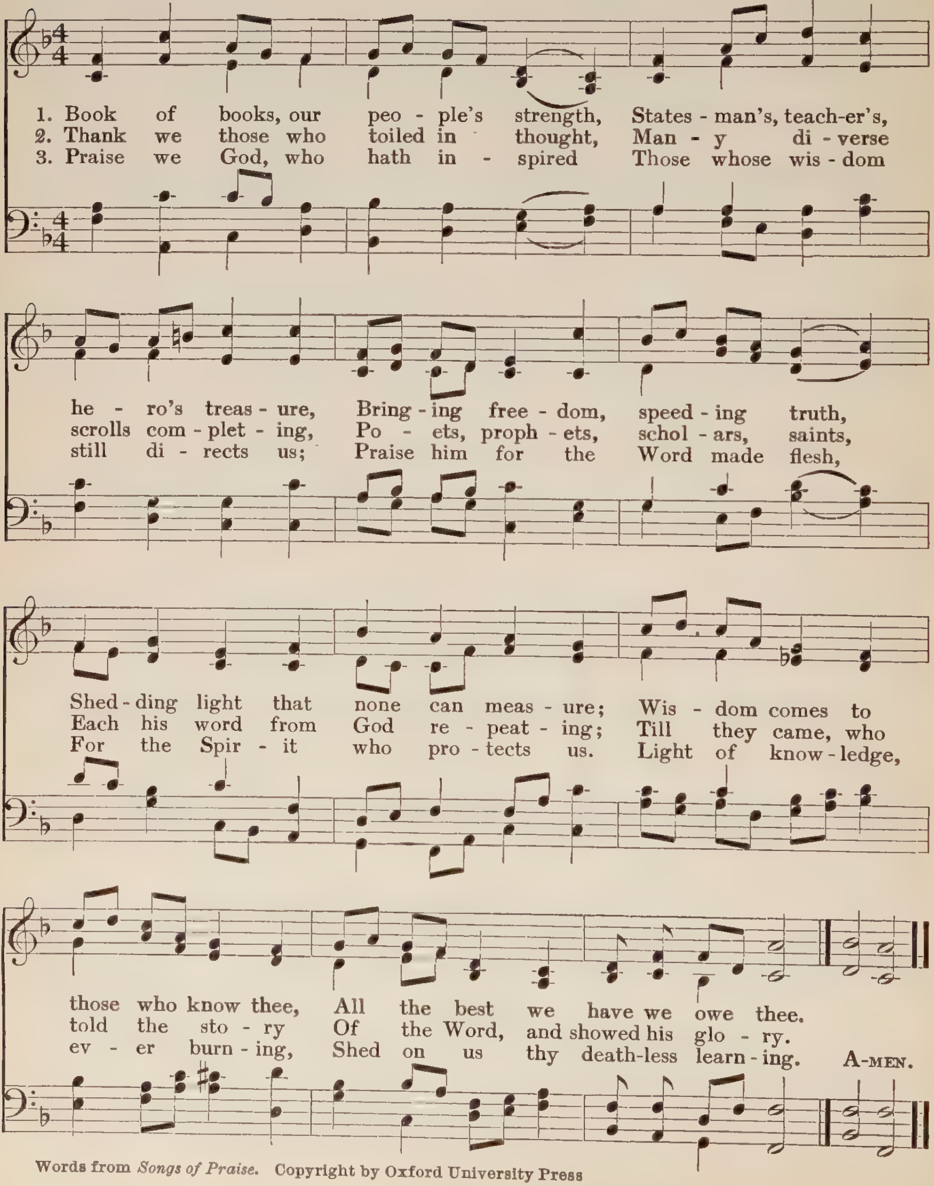
(SWANSEA. 8, 8, 8, 8, 8, 8)

PERCY DEARMER, 1925

Basque Church Melody
Harmonized by WILLIAM LESTER, 1929



1. Book of books, our people's strength, Statesman's, teacher's, hero's treasure,
Bringing freedom, speeding truth, Shedding light that none can measure;
Wisdom comes to those who know thee, All the best we have we owe thee.
2. Thank we those who toiled in thought, Many diverse scrolls completing,
Poets, prophets, scholars, saints, Each his word from God repeating;
Till they came, who told the story Of the Word, and showed his glory.
3. Praise we God, who hath inspired Those whose wisdom still directs us;
Praise him for the Word made flesh, For the Spirit who protects us.
Light of knowledge, ever burning, Shed on us thy deathless learning.

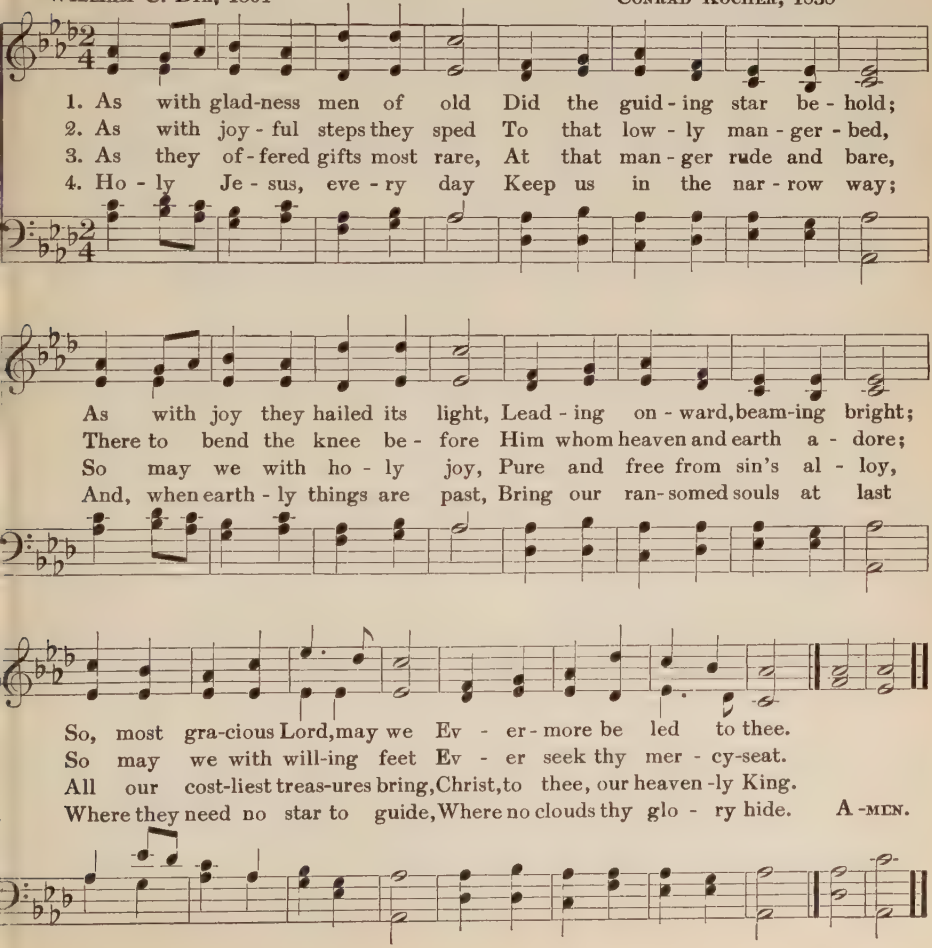
(DIX. 7, 7, 7, 7, 7, 7)

Arranged from 'Treur Heiland'
CONRAD KOCHER, 1838

WILLIAM C. DIX, 1861



1. As with gladness men of old Did the guiding star behold;
As with joy they hailed its light, Leading onward, beaming bright;
So, most gracious Lord, may we Evermore be led to thee.
2. As with joyful steps they sped To that lowly manger-bed,
There to bend the knee before Him whom heaven and earth adore;
So may we with willing feet Ever seek thy mercy-seat.
3. As they offered gifts most rare, At that manger rude and bare,
So may we with holy joy, Pure and free from sin's alloy,
All our costliest treasures bring, Christ, to thee, our heavenly King.
4. Holy Jesus, every day Keep us in the narrow way;
And, when earthly things are past, Bring our ransomed souls at last
Where they need no star to guide, Where no clouds thy glory hide.

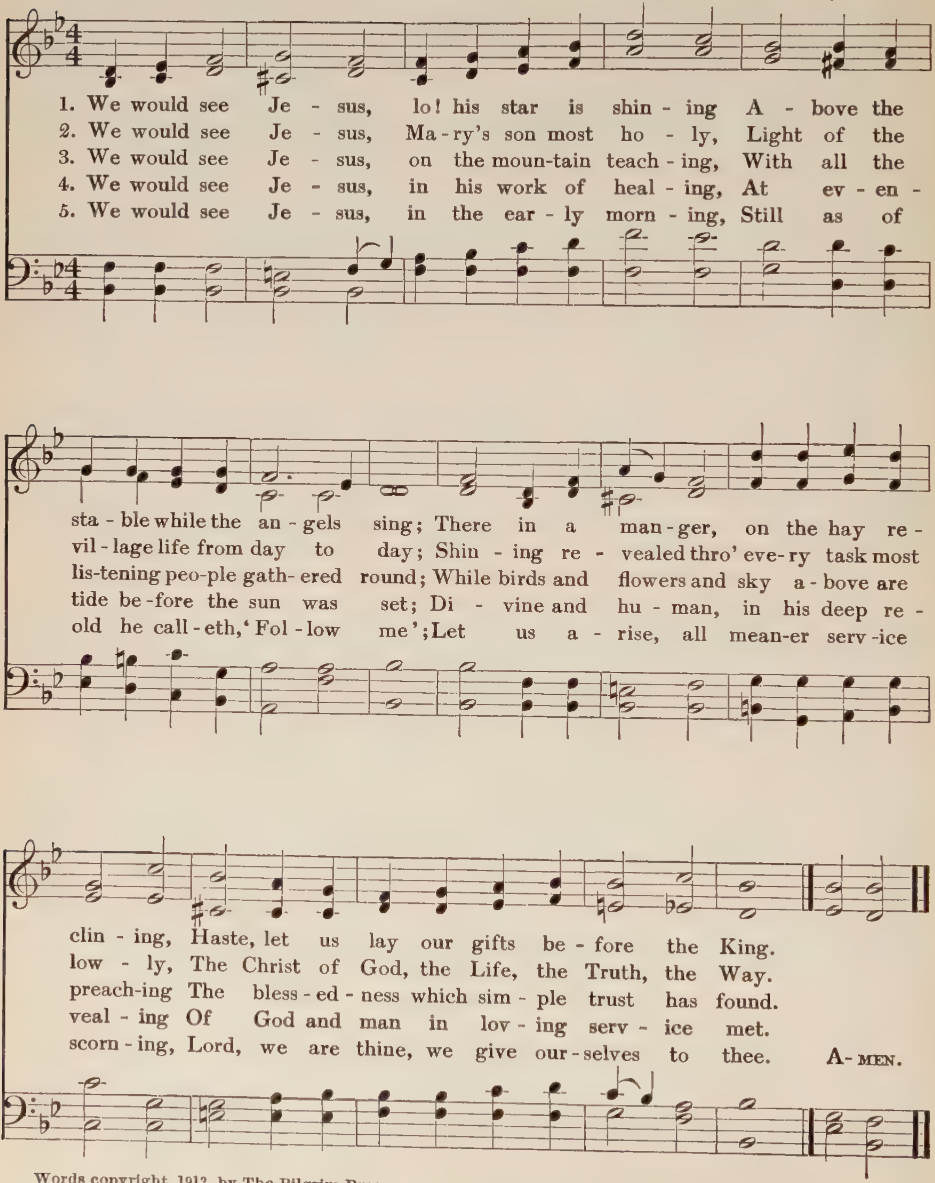
We Would See Jesus

(CUSHMAN. 11, 10, 11. 10)

J. Edgar Park, 1913 — Herbert B. Turner, 1905



1. We would see Jesus, lo! his star is shining Above the stable while the angels sing; There in a manger, on the hay reclining, Haste, let us lay our gifts before the King.
2. We would see Jesus, Mary's son most holy, Light of the village life from day to day; Shining revealed thro' every task most lowly, The Christ of God, the Life, the Truth, the Way.
3. We would see Jesus, on the mountain teaching, With all the listening people gathered round; While birds and flowers and sky above are preaching The blessedness which simple trust has found.
4. We would see Jesus, in his work of healing, At eventide before the sun was set; Divine and human, in his deep revealing Of God and man in loving service met.

Thou Didst Leave Thy Throne

(MARGARET. Irregular)

Emily E. S. Elliott, 1864 Timothy R. Matthews, 1876

1. Thou didst leave thy throne and thy king-ly crown When thou cam-est to earth for me; But in Beth-le-hem's home was there found no room For thy ho-ly na-tiv-i-ty:
2. Heav-en's arch-es rang when the an-gels sang Pro-claim-ing thy roy-al de-gree; But in low-ly birth didst thou come to earth, And in great hu-mil-i-ty:
3. The fox-es found rest, and the birds their nest In the shade of the for-est tree; But thy couch was the sod, O thou Son of God, In the des-ert of Gal-i-lee:
4. Thou cam-est, O Lord, with the liv-ing word That should set thy peo-ple free; But with mock-ing scorn, and with crown of thorn, They bore thee to Cal-va-ry:
5. When heaven's arch-es shall ring, and her choirs shall sing At thy com-ing to vic-to-ry, Let thy voice call me home, say-ing, 'Yet there is room, There is room at my side for thee;'

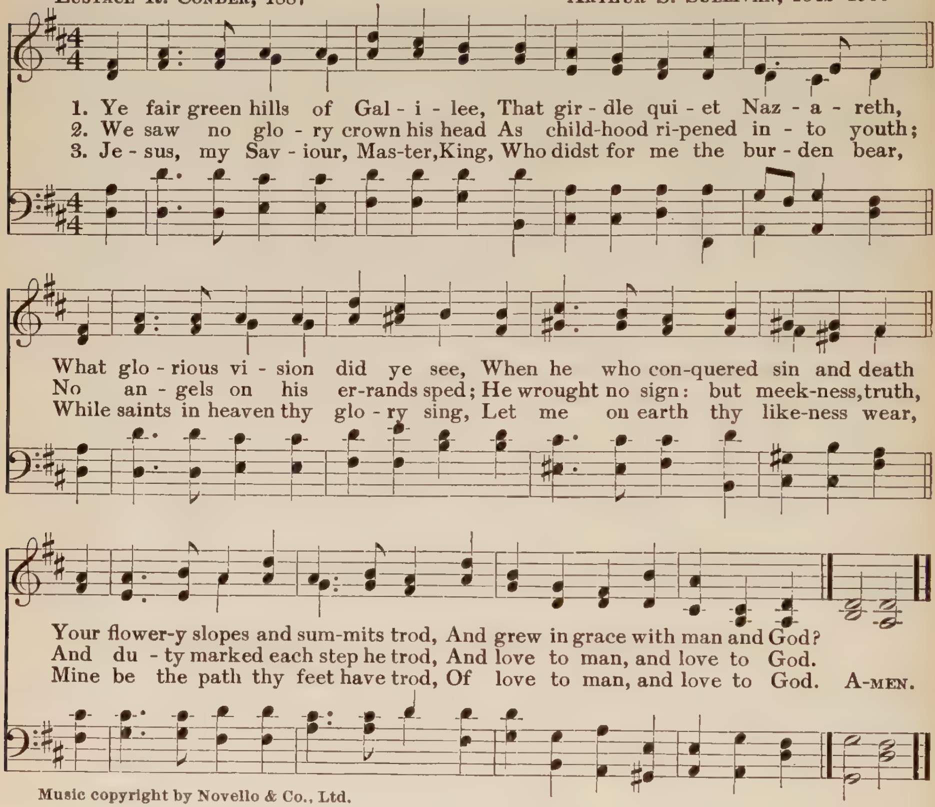
(SAINTS OF GOD. 8, 8, 8, 8, 8, 8)

Eustace R. Conder, 1887 — Arthur S. Sullivan, 1842–1900



1. Ye fair green hills of Gal-i-lee, That gir-dle qui-et Naz-a-reth,
2. We saw no glo-ry crown his head As child-hood ri-pened in-to youth;
3. Je-sus, my Sav-iour, Mas-ter, King, Who didst for me the bur-den bear,
What glo-rious vi-sion did ye see, When he who con-quered sin and death
No an-gels on his er-rands sped; He wrought no sign: but meek-ness, truth,
While saints in heaven thy glo-ry sing, Let me on earth thy like-ness wear,
Your flower-y slopes and sum-mits trod, And grew in grace with man and God?
And du-ty marked each step he trod, And love to man, and love to God.

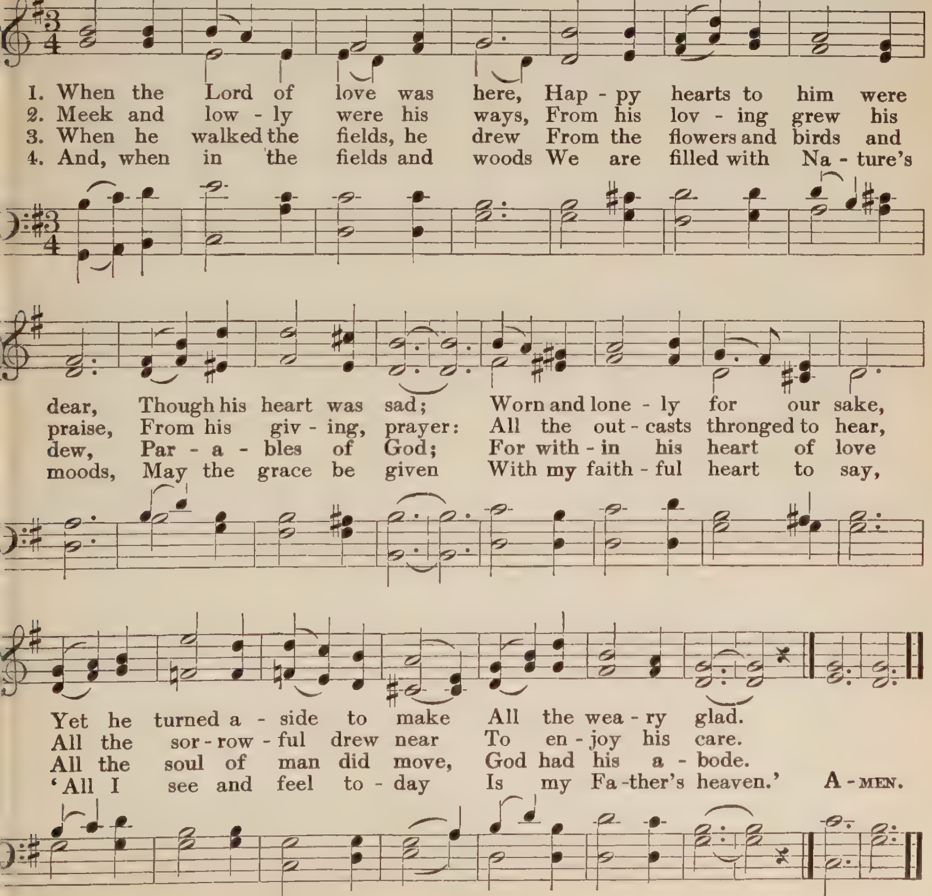
We know thy cross is not a loss If we thy love shall truly gain.
We look to thee, heed thou our plea, Teach us to share thy ageless power. Amen.

104 When the Lord of Love Was Here

(ARMSTRONG. 7, 7, 5, D.)

Stopford A. Brooke, 1881

George W. Chadwick, 1888



1. When the Lord of love was here, Happy hearts to him were dear, Though his heart was sad; Worn and lonely for our sake, Yet he turned aside to make All the weary glad.
2. Meek and lowly were his ways, From his loving grew his praise, From his giving, prayer: All the outcasts thronged to hear, All the sorrowful drew near To enjoy his care.
3. When he walked the fields, he drew From the flowers and birds and dew, Parables of God; For within his heart of love All the soul of man did move, God had his abode.
4. And, when in the fields and woods We are filled with Nature's moods, May the grace be given With my faithful heart to say, 'All I see and feel today Is my Father's heaven.' Amen.

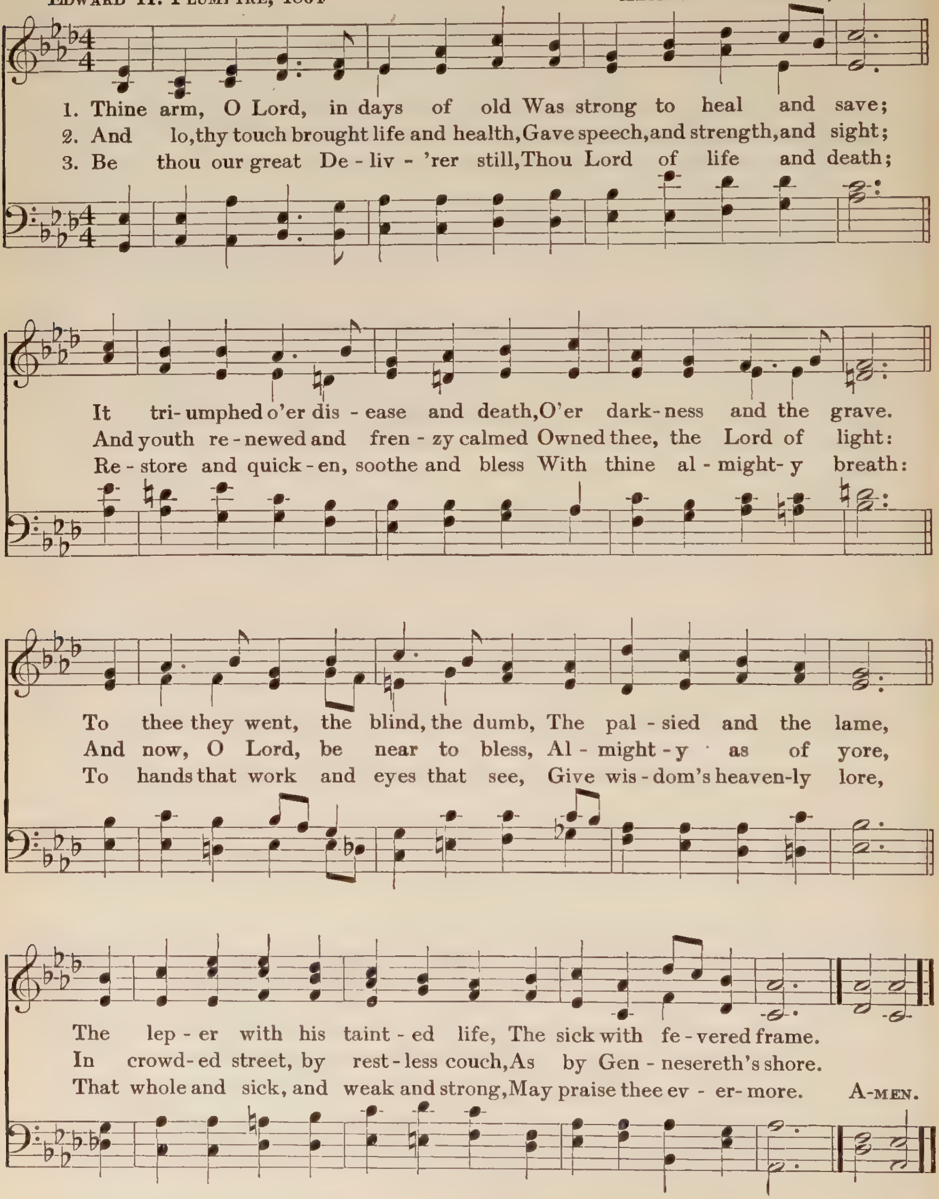
111 Thine Arm, O Lord, in Days of Old

(PHOENIX. C. M. D.)

Edward H. Plumptre, 1864 Leonard N. Fowles, 1918



1. Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old Was strong to heal and save;
2. And lo, thy touch brought life and health, Gave speech, and strength, and sight;
3. Be thou our great De - liv - 'rer still, Thou Lord of life and death;

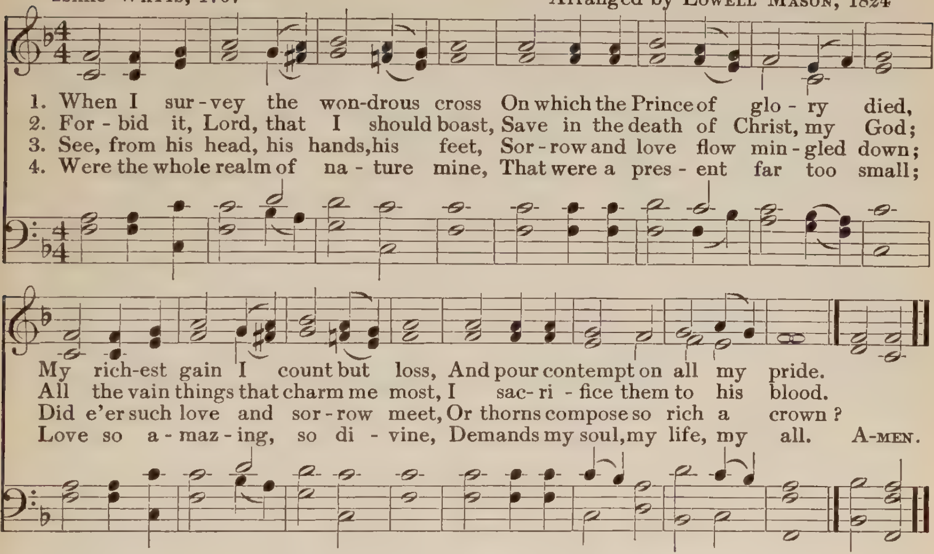
123 When I Survey the Wondrous Cross

(HAMBURG. L. M.)

ISAAC WATTS, 1707

From the First Gregorian Tone
Arranged by LOWELL MASON, 1824



1. When I survey the wondrous cross On which the Prince of glory died,
2. Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast, Save in the death of Christ, my God;
3. See, from his head, his hands, his feet, Sorrow and love flow mingled down;
4. Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were a present far too small;
My richest gain I count but loss, And pour contempt on all my pride.
All the vain things that charm me most, I sacrifice them to his blood.
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet, Or thorns compose so rich a crown?
Love so amazing, so divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all.

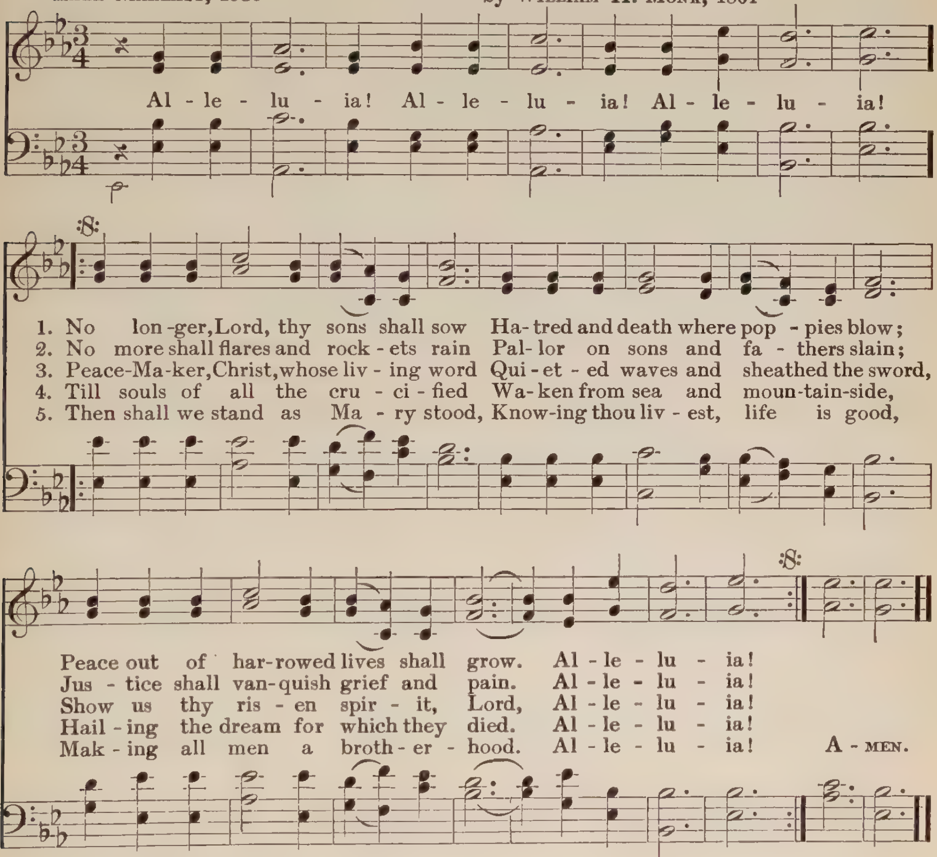
132 No Longer, Lord, Thy Sons Shall Sow

(VICTORY. 8, 8, 8. With Alleluia)

Arranged from the 'Gloria Patri' of PALESTRINA, 1591,
by WILLIAM H. MONK, 1861

EARL MARLATT, 1930



Al - le - lu - ia! Al - le - lu - ia! Al - le - lu - ia!
1. No lon-ger, Lord, thy sons shall sow Ha-tred and death where pop - pies blow;
2. No more shall flares and rock - ets rain Pal-lor on sons and fa - thers slain;
3. Peace-Ma-ker, Christ, whose liv - ing word Qui - et - ed waves and sheathed the sword,
4. Till souls of all the cru - ci - fied Wa-ken from sea and moun-tain-side,
5. Then shall we stand as Ma - ry stood, Know-ing thou liv - est, life is good,
Peace out of har-rowed lives shall grow. Al - le - lu - ia!
Jus - tice shall van-quish grief and pain. Al - le - lu - ia!
Show us thy ris - en spir - it, Lord, Al - le - lu - ia!

133 The Strife Is O'er, the Battle Done

(VICTORY. No. 132)

1 The strife is o'er, the battle done;
The victory of faith is won;
The song of triumph has begun.
Alleluia!

2 The powers of death have done their worst,
But Christ their legions hath dispersed;
Let shout of holy joy outburst.
Alleluia!

3 The three sad days are quickly sped;
He rises glorious from the dead;
All glory to our risen Head!
Alleluia!

4 Lord, by the stripes which wounded thee,
From death's dread sting thy servants free,
That we may live and sing to thee,
Alleluia! Amen.

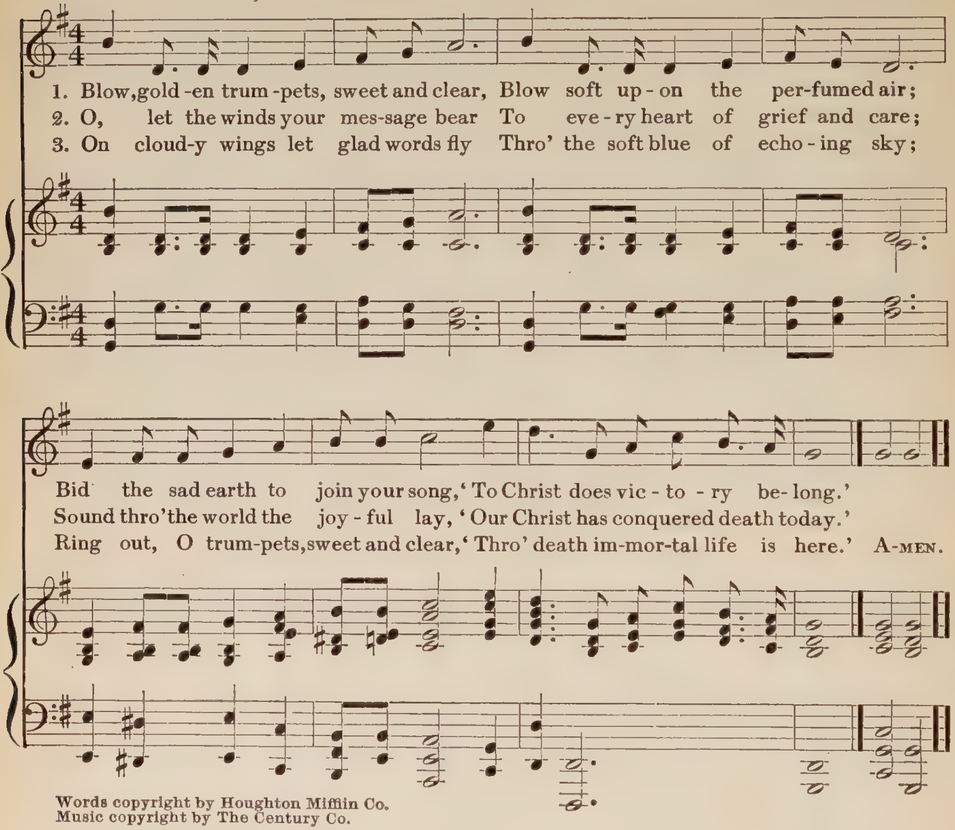
134 Blow, Golden Trumpets, Sweet and Clear

(GOLDEN TRUMPETS. L. M.)

MARGARET DELAND, 1887

T. CARL WHITMER, 1930



1. Blow, gold - en trum - pets, sweet and clear, Blow soft up - on the per-fumed air;
2. O, let the winds your mes-sage bear To eve - ry heart of grief and care;
3. On cloud-y wings let glad words fly Thro' the soft blue of echo - ing sky;
Bid the sad earth to join your song, 'To Christ does vic - to - ry be- long.'
Sound thro' the world the joy - ful lay, 'Our Christ has conquered death today.'
Ring out, O trum-pets, sweet and clear, 'Thro' death im-mor-tal life is here.' A-MEN.

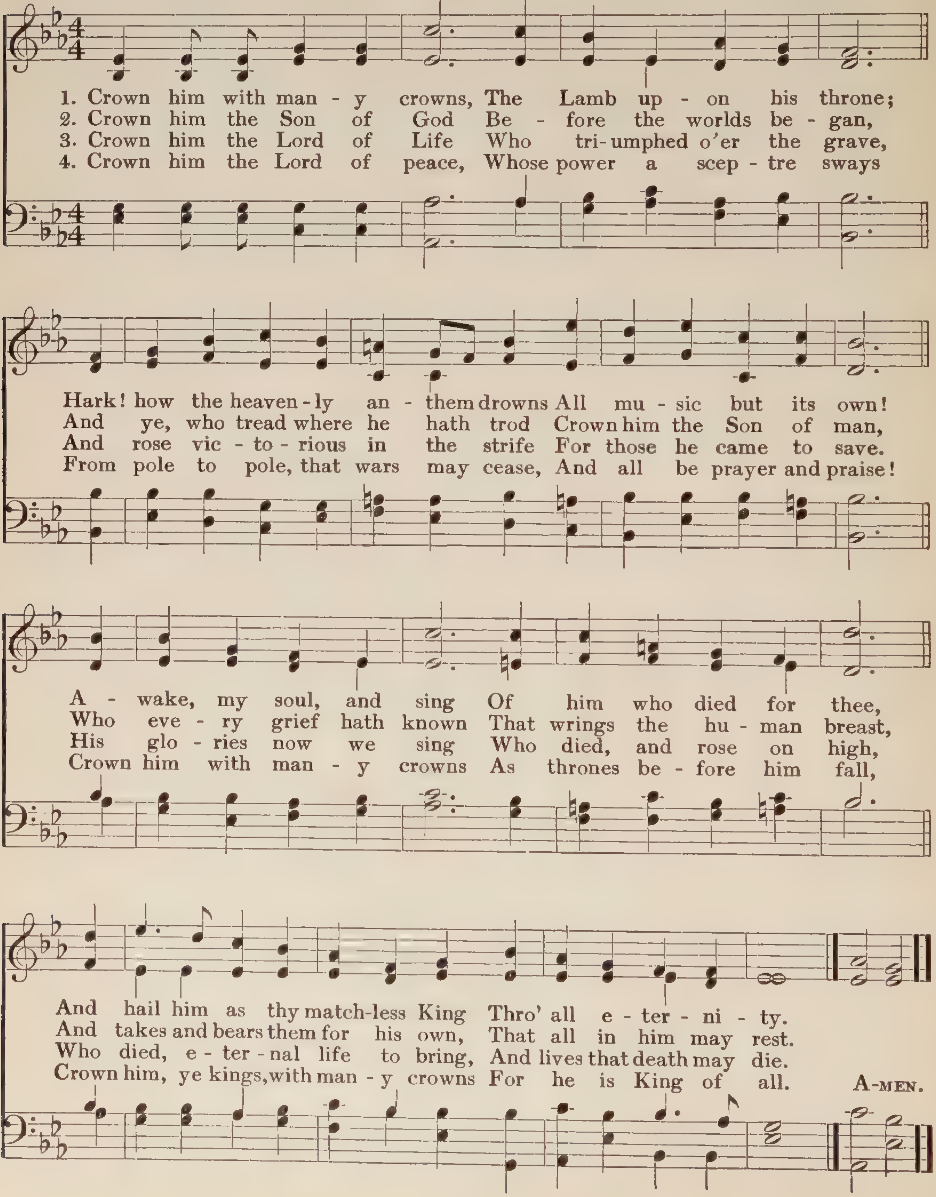
Crown Him with Many Crowns

(DIADEMATA. S. M. D.)

Matthew Bridges, 1851, Godfrey Thring, 1882 George J. Elvey, 1868



1. Crown him with man - y crowns, The Lamb up - on his throne;
2. Crown him the Son of God Be - fore the worlds be - gan,
3. Crown him the Lord of Life Who tri-umphed o'er the grave,
4. Crown him the Lord of peace, Whose power a scep - tre sways
Hark! how the heaven - ly an - them drowns All mu - sic but its own!
And ye, who tread where he hath trod Crown him the Son of man,
And rose vic - to - rious in the strife For those he came to save.
From pole to pole, that wars may cease, And all be prayer and praise!
A - wake, my soul, and sing Of him who died for thee,
Who eve - ry grief hath known That wrings the hu - man breast,
His glo - ries now we sing Who died, and rose on high,
Crown him with man - y crowns As thrones be - fore him fall,
And hail him as thy match-less King Thro' all e - ter - ni - ty.
And takes and bears them for his own, That all in him may rest.
Who died, e - ter - nal life to bring, And lives that death may die.
Crown him, ye kings, with man - y crowns For he is King of all.

Optional Stanzas

4 All fairest beauty,
Heavenly and earthly,
Wondrously, Jesus, is found in thee:
None can be nearer,
Fairer or dearer
Than thou, my Saviour, art to me.

5 Beautiful Saviour;
Lord of the nations;
Son of God and Son of man.
Glory and honor,
Praise, adoration,
Now and evermore be thine.

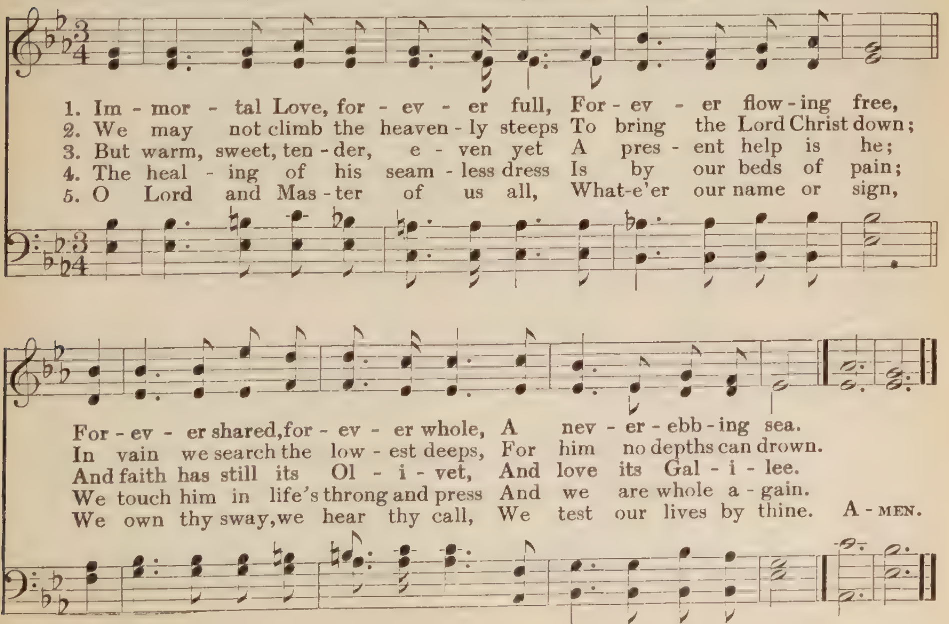
Like some fresh grief from yesterday That tears the heart-strings still.
He comes to give the world's starved heart The perfect love it needs. A-MEN.

140 Immortal Love, Forever Full

(SERENITY. C. M.)

John G. Whittier, 1866 Arranged from William V. Wallace, 1855

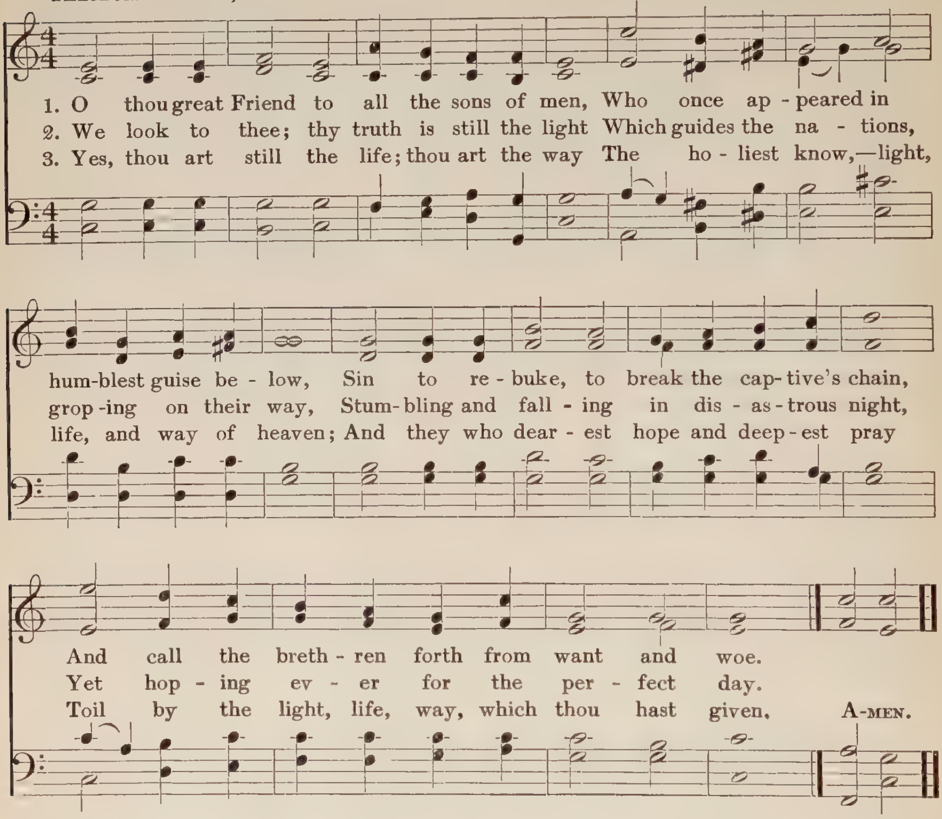


1. Immortal Love, forever full, Forever flowing free,
2. We may not climb the heavenly steeps To bring the Lord Christ down;
3. But warm, sweet, tender, even yet A present help is he;
4. The healing of his seamless dress Is by our beds of pain;
5. O Lord and Master of us all, What-e'er our name or sign,
Forever shared, forever whole, A never-ebbing sea.
In vain we search the lowest deeps, For him no depths can drown.
And faith has still its Olivet, And love its Galilee.
We touch him in life's throng and press And we are whole again.
We own thy sway, we hear thy call, We test our lives by thine. A-MEN.

141 O Thou Great Friend to All the Sons of Men

(MORECAMBE. 10, 10, 10, 10)

THEODORE PARKER, 1846 — FREDERICK C. ATKINSON, 1870



1. O thou great Friend to all the sons of men, Who once ap - peared in
2. We look to thee; thy truth is still the light Which guides the na - tions,
3. Yes, thou art still the life; thou art the way The ho - liest know,—light, hum-blest guise be - low, Sin to re - buke, to break the cap-tive's chain, grop-ing on their way, Stum-bling and fall - ing in dis - as-trous night,

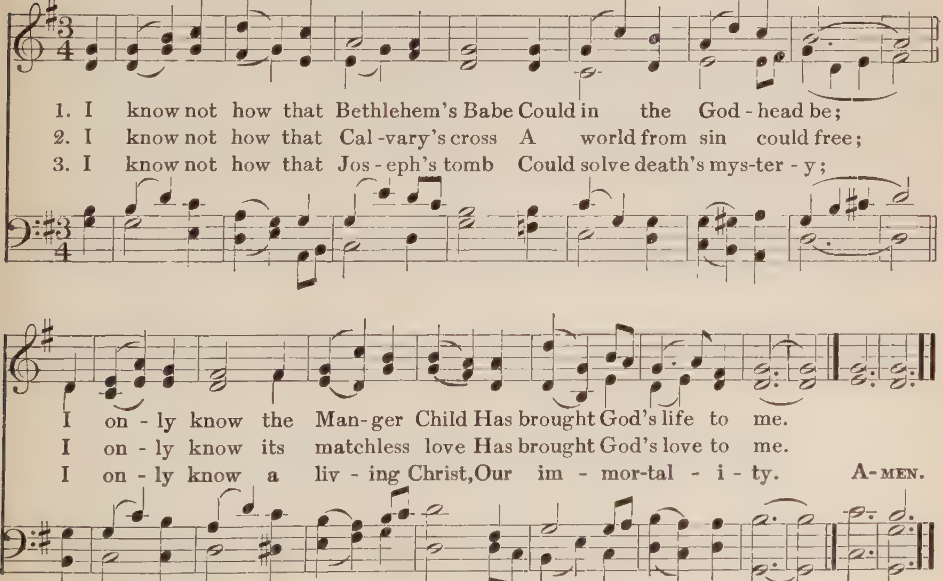
143 I Know not How that Bethlehem's Babe

(VERITAS. C. M.)

HARRY WEBB FARRINGTON, 1910

JOHN N. BURNHAM, 1923



1. I know not how that Bethlehem's Babe Could in the God-head be; I on-ly know the Man-ger Child Has brought God's life to me.
2. I know not how that Cal-vary's cross A world from sin could free; I on-ly know its matchless love Has brought God's love to me.
3. I know not how that Jos-eph's tomb Could solve death's mys-ter-y; I on-ly know a liv-ing Christ, Our im-mor-tal-i-ty. A-MEN.

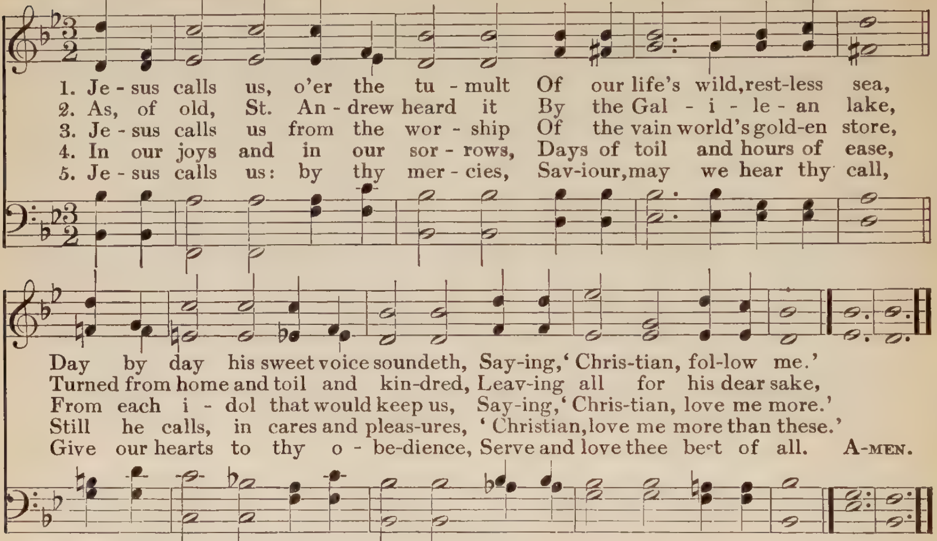
144 Jesus Calls Us, O'er the Tumult

(GALILEE. 8, 7, 8, 7)

CECIL F. ALEXANDER, 1852 WILLIAM H. JUDE, 1887



1. Je - sus calls us, o'er the tu - mult Of our life's wild, rest-less sea,
2. As, of old, St. An - drew heard it By the Gal - i - le - an lake,
3. Je - sus calls us from the wor - ship Of the vain world's gold-en store,
4. In our joys and in our sor - rows, Days of toil and hours of ease,
5. Je - sus calls us: by thy mer - cies, Sav-iour, may we hear thy call,
Day by day his sweet voice soundeth, Say-ing, 'Chris-tian, fol-low me.'
Turned from home and toil and kin-dred, Leav-ing all for his dear sake,
From each i - dol that would keep us, Say-ing, 'Chris-tian, love me more.'
Still he calls, in cares and pleas-ures, 'Christian, love me more than these.'
Give our hearts to thy o - be-dience, Serve and love thee best of all. A-MEN.

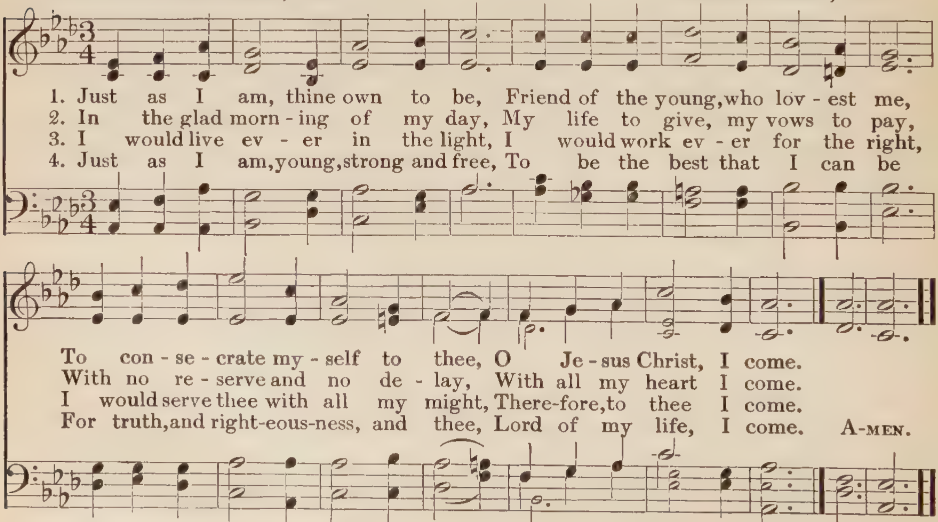
145 Just As I Am, Thine Own to Be

(JUST AS I AM. 8, 8, 8, 6)

MARIANNE FARNINGHAM, 1887 JOSEPH BARNBY, 1893



1. Just as I am, thine own to be, Friend of the young, who lov - est me,
2. In the glad morn - ing of my day, My life to give, my vows to pay,
3. I would live ev - er in the light, I would work ev - er for the right,
4. Just as I am, young, strong and free, To be the best that I can be
To con - se - crate my - self to thee, O Je - sus Christ, I come.
With no re - serve and no de - lay, With all my heart I come.
I would serve thee with all my might, There-fore, to thee I come.

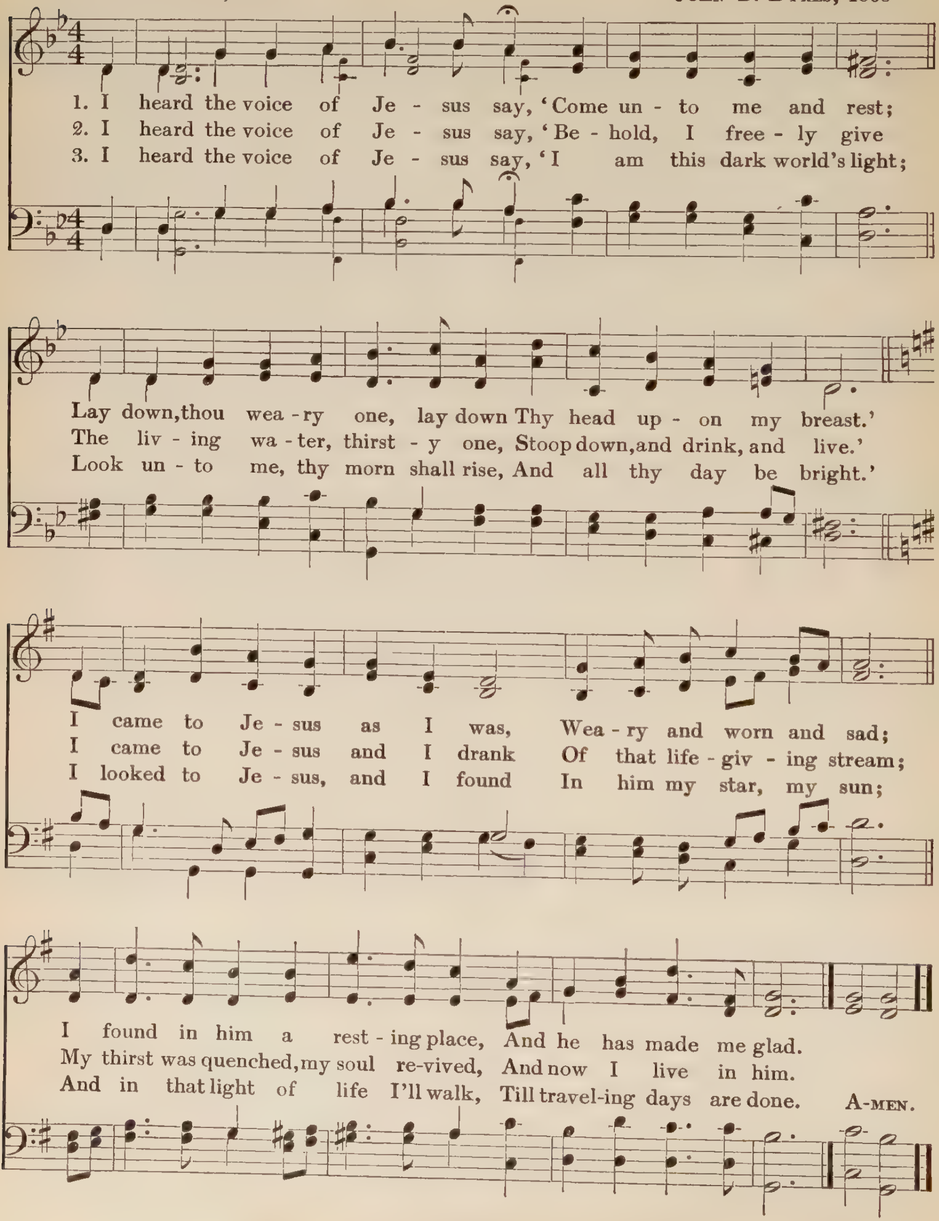
I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say

(VOX DILECTI. C. M. D.)

HORATIUS BONAR, 1846

JOHN B. DYKES, 1868



1. I heard the voice of Je - sus say, 'Come un - to me and rest;
2. I heard the voice of Je - sus say, 'Be - hold, I free - ly give
3. I heard the voice of Je - sus say, 'I am this dark world's light;

I came to Je - sus as I was, Wea - ry and worn and sad;
I came to Je - sus and I drank Of that life - giv - ing stream;
I looked to Je - sus, and I found In him my star, my sun;
I found in him a rest - ing place, And he has made me glad.
My thirst was quenched, my soul re-vived, And now I live in him.
And in that light of life I'll walk, Till travel-ing days are done.

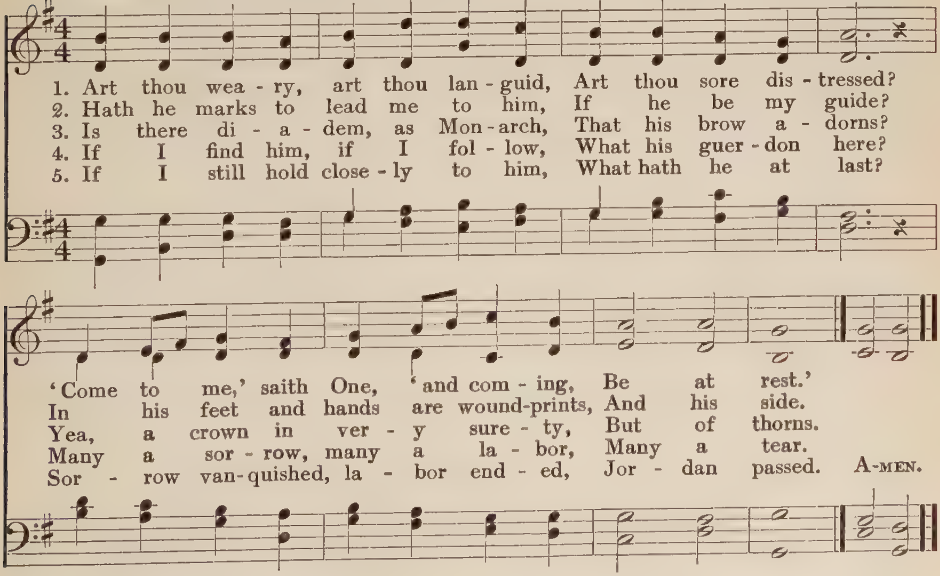
151 Art Thou Weary, Art Thou Languid

(STEPHANOS. 8,5,8,3)

St. Stephen of Mar Saba, 8th century
Recast by John Mason Neale, 1862

Henry W. Baker, 1868



1. Art thou wea - ry, art thou lan - guid, Art thou sore dis - tressed?
2. Hath he marks to lead me to him, If he be my guide?
3. Is there di - a - dem, as Mon - arch, That his brow a - dorns?
4. If I find him, if I fol - low, What his guer - don here?
5. If I still hold close - ly to him, What hath he at last?
'Come to me,' saith One, 'and com - ing, Be at rest.'
In his feet and hands are wound-prints, And his side.
Yea, a crown in ver - y sure - ty, But of thorns.
Many a sor - row, many a la - bor, Many a tear.

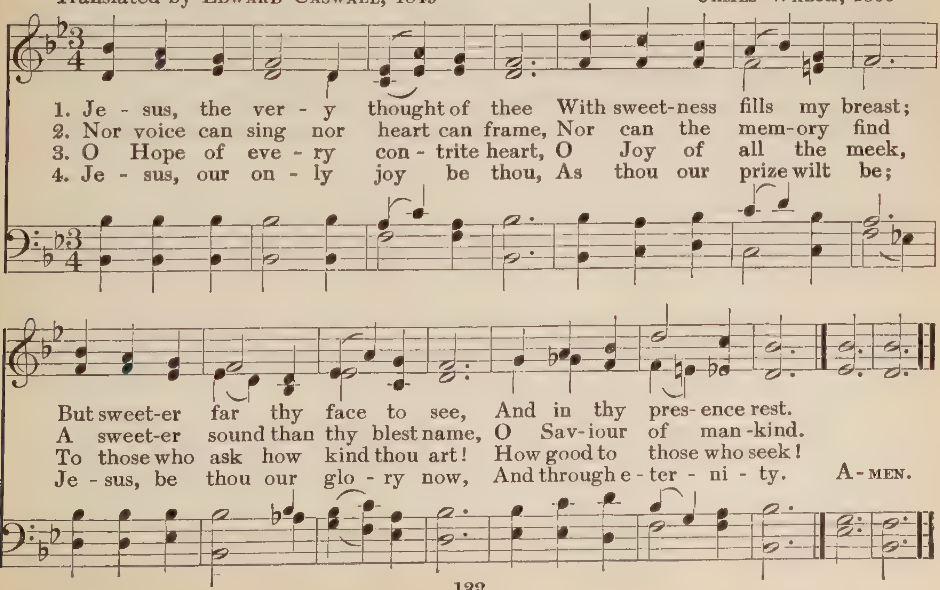
158 Jesus, the Very Thought of Thee

(SAWLEY. C. M.)

Anonymous Latin hymn, 11th century
Translated by EDWARD CASWALL, 1849

JAMES WALCH, 1860



1. Je - sus, the ver - y thought of thee With sweet-ness fills my breast;
2. Nor voice can sing nor heart can frame, Nor can the mem-ory find
3. O Hope of eve - ry con - trite heart, O Joy of all the meek,
4. Je - sus, our on - ly joy be thou, As thou our prize wilt be;
But sweet-er far thy face to see, And in thy pres- ence rest.
A sweet-er sound than thy blest name, O Sav-iour of man-kind.
To those who ask how kind thou art! How good to those who seek!
Je - sus, be thou our glo - ry now, And through e - ter - ni - ty.

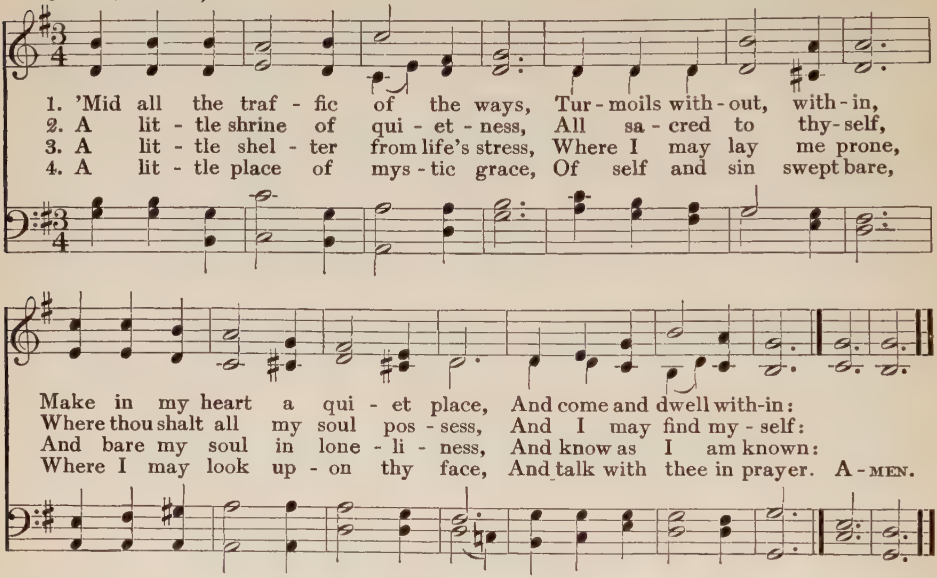
159 'Mid All the Traffic of the Ways

(ST. AGNES. C. M.)

JOHN OXENHAM, 1917 JOHN B. DYKES, 1866



1. 'Mid all the traffic of the ways, Turmoils without, within,
2. A little shrine of quietness, All sacred to thyself,
3. A little shelter from life's stress, Where I may lay me prone,
4. A little place of mystic grace, Of self and sin swept bare,
Make in my heart a quiet place, And come and dwell within:
Where thou shalt all my soul possess, And I may find myself:
And bare my soul in loneliness, And know as I am known:
Where I may look upon thy face, And talk with thee in prayer. A-men.

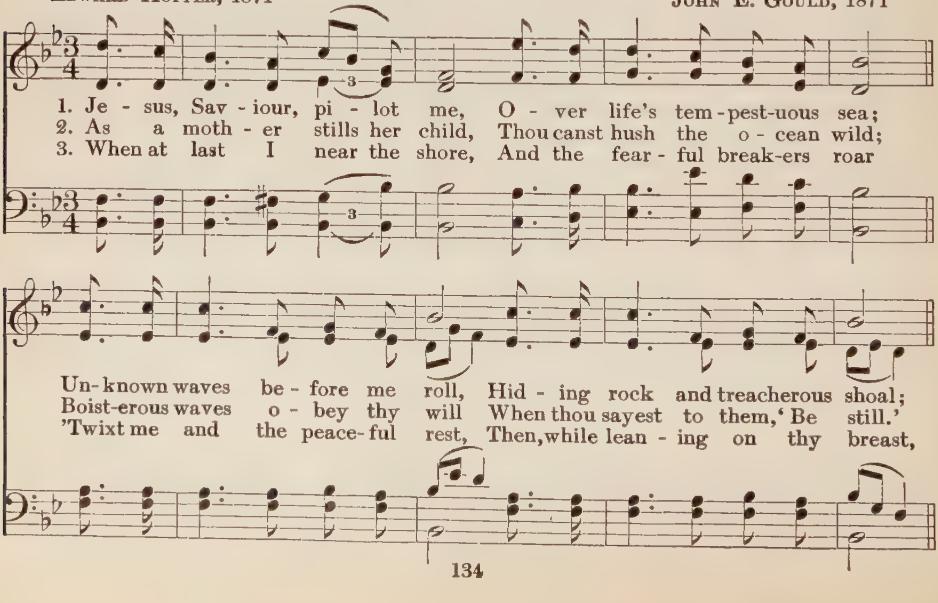
160 Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me

(PILOT. 7, 7, 7, 7, 7, 7)

EDWARD HOPPER, 1871 JOHN E. GOULD, 1871



1. Jesus, Saviour, pilot me, Over life's tempestuous sea;
2. As a mother stills her child, Thou canst hush the ocean wild;
3. When at last I near the shore, And the fearful breakers roar
Unknown waves before me roll, Hiding rock and treacherous shoal;
Boisterous waves obey thy will When thou sayest to them, 'Be still.'
'Twixt me and the peaceful rest, Then, while leaning on thy breast,

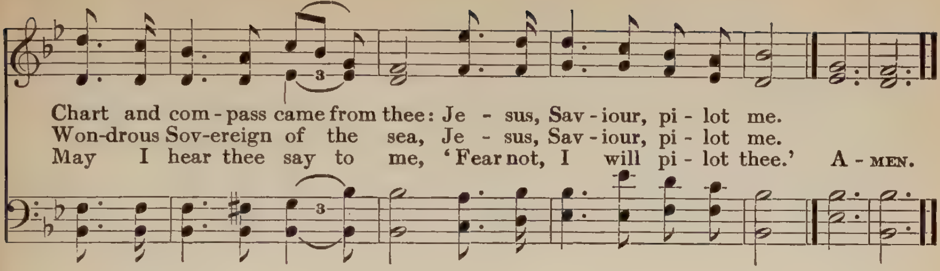


Chart and com - pass came from thee: Je - sus, Sav - iour, pi - lot me.
Won-drous Sov-ereign of the sea, Je - sus, Sav - iour, pi - lot me.
May I hear thee say to me, 'Fear not, I will pi - lot thee.' A - MEN.

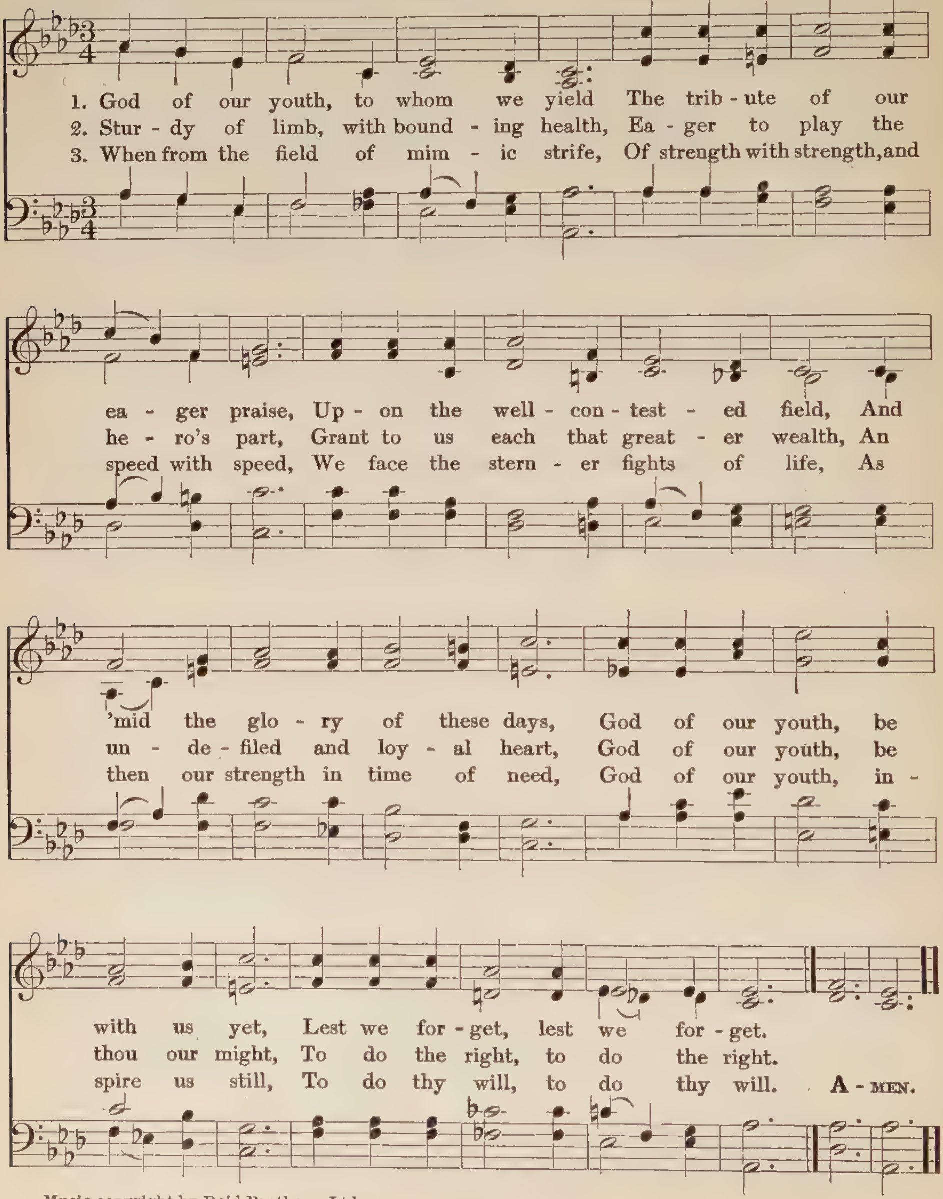
162 God of Our Youth, to Whom We Yield

(LEST WE FORGET. 8,8,8,8,8,8)

William Byron Forbush, 1911. Altered

George F. Blanchard, 1898



1. God of our youth, to whom we yield The tribute of our eager praise, Upon the well-contested field, And 'mid the glory of these days, God of our youth, be with us yet, Lest we forget, lest we forget.
2. Sturdy of limb, with bounding health, Eager to play the hero's part, Grant to us each that greater wealth, An undefiled and loyal heart, God of our youth, be thou our might, To do the right, to do the right.
3. When from the field of mimic strife, Of strength with strength, and speed with speed, We face the sterner fights of life, As then our strength in time of need, God of our youth, inspire us still, To do thy will, to do thy will.

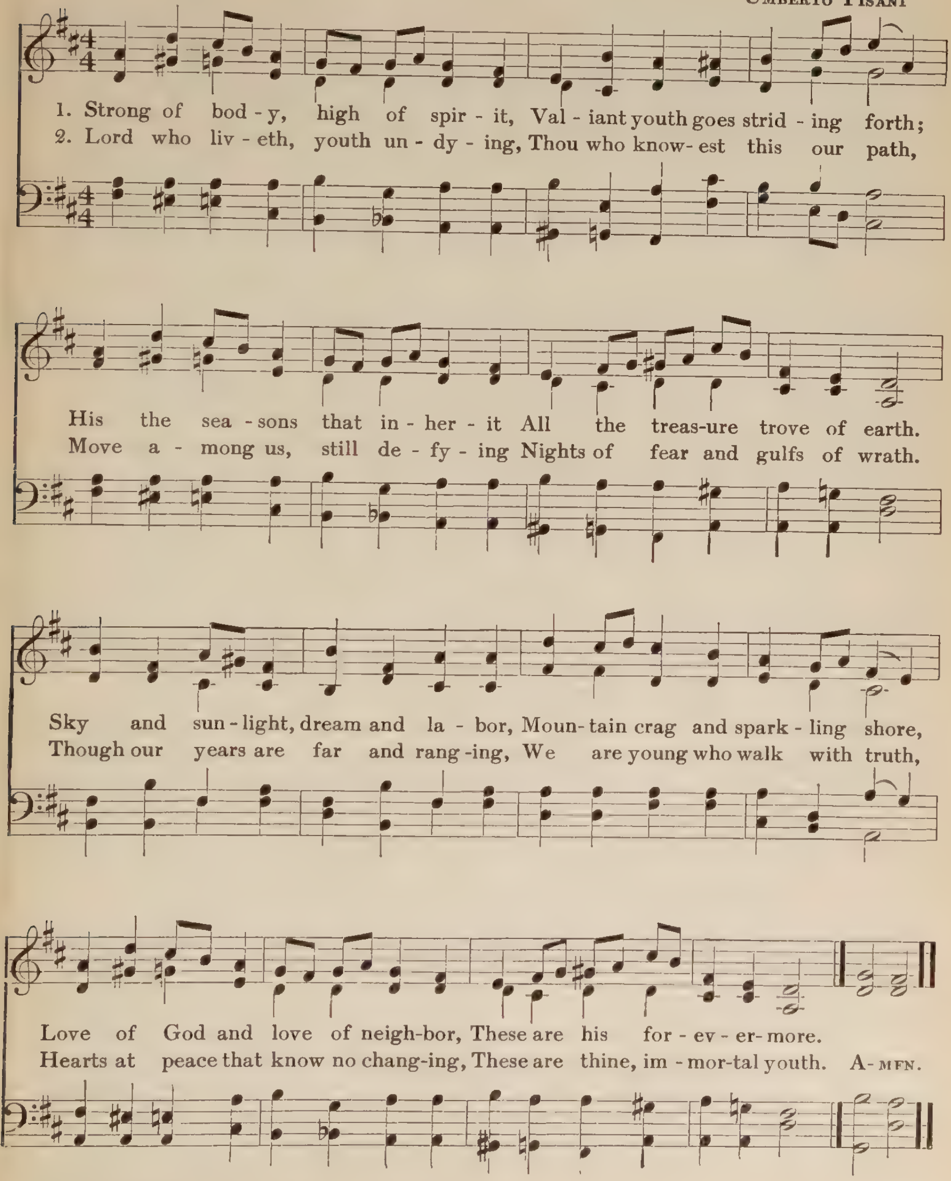
Strong of Body, High of Spirit

(PISANI. 8, 7, 8, 7, D.)

Richard Felton

Umberto Pisani



1. Strong of bod-y, high of spir-it, Val-iant youth goes strid-ing forth;
His the sea-sons that in-her-it All the treas-ure trove of earth.
Sky and sun-light, dream and la-bor, Moun-tain crag and spark-ling shore,
Love of God and love of neigh-bor, These are his for-ev-er-more.
2. Lord who liv-eth, youth un-dy-ing, Thou who know-est this our path,
Move a-mong us, still de-fy-ing Nights of fear and gulfs of wrath.
Though our years are far and rang-ing, We are young who walk with truth,
Hearts at peace that know no chang-ing, These are thine, im-mor-tal youth.

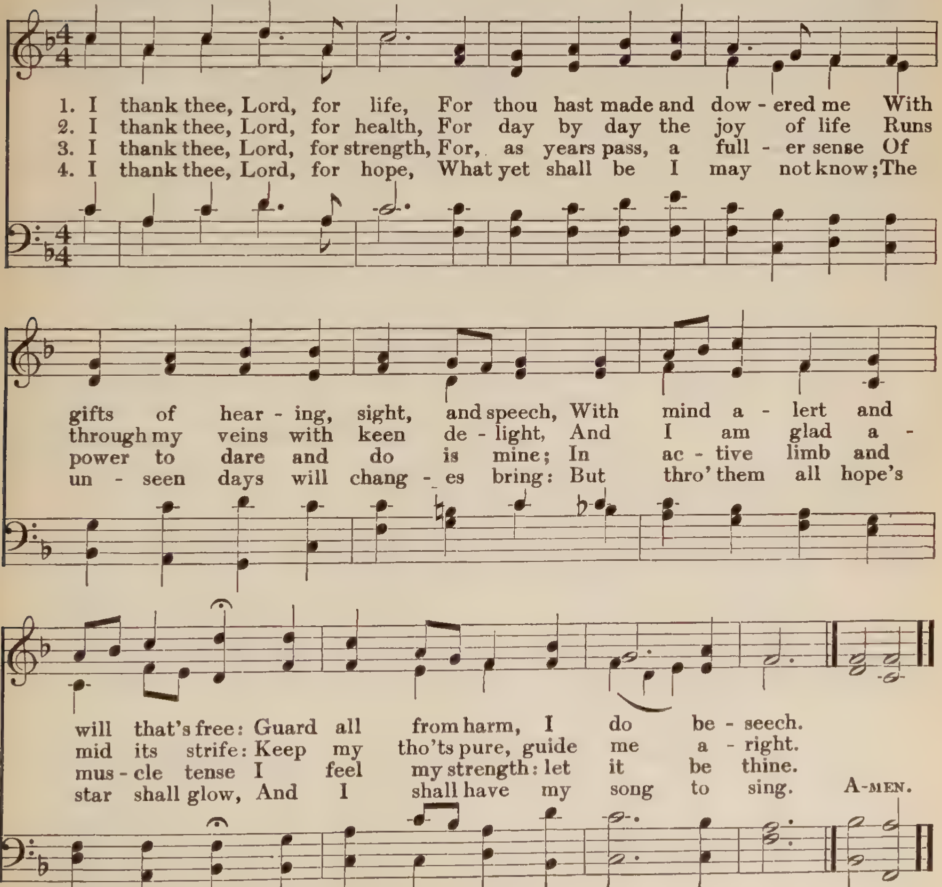
(ROCHESTER. 6,8,8,8,8)

J. WILLIAMS BUTCHER, 1919

GEORGE HENRY DAY, 1929



1. I thank thee, Lord, for life, For thou hast made and dowered me With gifts of hearing, sight, and speech, With mind alert and will that's free: Guard all from harm, I do beseech.
2. I thank thee, Lord, for health, For day by day the joy of life Runs through my veins with keen delight, And I am glad amid its strife: Keep my tho'ts pure, guide me aright.
3. I thank thee, Lord, for strength, For, as years pass, a fuller sense Of power to dare and do is mine; In active limb and muscle tense I feel my strength: let it be thine.
4. I thank thee, Lord, for hope, What yet shall be I may not know; The unseen days will changes bring: But thro' them all hope's star shall glow, And I shall have my song to sing.

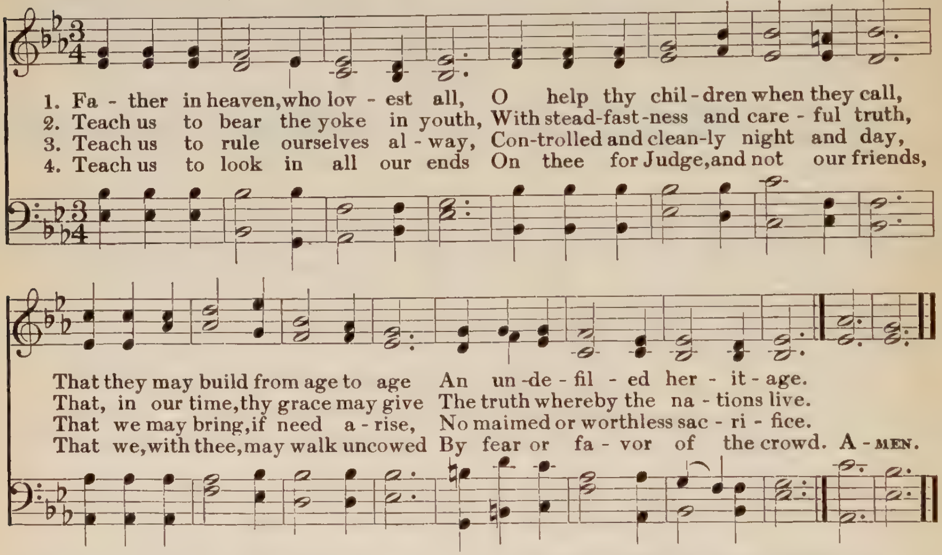
175 Father in Heaven, Who Lovest All

Land of our birth, we pledge to thee
Our love and toil in years to be,
When we are grown and take our place
As men and women with our race.

(SAXBY. L. M.)

RUDYARD KIPLING, 1906 TIMOTHY R. MATTHEWS, 1883



1. Father in heaven, who lovest all, O help thy children when they call,
2. Teach us to bear the yoke in youth, With steadfastness and careful truth,
3. Teach us to rule ourselves alway, Controlled and cleanly night and day,
4. Teach us to look in all our ends On thee for Judge, and not our friends,
That they may build from age to age An undefiled heritage.
That, in our time, thy grace may give The truth whereby the nations live.
That we may bring, if need arise, No maimed or worthless sacrifice.
That we, with thee, may walk uncowed By fear or favor of the crowd. Amen.

5 Teach us the strength that cannot seek,
By deed or thought, to hurt the weak,
That, under thee, we may possess
Man's strength to comfort man's distress.

6 Teach us delight in simple things,
And mirth that has no bitter springs,
Forgiveness free of evil done,
And love to all men 'neath the sun.

Land of our birth, our faith, our pride,
For whose dear sake our fathers died;
O Motherland, we pledge to thee
Head, heart, and hand through the years to be.

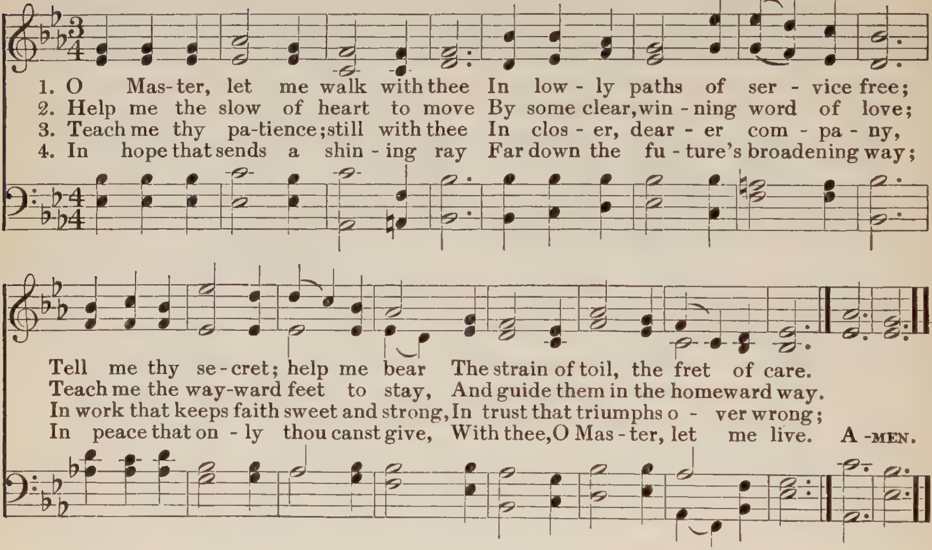
197 O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee

(MARYTON. L. M.)

Washington Gladden, 1879 — Henry Percy Smith, 1874

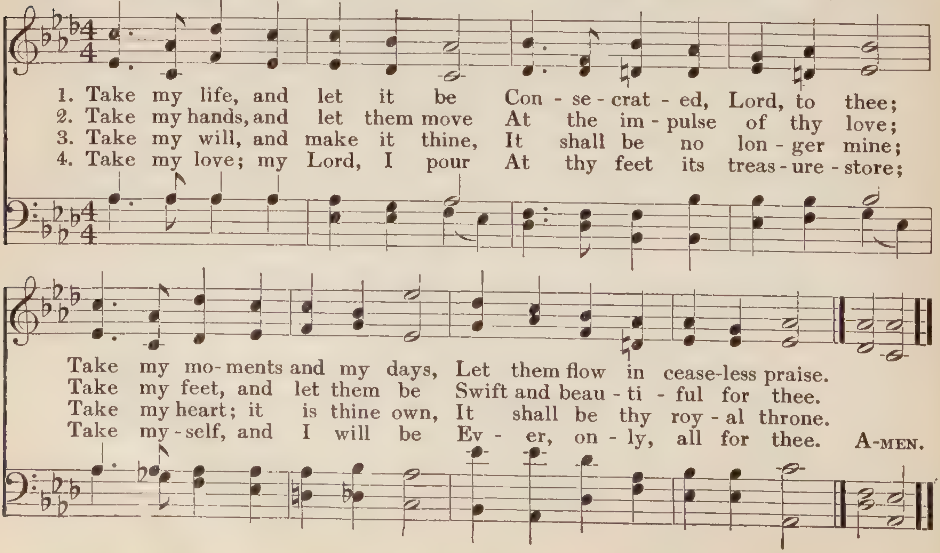


1. O Mas-ter, let me walk with thee In low-ly paths of ser-vice free;
2. Help me the slow of heart to move By some clear, win-ning word of love;
3. Teach me thy pa-tience; still with thee In clos-er, dear-er com-pa-ny,
4. In hope that sends a shin-ing ray Far down the fu-ture's broadening way;
Tell me thy se-cret; help me bear The strain of toil, the fret of care.
Teach me the way-ward feet to stay, And guide them in the homeward way.
In work that keeps faith sweet and strong, In trust that triumphs o-ver wrong;
In peace that on-ly thou canst give, With thee, O Mas-ter, let me live. A-men.

198 Take My Life, and Let It Be

(ELLINGHAM. 7, 7, 7, 7)

Frances R. Havergal, 1874 — Nathaniel S. Godfrey, 1881

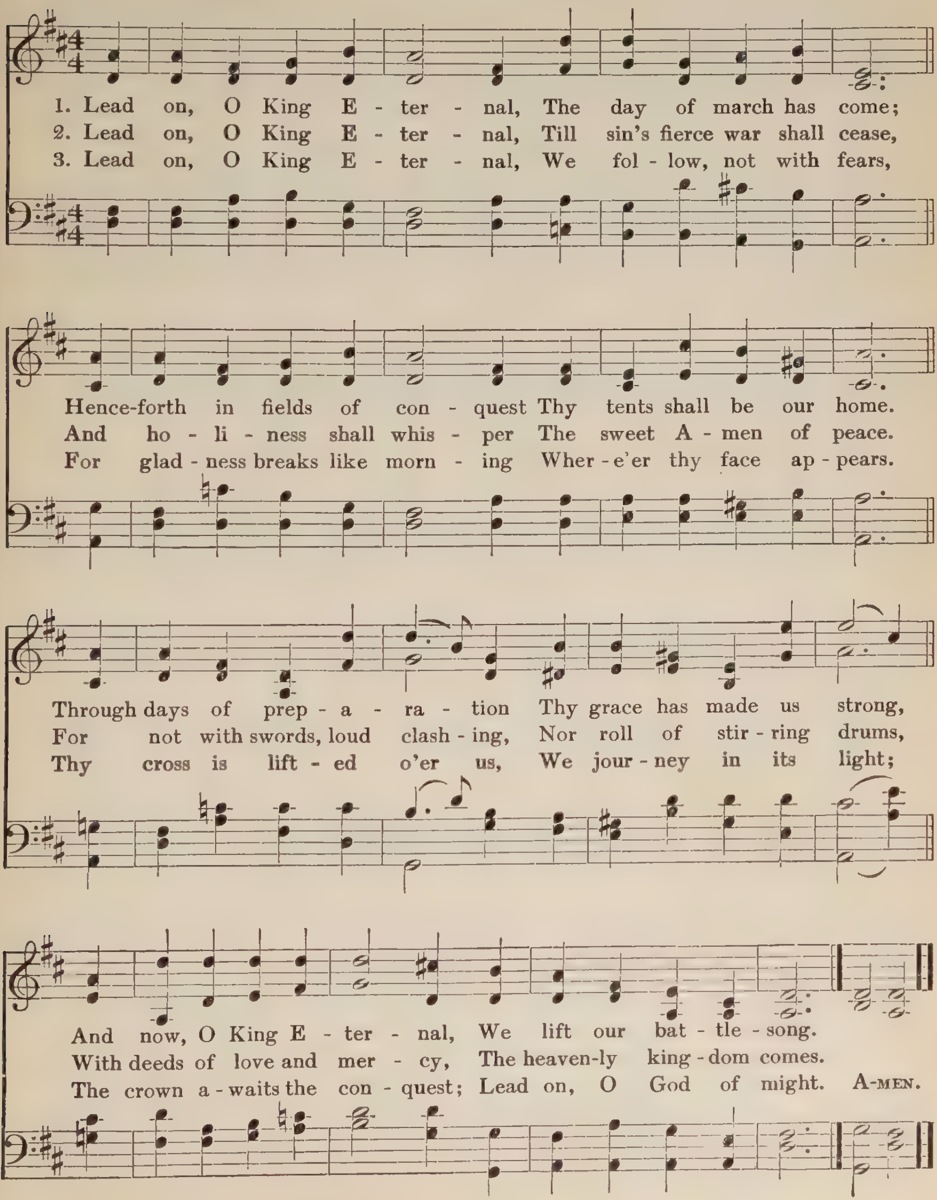


1. Take my life, and let it be Con-se-crat-ed, Lord, to thee;
2. Take my hands, and let them move At the im-pulse of thy love;
3. Take my will, and make it thine, It shall be no lon-ger mine;
4. Take my love; my Lord, I pour At thy feet its treas-ure-store;
Take my mo-ments and my days, Let them flow in cease-less praise.
Take my feet, and let them be Swift and beau-ti-ful for thee.
Take my heart; it is thine own, It shall be thy roy-al throne.
Take my-self, and I will be Ev-er, on-ly, all for thee. A-men.

199 Lead On, O King Eternal

(LANCASHIRE. 7, 6, 7, 6, D.)

ERNEST W. SHURTLEFF, 1888
HENRY SMART, 1836



1. Lead on, O King E - ter - nal, The day of march has come;
2. Lead on, O King E - ter - nal, Till sin's fierce war shall cease,
3. Lead on, O King E - ter - nal, We fol - low, not with fears,

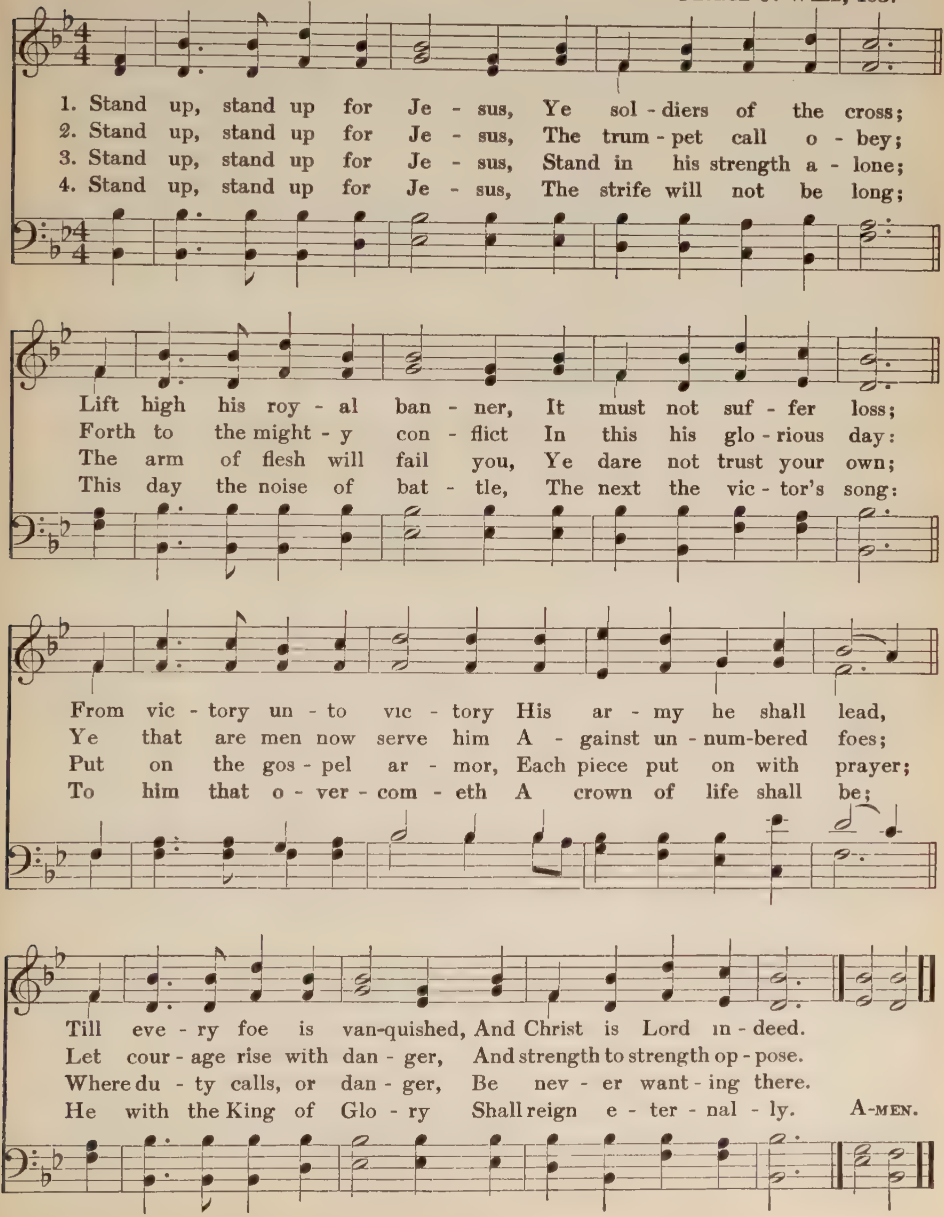
Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus

(WEBB. 7, 6, 7, 6, D.)

George Duffield, 1858

George J. Webb, 1837



1. Stand up, stand up for Jesus, Ye soldiers of the cross;
2. Stand up, stand up for Jesus, The trumpet call obey;
3. Stand up, stand up for Jesus, Stand in his strength alone;
4. Stand up, stand up for Jesus, The strife will not be long;
Lift high his royal banner, It must not suffer loss;
Forth to the mighty conflict In this his glorious day:
The arm of flesh will fail you, Ye dare not trust your own;
This day the noise of battle, The next the victor's song:
From victory unto victory His army he shall lead,
Ye that are men now serve him Against unnumbered foes;
Put on the gospel armor, Each piece put on with prayer;
To him that overcometh A crown of life shall be;
Till every foe is vanquished, And Christ is Lord indeed.
Let courage rise with danger, And strength to strength oppose.
Where duty calls, or danger, Be never wanting there.
He with the King of Glory Shall reign eternally.

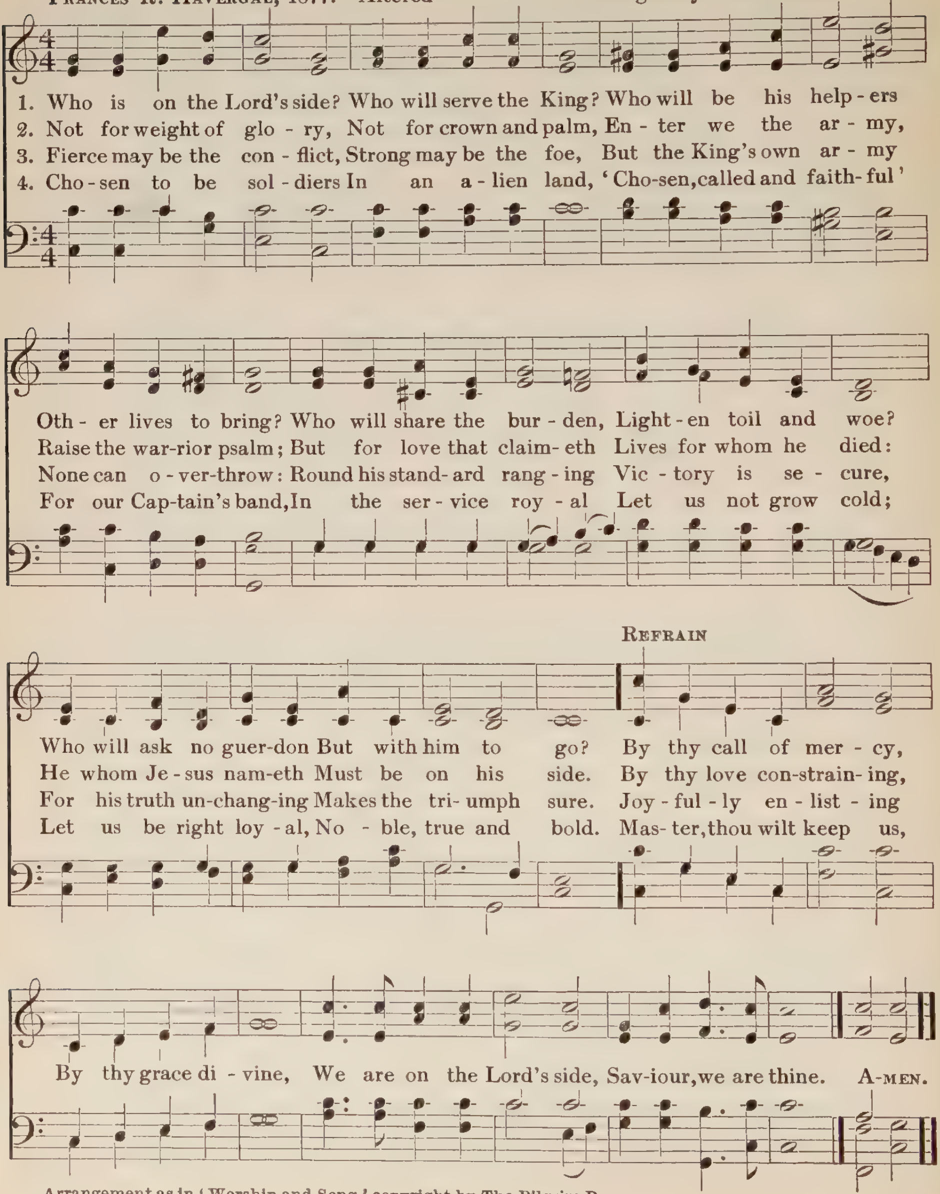
Who is On the Lord's Side

(ARMAGEDDON. 6,5,6,5,D. With Refrain)

Frances R. Havergal, 1877. Altered

Arranged by John Goss, 1871



1. Who is on the Lord's side? Who will serve the King? Who will be his help-ers
2. Not for weight of glo-ry, Not for crown and palm, En-ter we the ar-my,
3. Fierce may be the con-flict, Strong may be the foe, But the King's own ar-my
4. Cho-sen to be sol-diers In an a-lien land, 'Cho-sen, called and faith-ful'
Oth-er lives to bring? Who will share the bur-den, Light-en toil and woe?
Raise the war-rior psalm; But for love that claim-eth Lives for whom he died:
None can o-ver-throw: Round his stand-ard rang-ing Vic-tory is se-cure,
For our Cap-tain's band, In the ser-vice roy-al Let us not grow cold;
Who will ask no guer-don But with him to go?
He whom Je-sus nam-eth Must be on his side.
For his truth un-chang-ing Makes the tri-umph sure.
Let us be right loy-al, No-ble, true and bold.
Refrain
By thy call of mer-cy,
By thy love con-strain-ing,
Joy-ful-ly en-list-ing
Mas-ter, thou wilt keep us,
By thy grace di-vine, We are on the Lord's side, Sav-iour, we are thine. A-men.

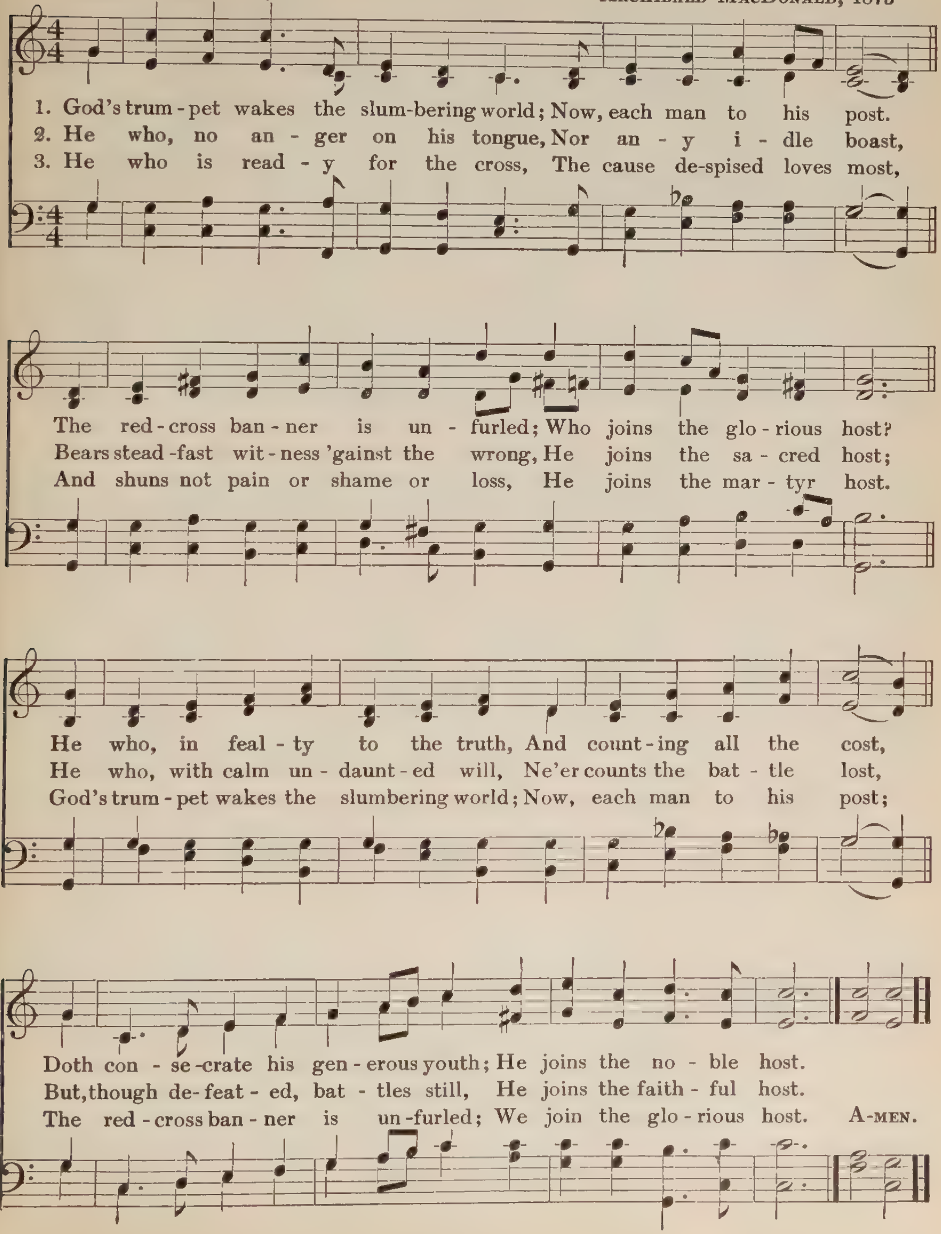
203 God's Trumpet Wakes the Slumbering World

(WARRIOR. C. M. D.)

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1864 ARCHIBALD MACDONALD, 1875



1. God's trum-pet wakes the slum-bering world; Now, each man to his post.
2. He who, no an-ger on his tongue, Nor an-y i-dle boast,
3. He who is read-y for the cross, The cause de-spised loves most,
The red-cross ban-ner is un-furled; Who joins the glo-rious host?
Bears stead-fast wit-ness 'gainst the wrong, He joins the sa-cred host;
And shuns not pain or shame or loss, He joins the mar-tyr host.
He who, in feal-ty to the truth, And count-ing all the cost,
He who, with calm un-daunt-ed will, Ne'er counts the bat-tle lost,
God's trum-pet wakes the slumbering world; Now, each man to his post;
Doth con-se-crate his gen-erous youth; He joins the no-ble host.
But, though de-feat-ed, bat-tles still, He joins the faith-ful host.
The red-cross ban-ner is un-furled; We join the glo-rious host.

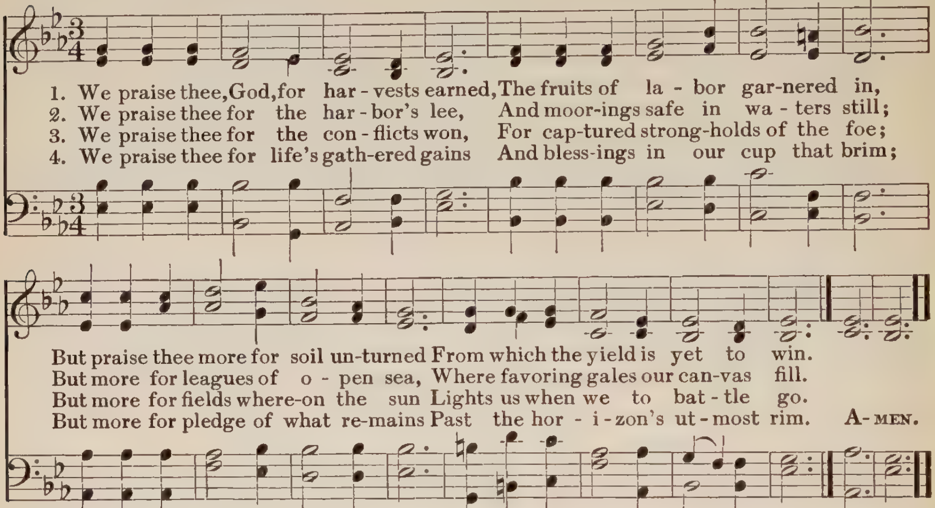
206 We Praise Thee, God, for Harvests Earned

(SAXBY. L. M.)

JOHN C. ADAMS, 1849–

TIMOTHY R. MATTHEWS, 1883



1. We praise thee, God, for harvests earned, The fruits of labor garnered in,
2. We praise thee for the harbor's lee, And moorings safe in waters still;
3. We praise thee for the conflicts won, For captured strongholds of the foe;
4. We praise thee for life's gathered gains And blessings in our cup that brim;
But praise thee more for soil unturned From which the yield is yet to win.
But more for leagues of open sea, Where favoring gales our canvas fill.
But more for fields whereon the sun Lights us when we to battle go.
But more for pledge of what remains Past the horizon's utmost rim.

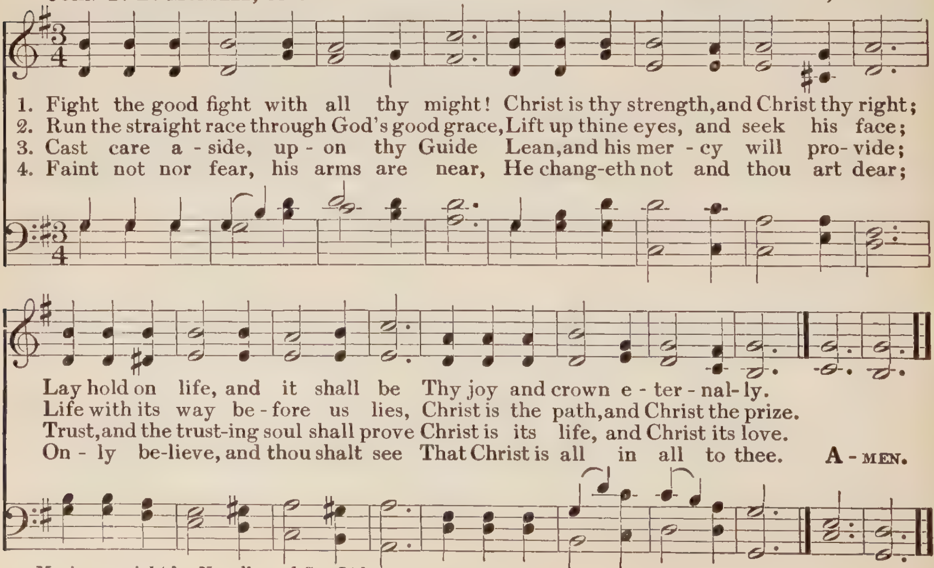
207 Fight the Good Fight with All Thy Might

(PENTECOST. L. M.)

JOHN S. B. MONSELL, 1863

WILLIAM BOYD, 1868



1. Fight the good fight with all thy might! Christ is thy strength, and Christ thy right;
2. Run the straight race through God's good grace, Lift up thine eyes, and seek his face;
3. Cast care aside, upon thy Guide Lean, and his mercy will provide;
4. Faint not nor fear, his arms are near, He changeth not and thou art dear;
Lay hold on life, and it shall be Thy joy and crown eternally.
Life with its way before us lies, Christ is the path, and Christ the prize.
Trust, and the trusting soul shall prove Christ is its life, and Christ its love.

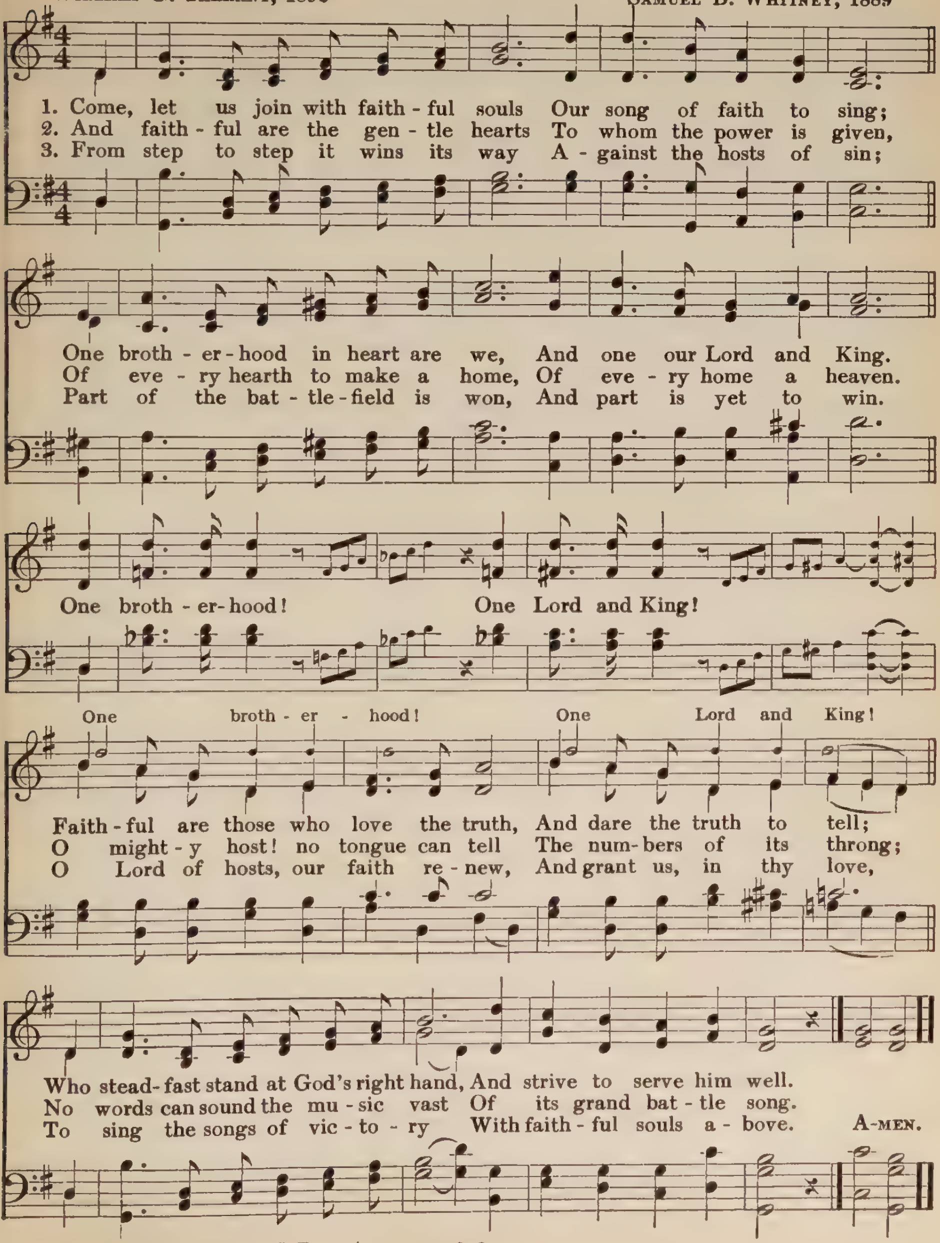
241 Come, Let Us Join with Faithful Souls

(CRUSADER. C. M. D.)

William G. Tarrant, 1892

Samuel B. Whitney, 1889



1. Come, let us join with faith-ful souls Our song of faith to sing;
2. And faith-ful are the gen-tle hearts To whom the power is given,
3. From step to step it wins its way A-gainst the hosts of sin;
One broth-er-hood in heart are we, And one our Lord and King.
Of eve-ry hearth to make a home, Of eve-ry home a heaven.
Part of the bat-tle-field is won, And part is yet to win.
One broth-er-hood! One Lord and King!
One broth-er-hood! One Lord and King!
Faith-ful are those who love the truth, And dare the truth to tell;
O might-y host! no tongue can tell The num-bers of its throng;
O Lord of hosts, our faith re-new, And grant us, in thy love,
Who stead-fast stand at God's right hand, And strive to serve him well.
No words can sound the mu-sic vast Of its grand bat-tle song.
To sing the songs of vic-to-ry With faith-ful souls a-bove.

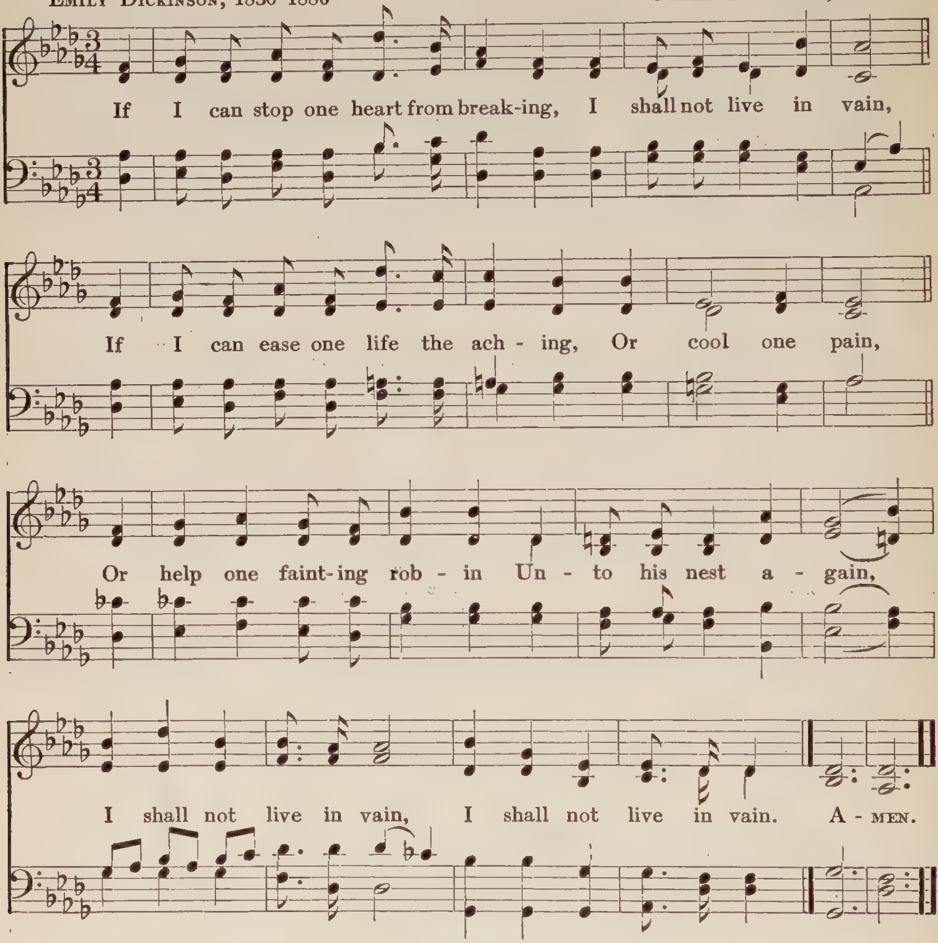
242 If I Can Stop One Heart from Breaking

(CHARITY. Irregular)

EMILY DICKINSON, 1830–1886 PETER C. LUTKIN, 1927



If I can stop one heart from break-ing, I shall not live in vain,
If I can ease one life the ach - ing, Or cool one pain,
Or help one faint-ing rob - in Un - to his nest a - gain,
I shall not live in vain, I shall not live in vain. A - MEN.

Optional stanza

If I can keep one spirit singing,
I shall not live in vain,
Or send one twinkling vision winging
Through mist and rain,
Or lead one groping pilgrim
Into the light again,
I shall not live in vain.

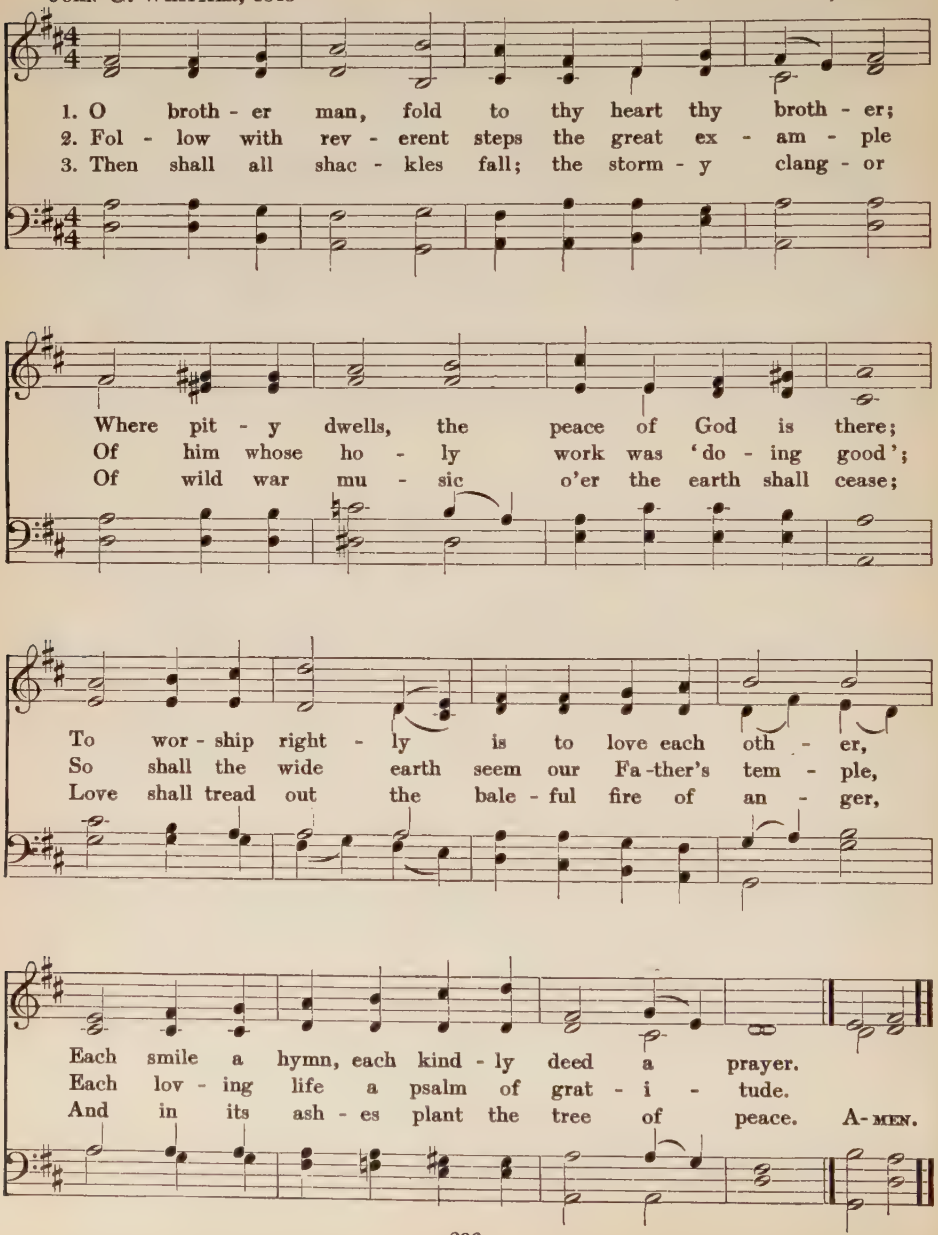
244 O Brother Man, Fold to Thy Heart

(STRENGTH AND STAY. 11, 10, 11, 10)

JOHN G. WHITTIER, 1848 JOHN B. DYKES, 1875



1. O brother man, fold to thy heart thy brother;
Where pity dwells, the peace of God is there;
To worship rightly is to love each other,
Each smile a hymn, each kindly deed a prayer.
2. Follow with reverent steps the great example
Of him whose holy work was 'doing good';
So shall the wide earth seem our Father's temple,
Each loving life a psalm of gratitude.
3. Then shall all shackles fall; the stormy clangor
Of wild war music o'er the earth shall cease;
Love shall tread out the baleful fire of anger,
And in its ashes plant the tree of peace.

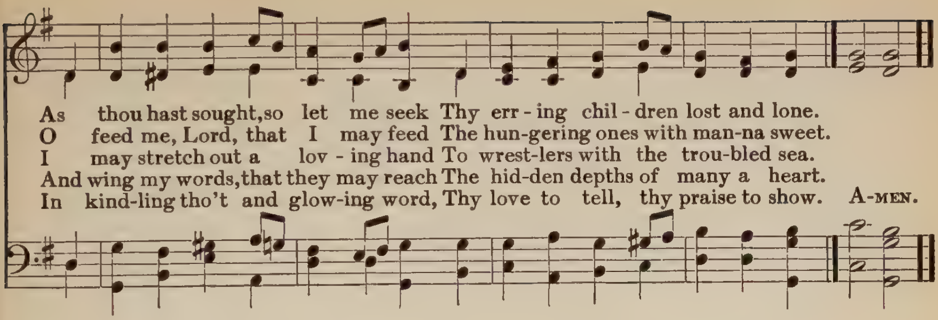
2. O lead me, Lord, that I may lead The wandering and the waver-ing feet;
3. O strengthen me, that while I stand Firm on the rock, and strong in thee,
4. O teach me, Lord, that I may teach The pre-cious things thou dost im - part;
5. O fill me with thy ful - ness, Lord, Un - til my ver - y heart o'er-flow



As thou hast sought, so let me seek Thy err-ing chil-dren lost and lone.
O feed me, Lord, that I may feed The hun-gering ones with man-na sweet.
I may stretch out a lov-ing hand To wrest-lers with the trou-bled sea.
And wing my words, that they may reach The hid-den depths of many a heart.

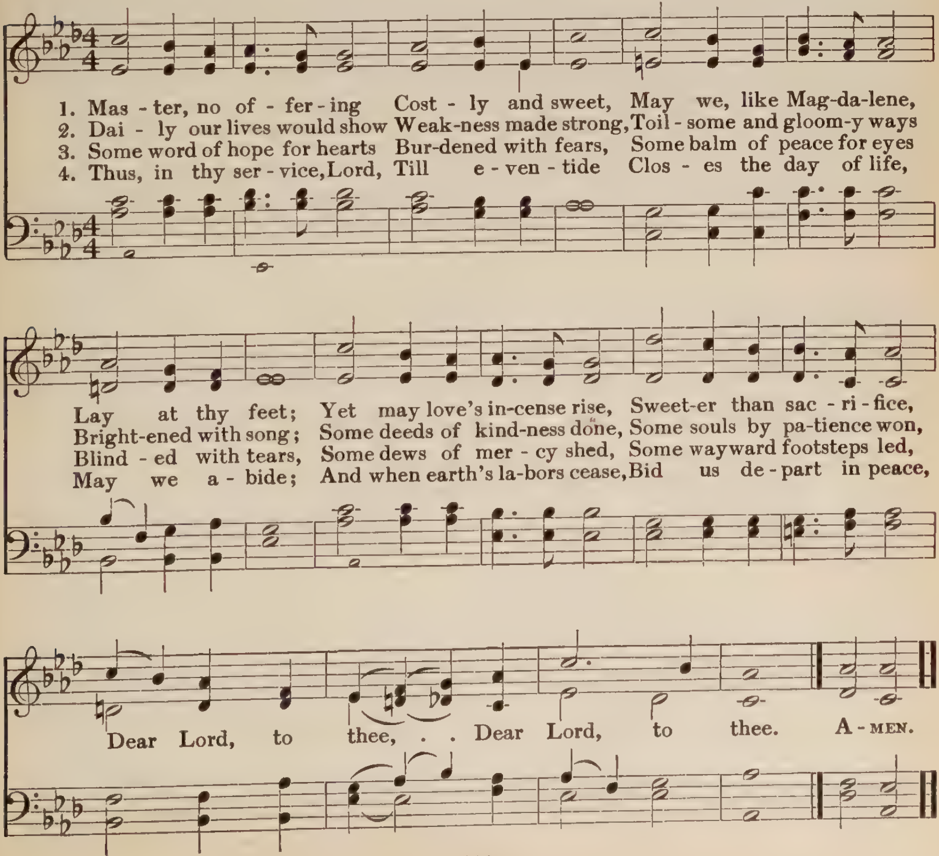
252 Master, No Offering Costly and Sweet

(LOVE'S OFFERING. 6, 4, 6, 4, 6, 6, 4)

Edwin P. Parker, 1888 — Edwin P. Parker, 1888

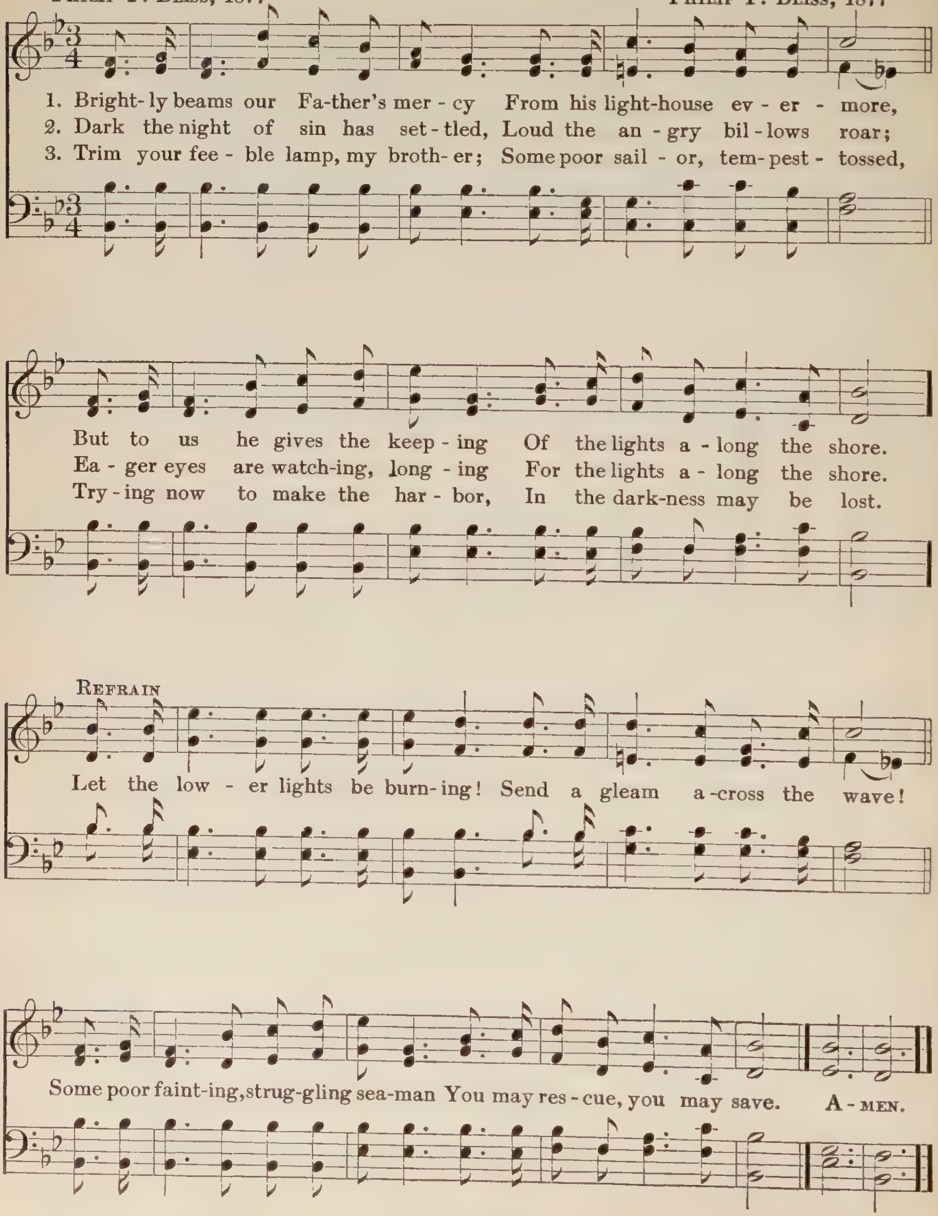


1. Mas-ter, no of-fer-ing Cost-ly and sweet, May we, like Mag-da-lene, Lay at thy feet; Yet may love's in-cense rise, Sweet-er than sac-ri-fice,
2. Dai-ly our lives would show Weak-ness made strong, Toil-some and gloom-y ways Bright-ened with song; Some deeds of kind-ness done, Some souls by pa-tience won,
3. Some word of hope for hearts Bur-dened with fears, Some balm of peace for eyes Blind-ed with tears, Some dews of mer-cy shed, Some wayward footsteps led,
4. Thus, in thy ser-vice, Lord, Till e-ven-tide Clos-es the day of life, May we a-bide; And when earth's la-bors cease, Bid us de-part in peace,
Dear Lord, to thee, . . . Dear Lord, to thee. A-men.

253 Brightly Beams Our Father's Mercy

(LOWER LIGHTS. 8, 7, 8, 7. With Refrain)

Philip P. Bliss, 1877 Philip P. Bliss, 1877



1. Bright-ly beams our Fa-ther's mer-cy From his light-house ev-er-more,
2. Dark the night of sin has set-tled, Loud the an-gry bil-lows roar;
3. Trim your fee-ble lamp, my broth-er; Some poor sail-or, tem-pest-tossed,
But to us he gives the keep-ing Of the lights a-long the shore.
Ea-ger eyes are watch-ing, long-ing For the lights a-long the shore.
Try-ing now to make the har-bor, In the dark-ness may be lost.

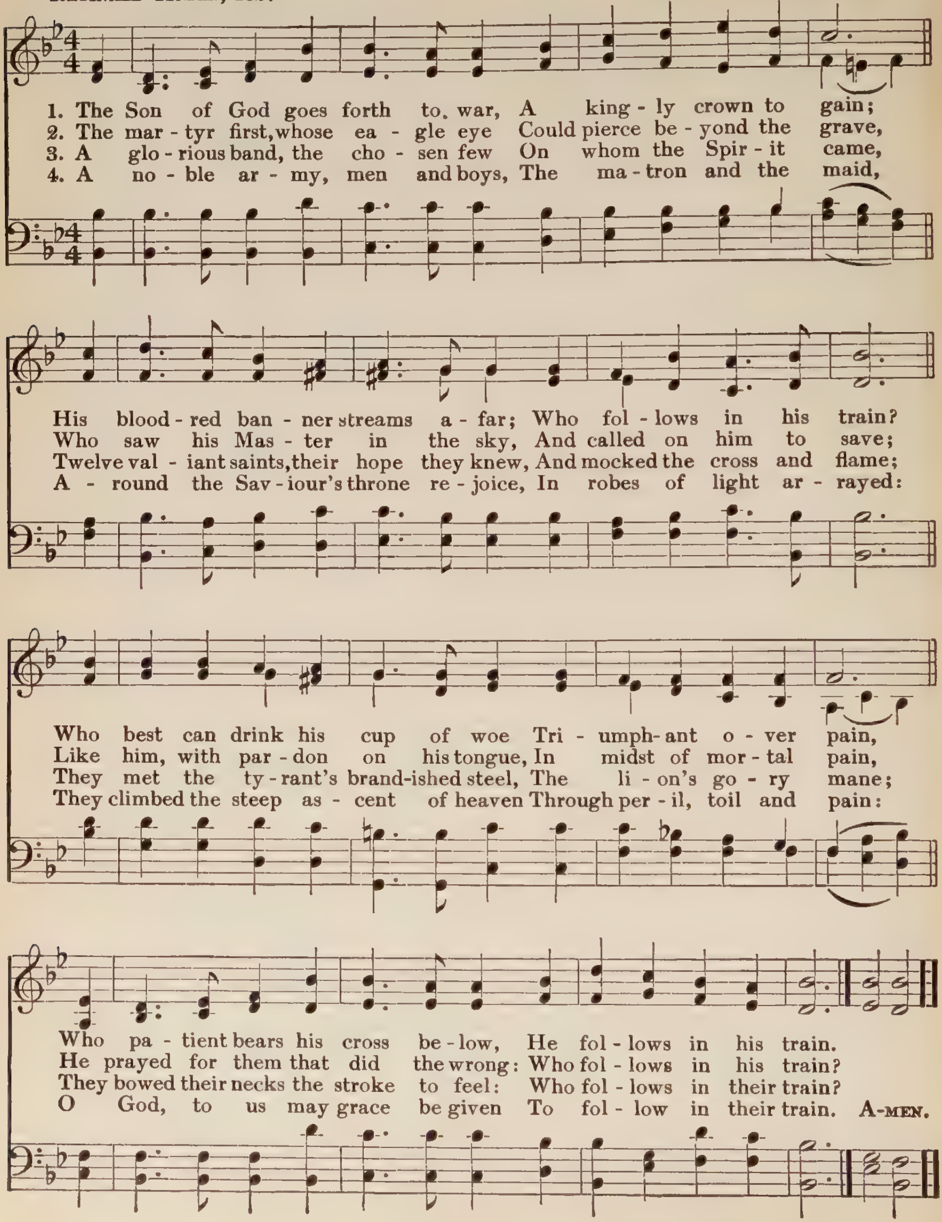
(ALL SAINTS NEW. C. M. D.)

REGINALD HEBER, 1827 HENRY S. CUTLER, 1872



1. The Son of God goes forth to war, A kingly crown to gain;
2. The martyr first, whose eagle eye Could pierce beyond the grave,
3. A glorious band, the chosen few On whom the Spirit came,
4. A noble army, men and boys, The matron and the maid,
His blood-red banner streams afar; Who follows in his train?
Who saw his Master in the sky, And called on him to save;
Twelve valiant saints, their hope they knew, And mocked the cross and flame;
Around the Saviour's throne rejoice, In robes of light arrayed:
Who best can drink his cup of woe Triumphant over pain,
Like him, with pardon on his tongue, In midst of mortal pain,
They met the tyrant's brandished steel, The lion's gory mane;
They climbed the steep ascent of heaven Through peril, toil and pain:
Who patient bears his cross below, He follows in his train.
He prayed for them that did the wrong: Who follows in his train?
They bowed their necks the stroke to feel: Who follows in their train?
O God, to us may grace be given To follow in their train. A-MEN.

270 O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand

Duke Street, No. 278

1 O God, beneath thy guiding hand
Our exiled fathers crossed the sea;
And when they trod the wintry strand,
With prayer and psalm they worshipped thee.

2 Thou heard'st, well pleased, the song, the prayer:
Thy blessing came; and still its power
Shall onward, through all ages, bear
The memory of that holy hour.

3 Laws, freedom, truth and faith in God
Came with those exiles o'er the waves;
And, where their pilgrim feet have trod,
The God they trusted guards their graves.

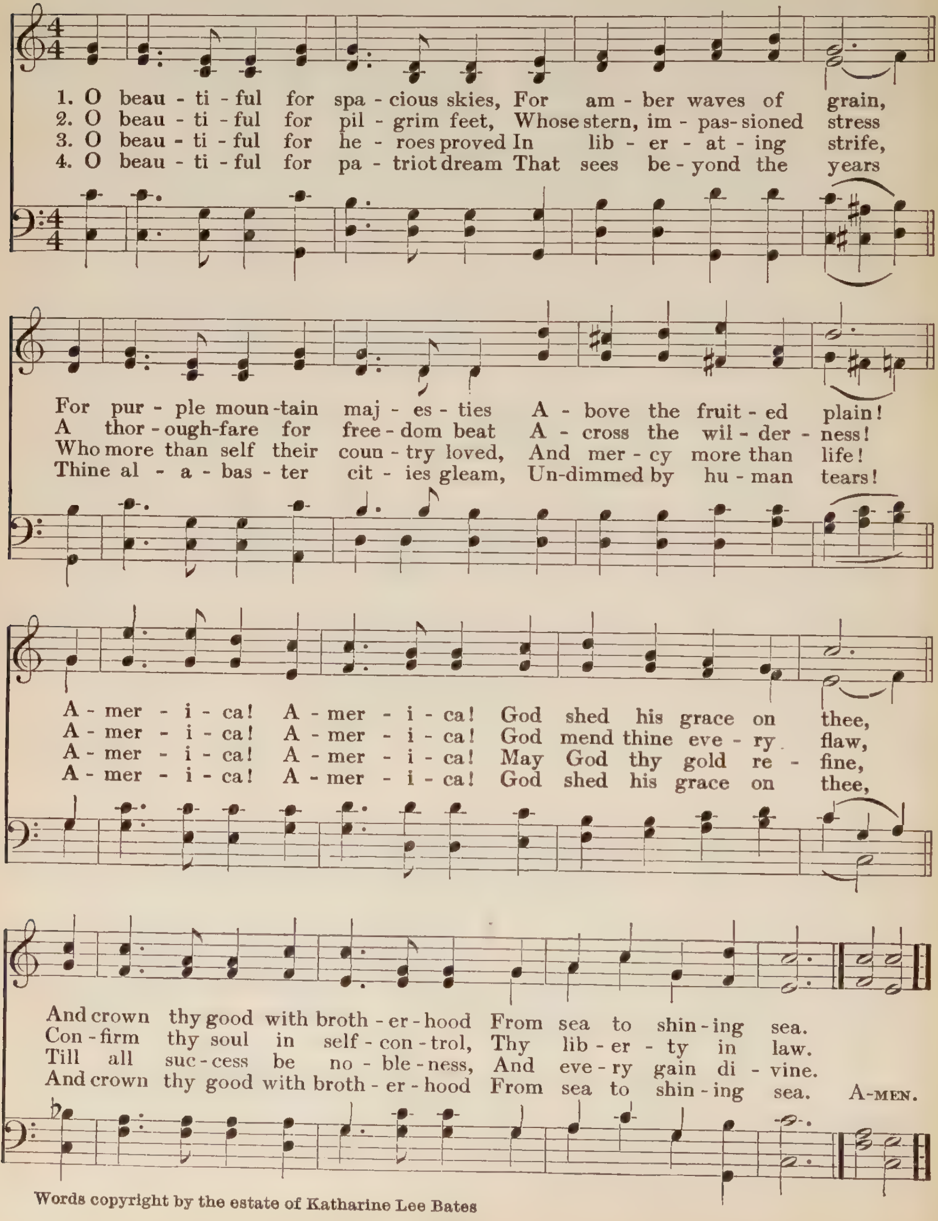
4 And here thy name, O God of love,
Their children's children shall adore,
Till these eternal hills remove,
And spring adorns the earth no more.

Leonard Bacon, 1833

271 O Beautiful for Spacious Skies

(MATERNA. C. M. D.)

KATHARINE LEE BATES, 1893, 1904 SAMUEL A. WARD, 1882



1. O beau - ti - ful for spa - cious skies, For am - ber waves of grain,
2. O beau - ti - ful for pil - grim feet, Whose stern, im - pas - sioned stress
3. O beau - ti - ful for he - roes proved In lib - er - at - ing strife,
4. O beau - ti - ful for pa - triot dream That sees be - yond the years
For pur - ple moun - tain maj - es - ties A - bove the fruit - ed plain!
A thor - ough-fare for free - dom beat A - cross the wil - der - ness!
Who more than self their coun - try loved, And mer - cy more than life!
Thine al - a - bas - ter cit - ies gleam, Un-dimmed by hu - man tears!
A - mer - i - ca! A - mer - i - ca! God shed his grace on thee,
A - mer - i - ca! A - mer - i - ca! God mend thine eve - ry flaw,
A - mer - i - ca! A - mer - i - ca! May God thy gold re - fine,
A - mer - i - ca! A - mer - i - ca! God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with broth - er - hood From sea to shin - ing sea.
Con - firm thy soul in self - con - trol, Thy lib - er - ty in law.

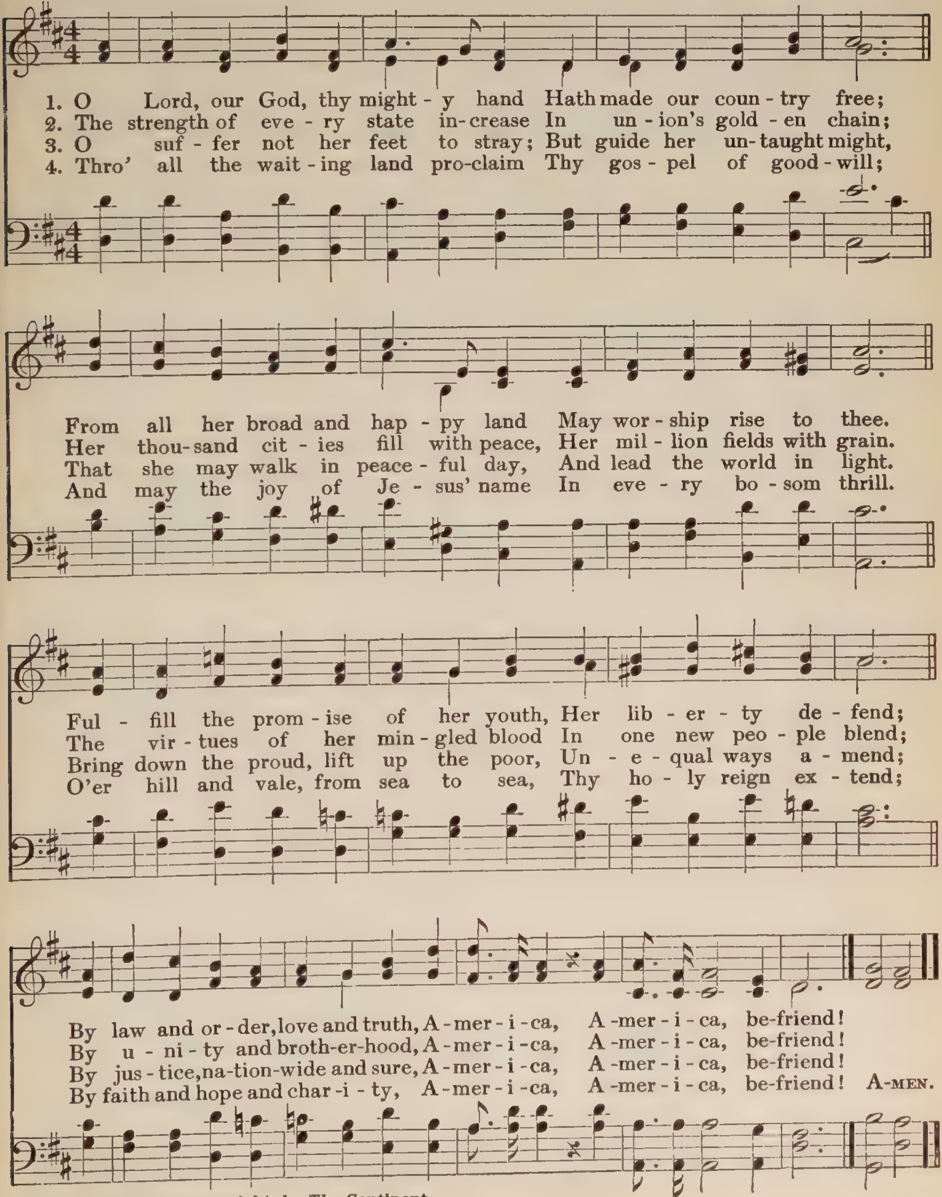
272 O Lord, Our God, Thy Mighty Hand

(REPUBLIC. C. M. D.)

HENRY VAN DYKE, 1912 WILLIAM PIERSON MERRILL, 1912



1. O Lord, our God, thy might-y hand Hath made our coun-try free;
2. The strength of eve-ry state in-crease In un-ion's gold-en chain;
3. O suf-fer not her feet to stray; But guide her un-taught might,
4. Thro' all the wait-ing land pro-claim Thy gos-pel of good-will;
From all her broad and hap-py land May wor-ship rise to thee.
Her thou-sand cit-ies fill with peace, Her mil-lion fields with grain.
That she may walk in peace-ful day, And lead the world in light.
And may the joy of Je-sus' name In eve-ry bo-som thrill.
Ful-fill the prom-ise of her youth, Her lib-er-ty de-fend;
The vir-tues of her min-gled blood In one new peo-ple blend;
Bring down the proud, lift up the poor, Un-e-qual ways a-mend;
O'er hill and vale, from sea to sea, Thy ho-ly reign ex-tend;
By law and or-der, love and truth, A-mer-i-ca, A-mer-i-ca, be-friend!
By u-ni-ty and broth-er-hood, A-mer-i-ca, A-mer-i-ca, be-friend!
By jus-tice, na-tion-wide and sure, A-mer-i-ca, A-mer-i-ca, be-friend!
By faith and hope and char-i-ty, A-mer-i-ca, A-mer-i-ca, be-friend! A-MEN.

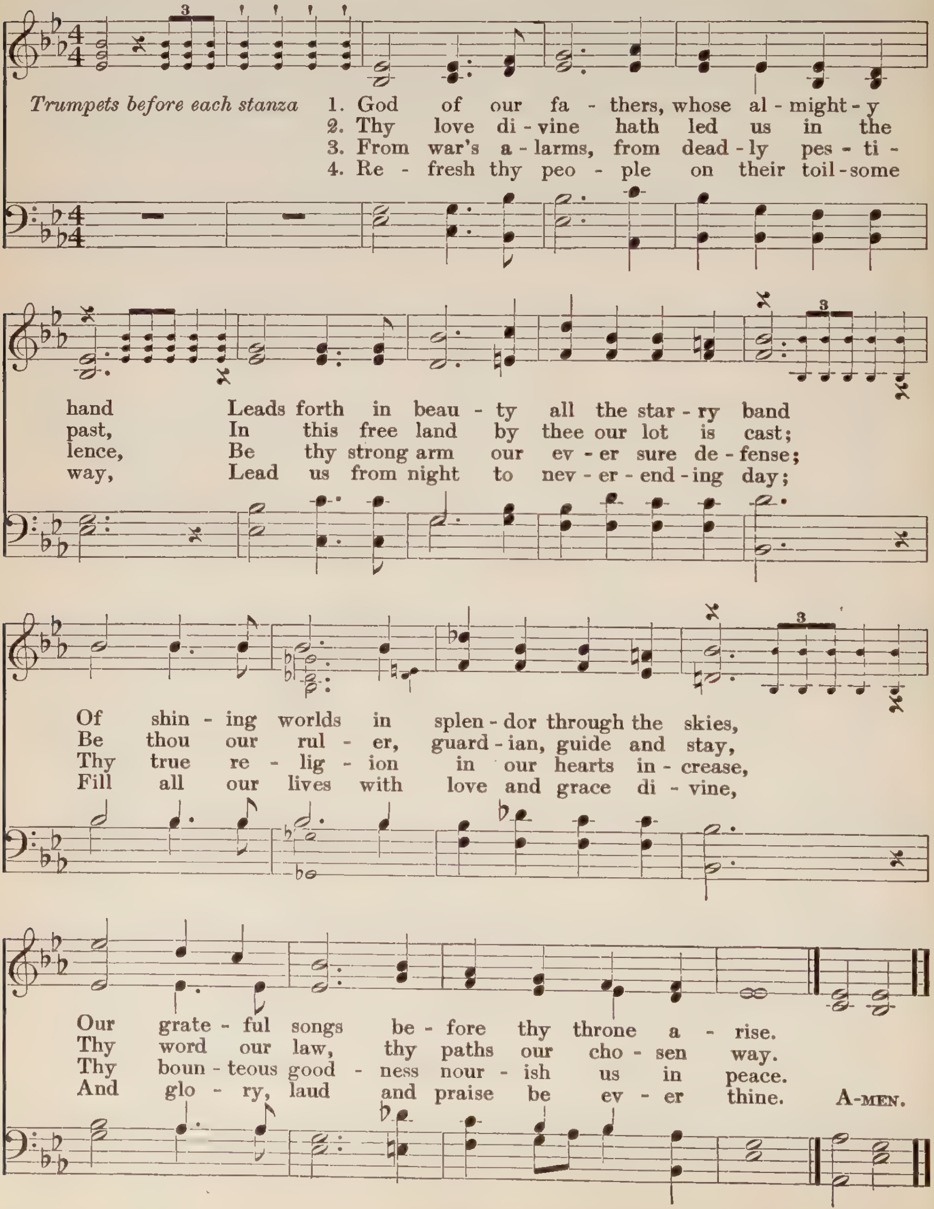
273 God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand

(NATIONAL HYMN. 10, 10, 10, 10)

Daniel C. Roberts, 1876 George W. Warren, 1892



Trumpets before each stanza
1. God of our fa - thers, whose al - might - y hand
2. Thy love di - vine hath led us in the past,
3. From war's a - larms, from dead - ly pes - ti - lence,
4. Re - fresh thy peo - ple on their toil - some way,
Leads forth in beau - ty all the star - ry band
In this free land by thee our lot is cast;
Be thy strong arm our ev - er sure de - fense;
Lead us from night to nev - er - end - ing day;
Of shin - ing worlds in splen - dor through the skies,
Be thou our rul - er, guard - ian, guide and stay,
Thy true re - lig - ion in our hearts in - crease,
Fill all our lives with love and grace di - vine,
Our grate - ful songs be - fore thy throne a - rise.
Thy word our law, thy paths our cho - sen way.

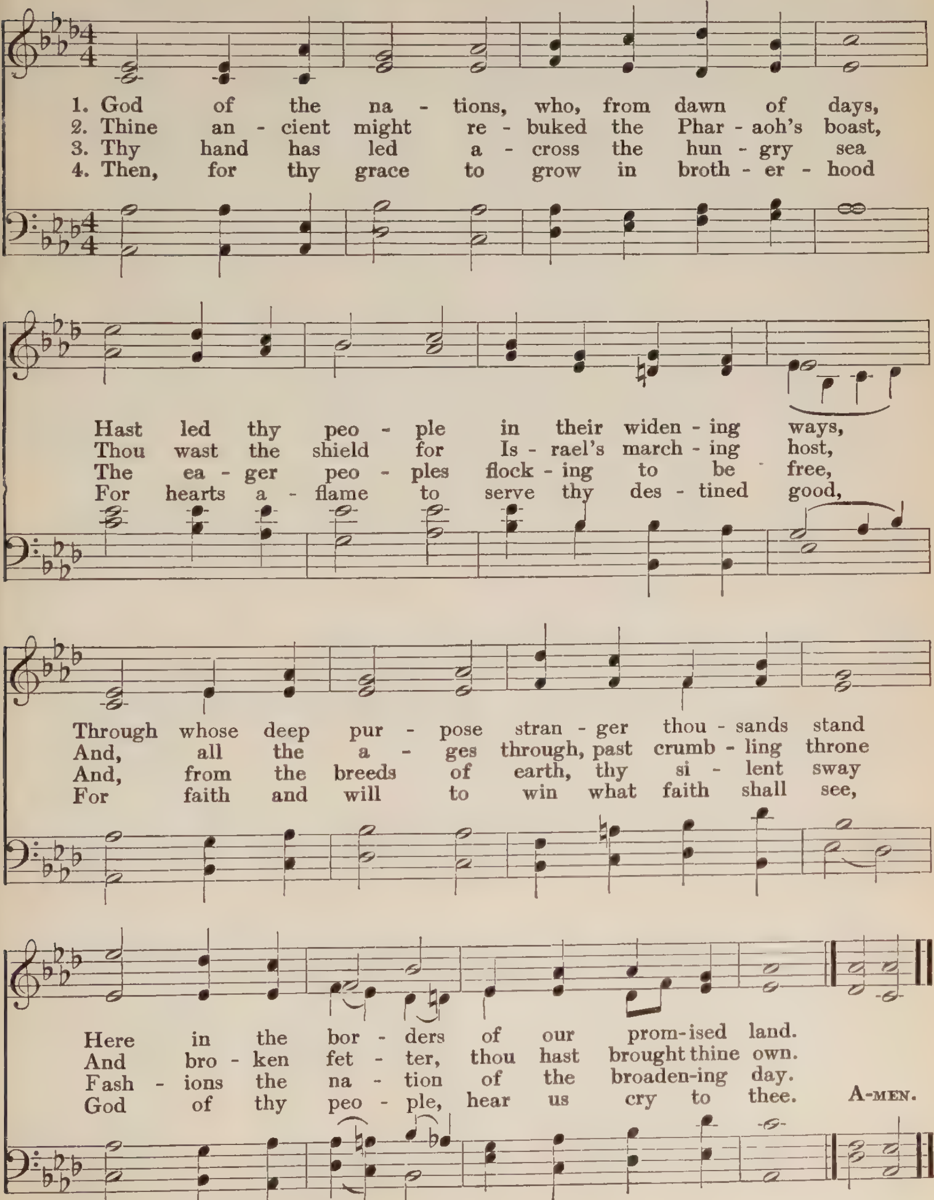
274 God of the Nations, Who from Dawn

(SUMMERFORD. 10, 10, 10, 10)

W. RUSSELL BOWIE, 1913

JOHN T. GRIMLEY, 1887



1. God of the nations, who, from dawn of days,
Hast led thy people in their widening ways,
Through whose deep purpose stranger thousands stand
Here in the borders of our promised land.
2. Thine ancient might rebuked the Pharaoh's boast,
Thou wast the shield for Israel's marching host,
And, all the ages through, past crumbling throne
And broken fetter, thou hast brought thine own.
3. Thy hand has led across the hungry sea
The eager peoples flocking to be free,
And, from the breeds of earth, thy silent sway
Fashions the nation of the broadening day.
4. Then, for thy grace to grow in brotherhood
For hearts aflame to serve thy destined good,
For faith and will to win what faith shall see,
God of thy people, hear us cry to thee.

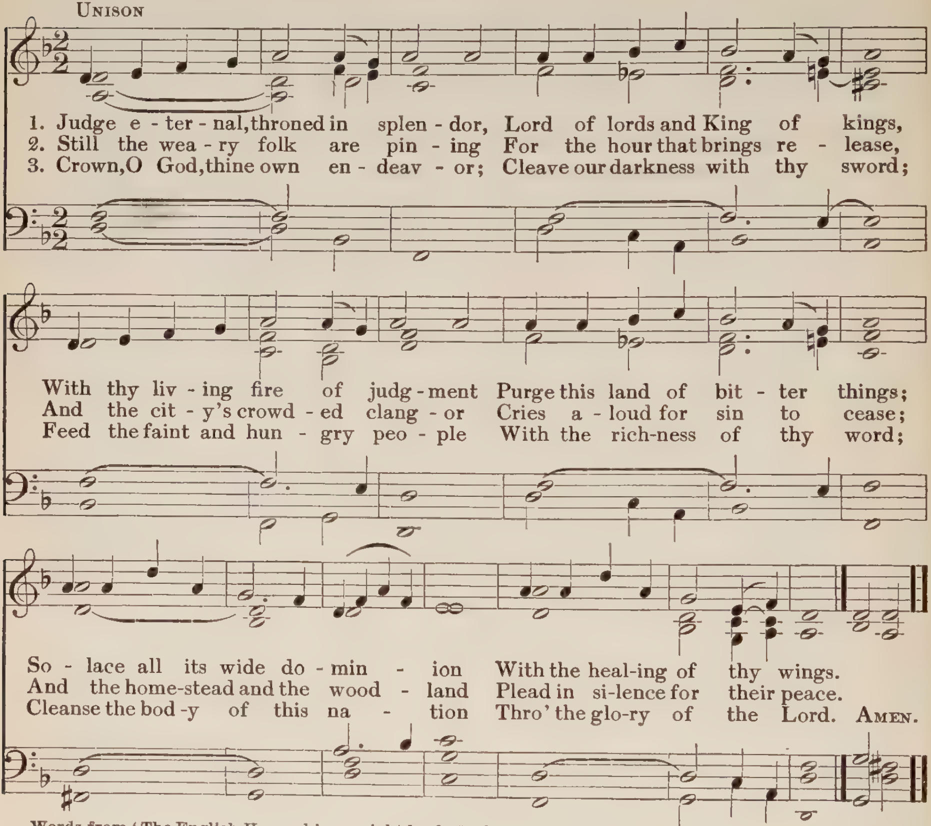
277 Judge Eternal, Throned in Splendor

(PICARDY. 8, 7, 8, 7, 8, 7)

Henry Scott Holland, 1902 French Folk Song



Unison
1. Judge e - ter - nal, throned in splen - dor, Lord of lords and King of kings,
2. Still the wea - ry folk are pin - ing For the hour that brings re - lease,
3. Crown, O God, thine own en - deav - or; Cleave our darkness with thy sword;
With thy liv - ing fire of judg - ment Purge this land of bit - ter things;
And the cit - y's crowd - ed clang - or Cries a - loud for sin to cease;
Feed the faint and hun - gry peo - ple With the rich-ness of thy word;
So - lace all its wide do - min - ion With the heal-ing of thy wings.

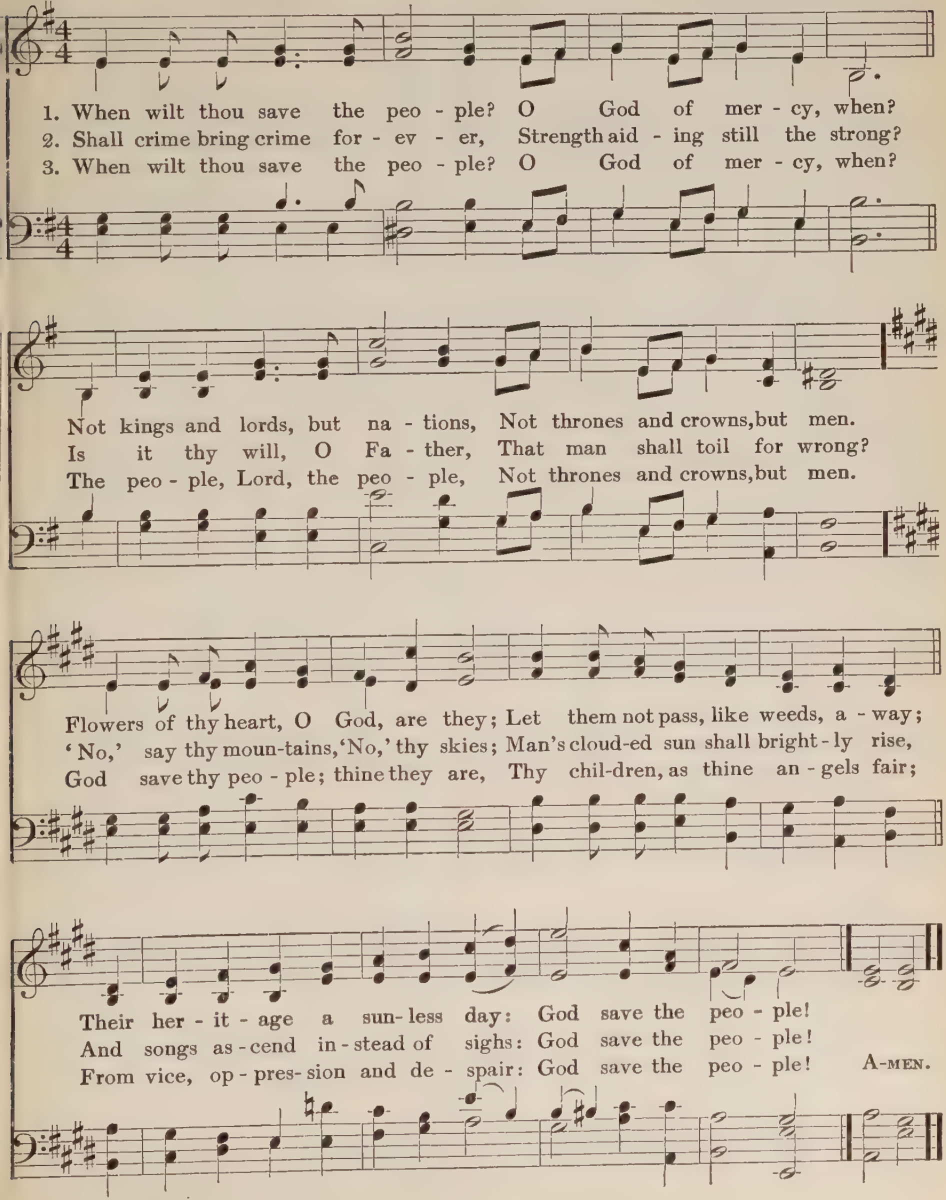
When Wilt Thou Save the People

(COMMONWEALTH. 7, 6, 7, 6, 8, 8, 8, 5)

Ebenezer Elliott, 1850 — Josiah Booth, 1888



1. When wilt thou save the people? O God of mercy, when?
Not kings and lords, but nations, Not thrones and crowns, but men.
Flowers of thy heart, O God, are they; Let them not pass, like weeds, away;
Their heritage a sunless day: God save the people!
2. Shall crime bring crime for ever, Strength aiding still the strong?
Is it thy will, O Father, That man shall toil for wrong?
'No,' say thy mountains, 'No,' thy skies; Man's clouded sun shall brightly rise,
And songs ascend instead of sighs: God save the people!
3. When wilt thou save the people? O God of mercy, when?
The people, Lord, the people, Not thrones and crowns, but men.
God save thy people; thine they are, Thy children, as thine angels fair;
From vice, oppression, and despair: God save the people!

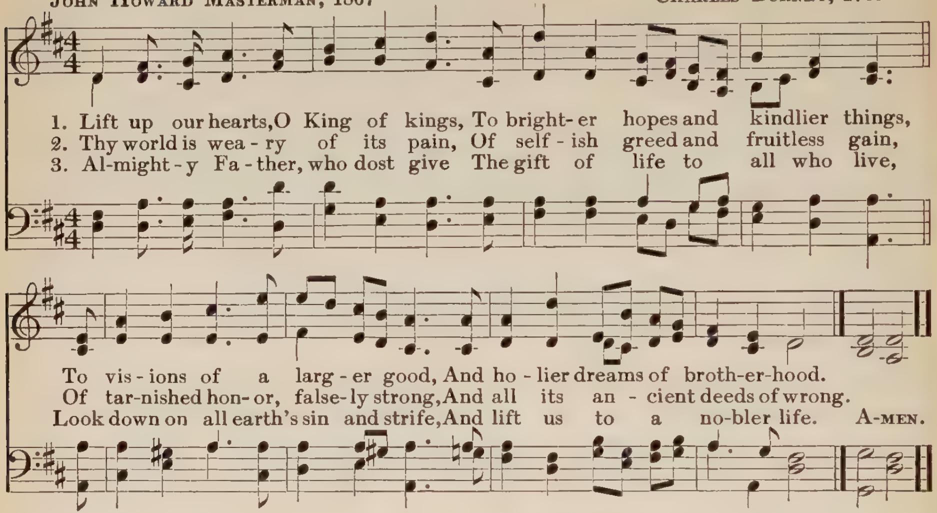
295 Lift Up Our Hearts, O King of Kings

(TRURO. L.M.)

John Howard Masterman, 1867–

Charles Burney, 1769



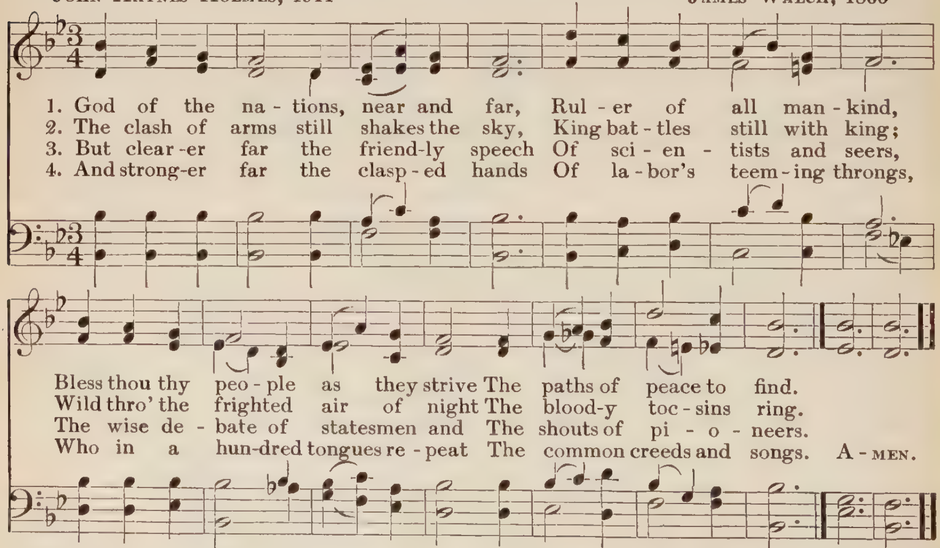
1. Lift up our hearts, O King of kings, To bright-er hopes and kindlier things,
2. Thy world is wea-ry of its pain, Of self-ish greed and fruitless gain,
3. Al-might-y Fa-ther, who dost give The gift of life to all who live,
To vis-ions of a larg-er good, And ho-lier dreams of broth-er-hood.
Of tar-nished hon-or, false-ly strong, And all its an-cient deeds of wrong.
Look down on all earth's sin and strife, And lift us to a no-bler life. A-men.

296 God of the Nations, Near and Far

(SAWLEY. C.M.)

John Haynes Holmes, 1911

James Walch, 1860



1. God of the na-tions, near and far, Rul-er of all man-kind,
2. The clash of arms still shakes the sky, King bat-tles still with king;
3. But clear-er far the friend-ly speech Of sci-en-tists and seers,
4. And strong-er far the clasp-ed hands Of la-bor's teem-ing throngs,
Bless thou thy peo-ple as they strive The paths of peace to find.
Wild thro' the frighted air of night The blood-y toc-sins ring.
The wise de-bate of statesmen and The shouts of pi-o-neers.
Who in a hun-dred tongues re-peat The common creeds and songs. A-men.

5 From shore to shore the peoples call
In loud and sweet acclaim,
The gloom of land and sea is lit
With Pentecostal flame.

6 O Father, from the curse of war
We pray thee give release,
And speed, O speed the blessed day
Of justice, love, and peace.

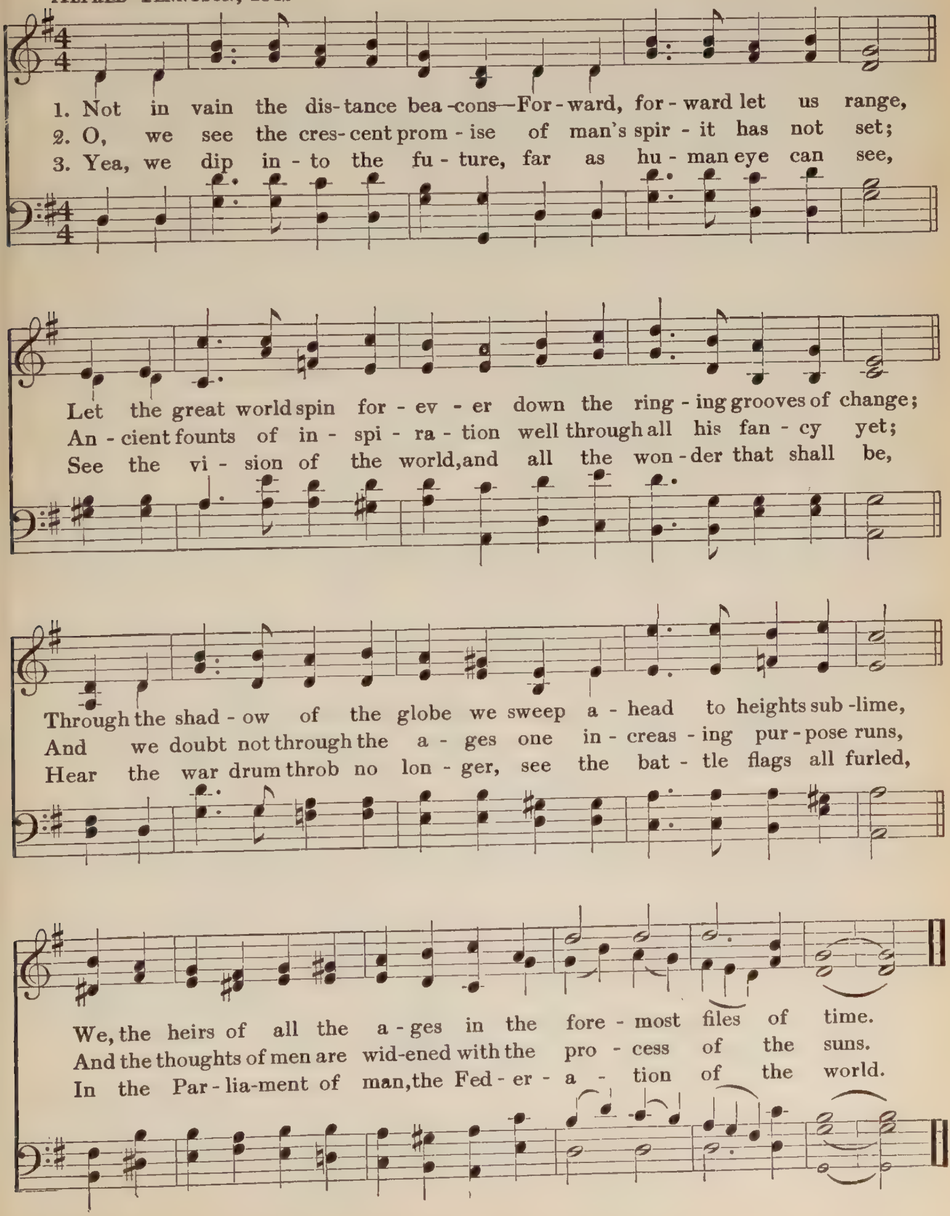
297 Not in Vain the Distance Beacons

(MT. HOLYOKE. 15, 15, 15, 15)

Alfred Tennyson, 1842

M. L. Wostenholm, 1910



1. Not in vain the dis-tance bea-cons—For-ward, for-ward let us range,
2. O, we see the cres-cent prom-ise of man's spir-it has not set;
3. Yea, we dip in-to the fu-ture, far as hu-man eye can see,
Let the great world spin for-ev-er down the ring-ing grooves of change;
An-cient founts of in-spi-ra-tion well through all his fan-cy yet;
See the vi-sion of the world, and all the won-der that shall be,
Through the shad-ow of the globe we sweep a-head to heights sub-lime,
And we doubt not through the a-ges one in-creas-ing pur-pose runs,
Hear the war drum throb no lon-ger, see the bat-tle flags all furled,
We, the heirs of all the a-ges in the fore-most files of time.
And the thoughts of men are wid-ened with the pro-cess of the suns.
In the Par-lia-ment of man, the Fed-er-a-tion of the world.

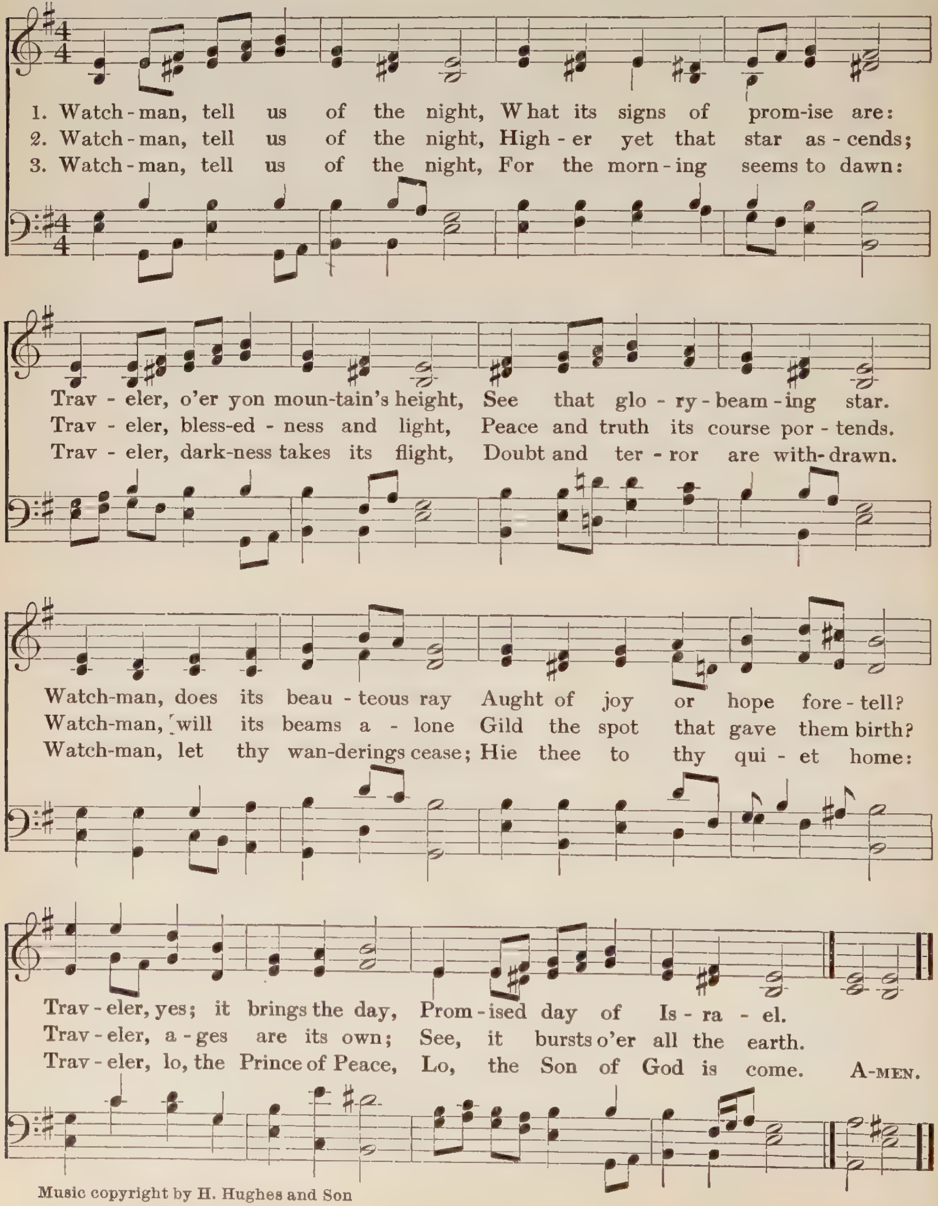
Watchman, Tell Us of the Night

(ABERYSTWYTH. 7,7,7,7,D.)

John Bowring, 1825

Joseph Parry, 1879



1. Watch-man, tell us of the night, What its signs of prom-ise are:
2. Watch-man, tell us of the night, High-er yet that star as-cends;
3. Watch-man, tell us of the night, For the morn-ing seems to dawn:
Trav-eler, o'er yon moun-tain's height, See that glo-ry-beam-ing star.
Trav-eler, bless-ed-ness and light, Peace and truth its course por-tends.
Trav-eler, dark-ness takes its flight, Doubt and ter-ror are with-drawn.
Watch-man, does its beau-teous ray Aught of joy or hope fore-tell?
Watch-man, will its beams a-lone Gild the spot that gave them birth?
Watch-man, let thy wan-derings cease; Hie thee to thy qui-et home:
Trav-eler, yes; it brings the day, Prom-ised day of Is-ra-el.
Trav-eler, a-ges are its own; See, it bursts o'er all the earth.
Trav-eler, lo, the Prince of Peace, Lo, the Son of God is come.

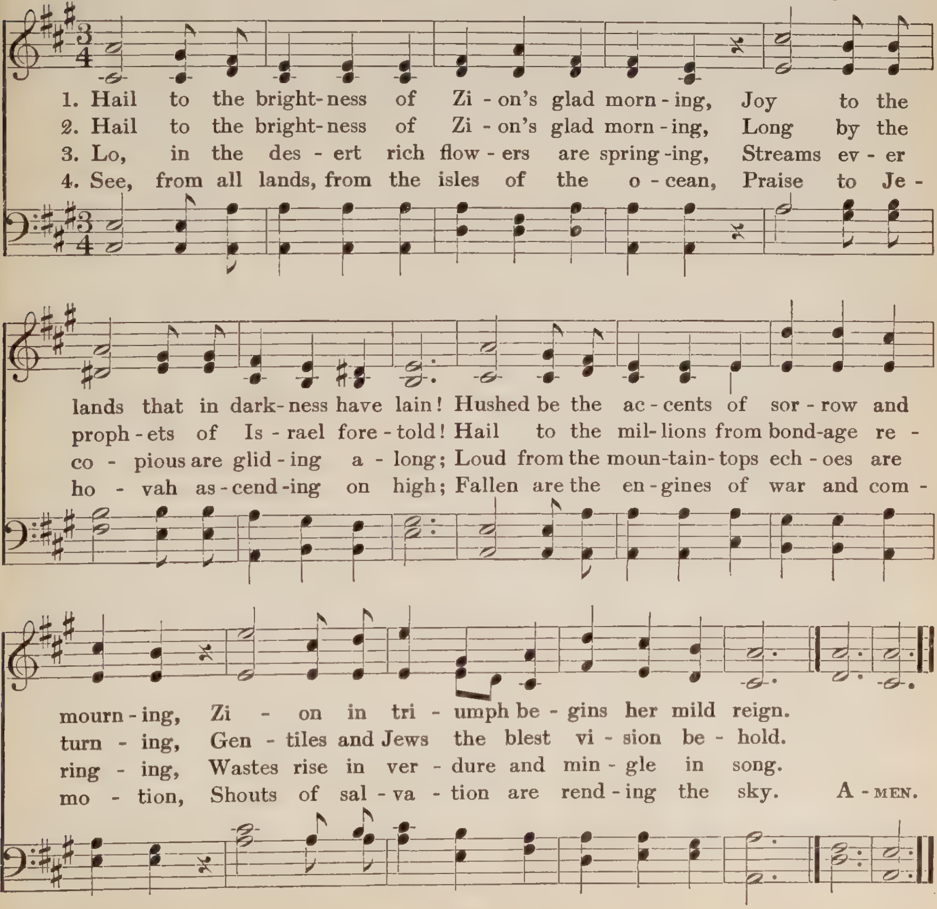
303 Hail to the Brightness

(WESLEY. 11, 10, 11, 10)

THOMAS HASTINGS, 1832

LOWELL MASON, 1830



1. Hail to the brightness of Zion's glad morning, Joy to the lands that in darkness have lain! Hushed be the accents of sorrow and mourning, Zion in triumph begins her mild reign.
2. Hail to the brightness of Zion's glad morning, Long by the prophets of Israel foretold! Hail to the millions from bondage returning, Gentiles and Jews the blest vision behold.
3. Lo, in the desert rich flowers are springing, Streams ever copious are gliding along; Loud from the mountain-tops echoes are ringing, Wastes rise in verdure and mingle in song.
4. See, from all lands, from the isles of the ocean, Praise to Jehovah ascending on high; Fallen are the engines of war and commotion, Shouts of salvation are rending the sky. A-MEN.

GEORGE J. ELVEY, 1858
Descant by CHARLES REPPER, 1930

1. Come, ye thank-ful peo-ple, come, Raise the song of har-vest home;
2. All the bless-ings of the field, All the stores the gar-dens yield;
3. These to thee, our God, we owe, Source whence all our bless-ings flow;
All is safe-ly gath-ered in, Ere the win-ter storms be-gin;
All the fruits in full sup-ply, Rip-ened 'neath the sum-mer sky;
And for these our souls shall raise Grate-ful vows and sol-emn praise.
(Descant with 1st and 3rd stanzas only)
1. Our Mak-er doth pro-vide Our wants to be sup-plied;
3. Come, thank-ful peo-ple, come, With song of har-vest home;
God, our Mak-er, doth pro-vide For our wants to be sup-plied;
All that spring with boun-teous hand Scat-ters o'er the smil-ing land;
Come, then, thank-ful peo-ple, come, Raise the song of har-vest home;
1,3. Come to God's own tem-ple, come, Raise the song of har-vest home. AMEN.
Come to God's own tem-ple, come, Raise the song of har-vest home.
All that lib-eral au-tumn pours From her rich o'er-flow-ing stores;
Come to God's own tem-ple, come, Raise the song of har-vest home. AMEN.

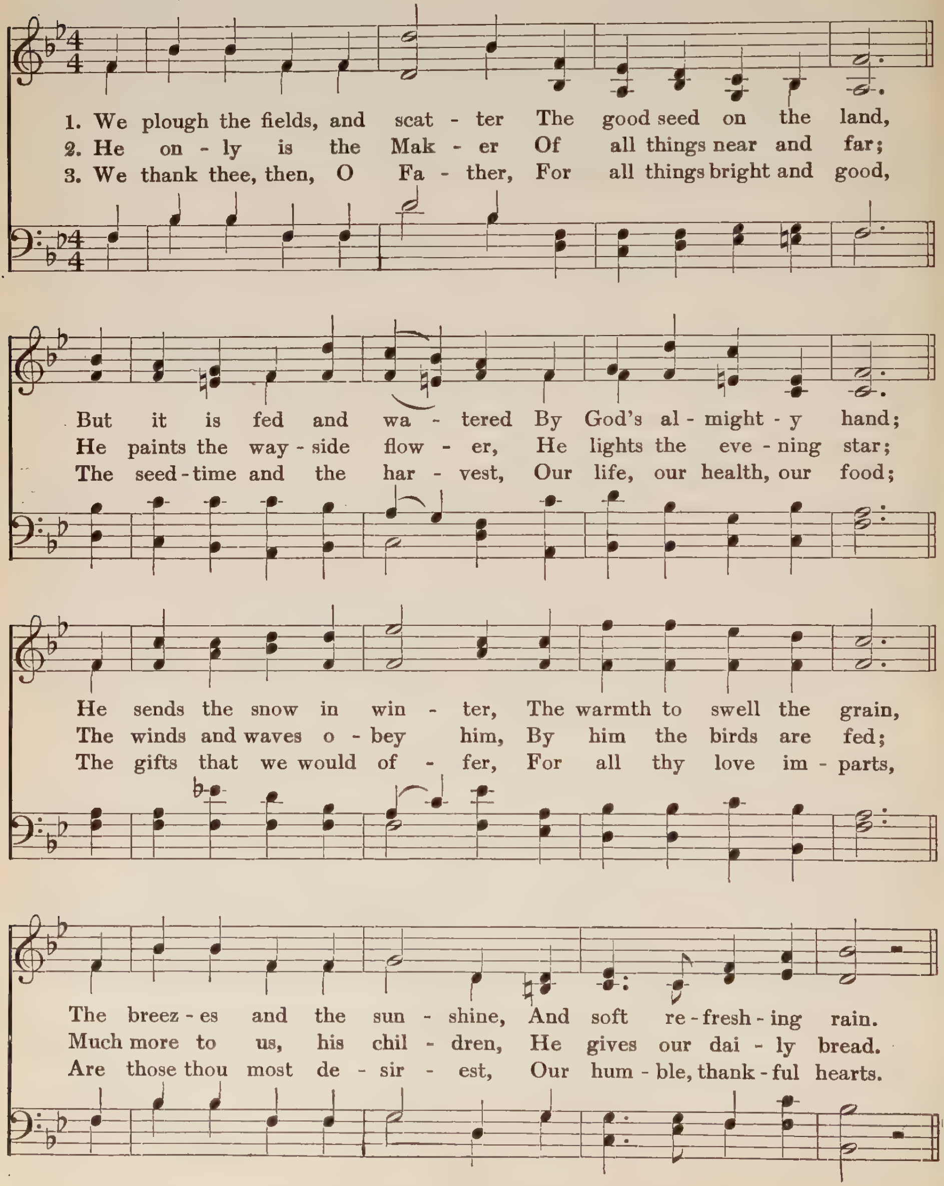
We Plough the Fields and Scatter

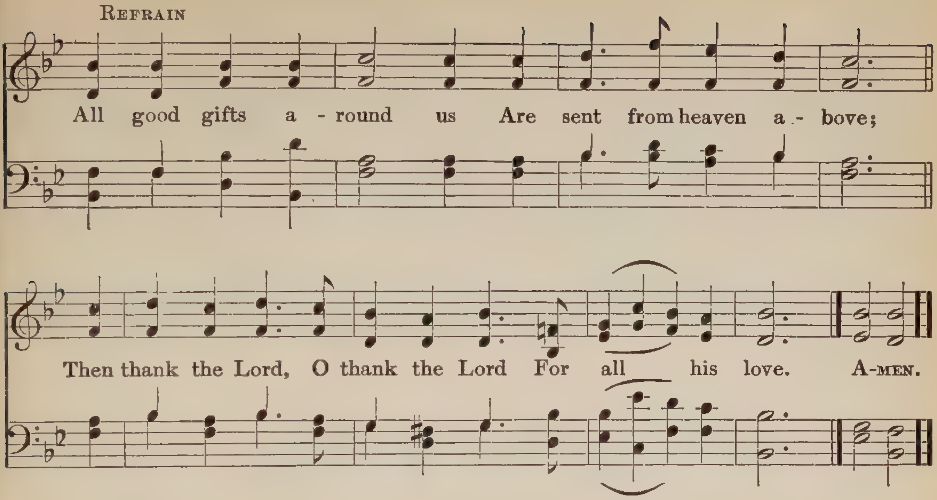
(DRESDEN. 7, 6, 7, 6, D. With Refrain)

MATTHIAS CLAUDIUS, 1782
Translated by JANE M. CAMPBELL, 1861

JOHANN A. P. SCHULZ, 1800



1. We plough the fields, and scatter The good seed on the land,
2. He only is the Maker Of all things near and far;
3. We thank thee, then, O Father, For all things bright and good,
But it is fed and watered By God's almighty hand;
He paints the wayside flower, He lights the evening star;
The seed-time and the harvest, Our life, our health, our food;
He sends the snow in winter, The warmth to swell the grain,
The winds and waves obey him, By him the birds are fed;
The gifts that we would offer, For all thy love imparts,
The breezes and the sunshine, And soft refreshing rain.
Much more to us, his children, He gives our daily bread.
Are those thou most desirest, Our humble, thankful hearts.



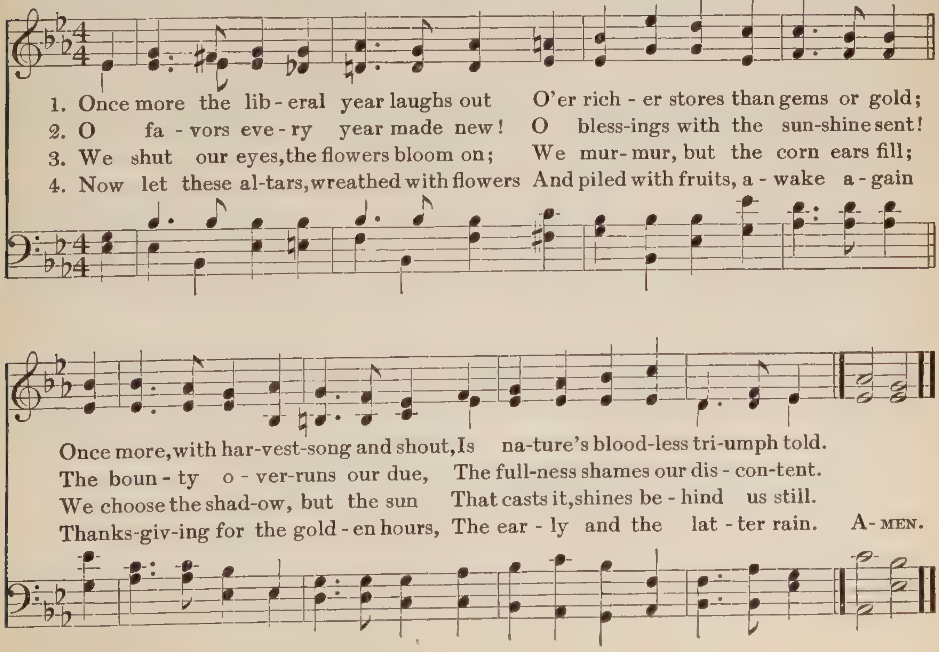
Refrain
All good gifts a-round us Are sent from heaven a-bove;
Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord For all his love.
A-men.

324 Once More the Liberal Year Laughs Out

(WALTHAM. L. M.)

John Greenleaf Whittier, 1859

J. Baptiste Calkin, 1872



1. Once more the lib-eral year laughs out O'er rich-er stores than gems or gold;
Once more, with har-vest-song and shout, Is na-ture's blood-less tri-umph told.
2. O fa-vors eve-ry year made new! O bless-ings with the sun-shine sent!
The boun-ty o-ver-runs our due, The full-ness shames our dis-con-tent.
3. We shut our eyes, the flowers bloom on; We mur-mur, but the corn ears fill;
We choose the shad-ow, but the sun That casts it, shines be-hind us still.
4. Now let these al-tars, wreathed with flowers And piled with fruits, a-wake a-gain
Thanks-giv-ing for the gold-en hours, The ear-ly and the lat-ter rain.
A-men.

Now Thank We All Our God

(NUN DANKET. 6, 7, 6, 7, 6, 6, 6, 6)

Martin Rinkart, 1636. Translated by Catherine Winkworth, 1858

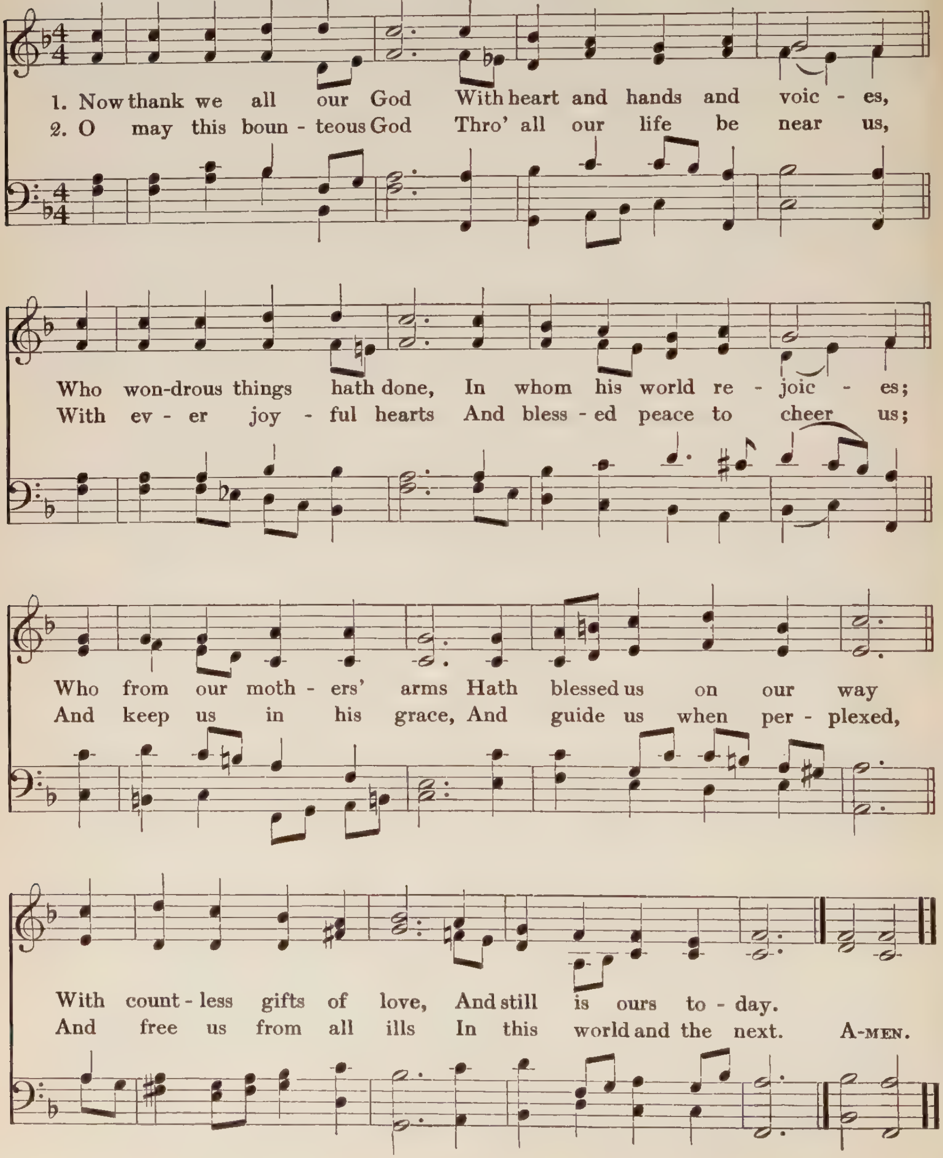
Johann Cruger, 1647. Harmonized by
Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, 1809–1847



1. Now thank we all our God With heart and hands and voic - es,
2. O may this boun - teous God Thro' all our life be near us,
Who won-drous things hath done, In whom his world re - joic - es;
With ev - er joy - ful hearts And bless - ed peace to cheer us;
Who from our moth - ers' arms Hath blessed us on our way
And keep us in his grace, And guide us when per - plexed,
With count - less gifts of love, And still is ours to - day.
And free us from all ills In this world and the next.
A-men.

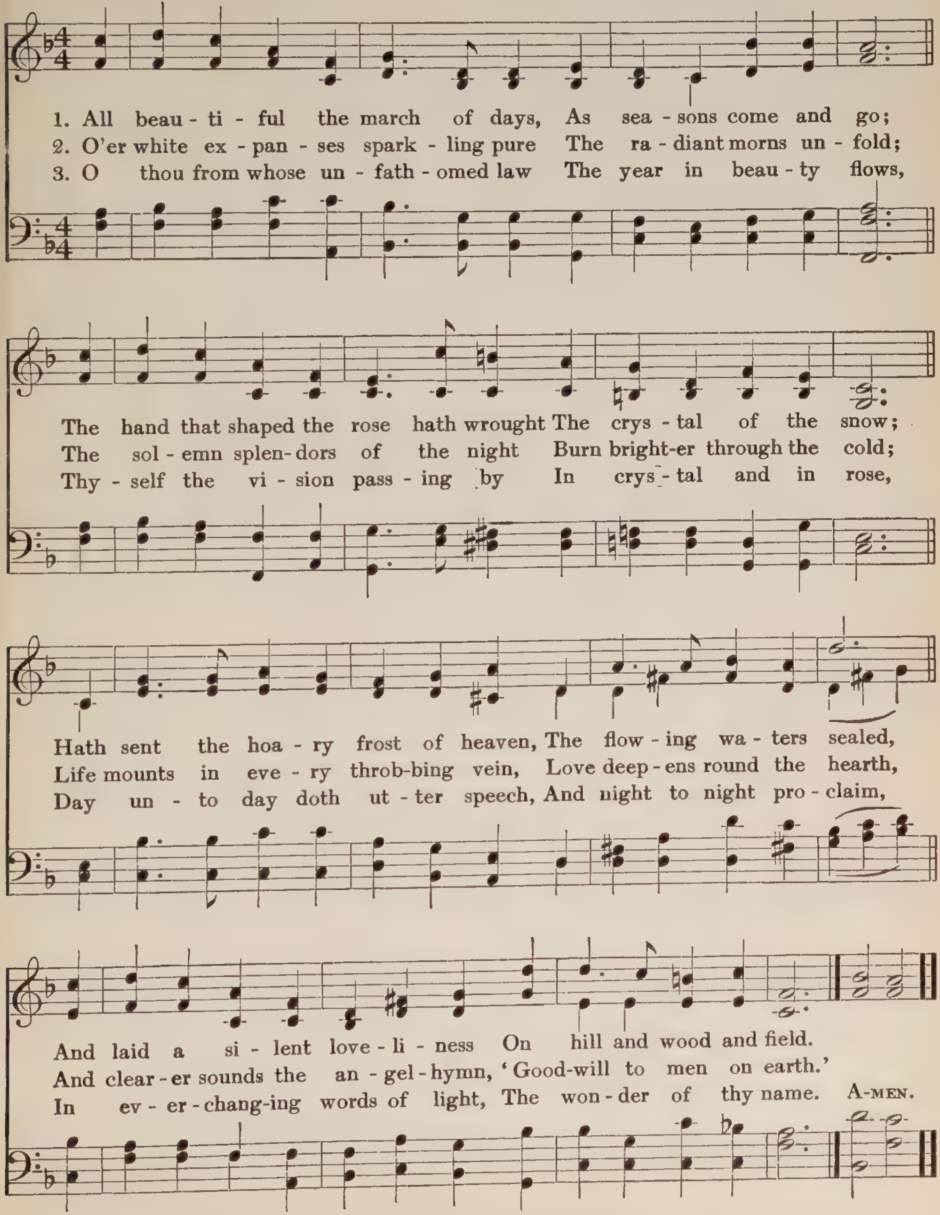
All Beautiful the March of Days

(SHACKELFORD. C. M. D.)

Frances W. Wile, 1912

Frederick H. Cheeswright, 1880



1. All beau - ti - ful the march of days, As sea - sons come and go;
2. O'er white ex - pan - ses spark - ling pure The ra - diant morns un - fold;
3. O thou from whose un - fath - omed law The year in beau - ty flows,
The hand that shaped the rose hath wrought The crys - tal of the snow;

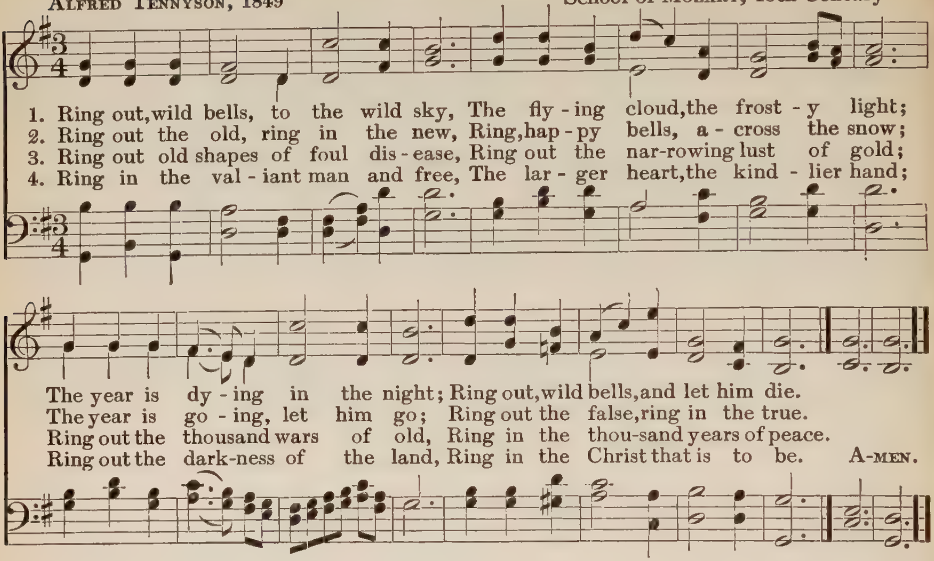
Ring Out, Wild Bells

(MOZART. L. M.)

ALFRED TENNYSON, 1849

School of MOZART, 18th Century



1. Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky, The fly-ing cloud, the frost-y light;
2. Ring out the old, ring in the new, Ring, hap-py bells, a-cross the snow;
3. Ring out old shapes of foul dis-ease, Ring out the nar-rowing lust of gold;
4. Ring in the val-iant man and free, The lar-ger heart, the kind-lier hand;
The year is dy-ing in the night; Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.
The year is go-ing, let him go; Ring out the false, ring in the true.
Ring out the thousand wars of old, Ring in the thou-sand years of peace.
Ring out the dark-ness of the land, Ring in the Christ that is to be. A-MEN.

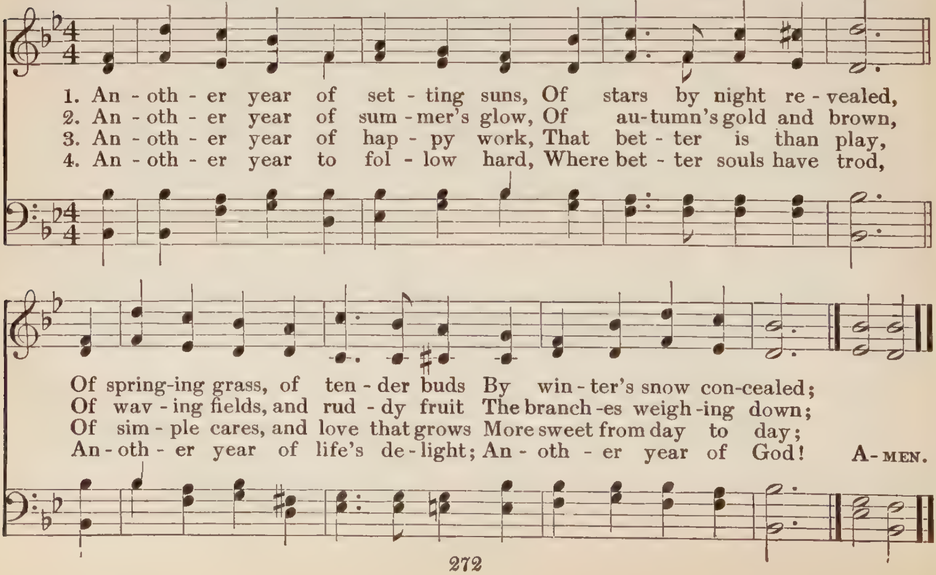
Another Year of Setting Suns

(HOLY CROSS. C. M.)

JOHN W. CHADWICK, 1873

JAMES C. WADE, 1865



1. An-oth-er year of set-ting suns, Of stars by night re-vealed,
2. An-oth-er year of sum-mer's glow, Of au-tumn's gold and brown,
3. An-oth-er year of hap-py work, That bet-ter is than play,
4. An-oth-er year to fol-low hard, Where bet-ter souls have trod,
Of spring-ing grass, of ten-der buds By win-ter's snow con-cealed;
Of wav-ing fields, and rud-dy fruit The branch-es weigh-ing down;
Of sim-ple cares, and love that grows More sweet from day to day;
An-oth-er year of life's de-light; An-oth-er year of God! A-MEN.

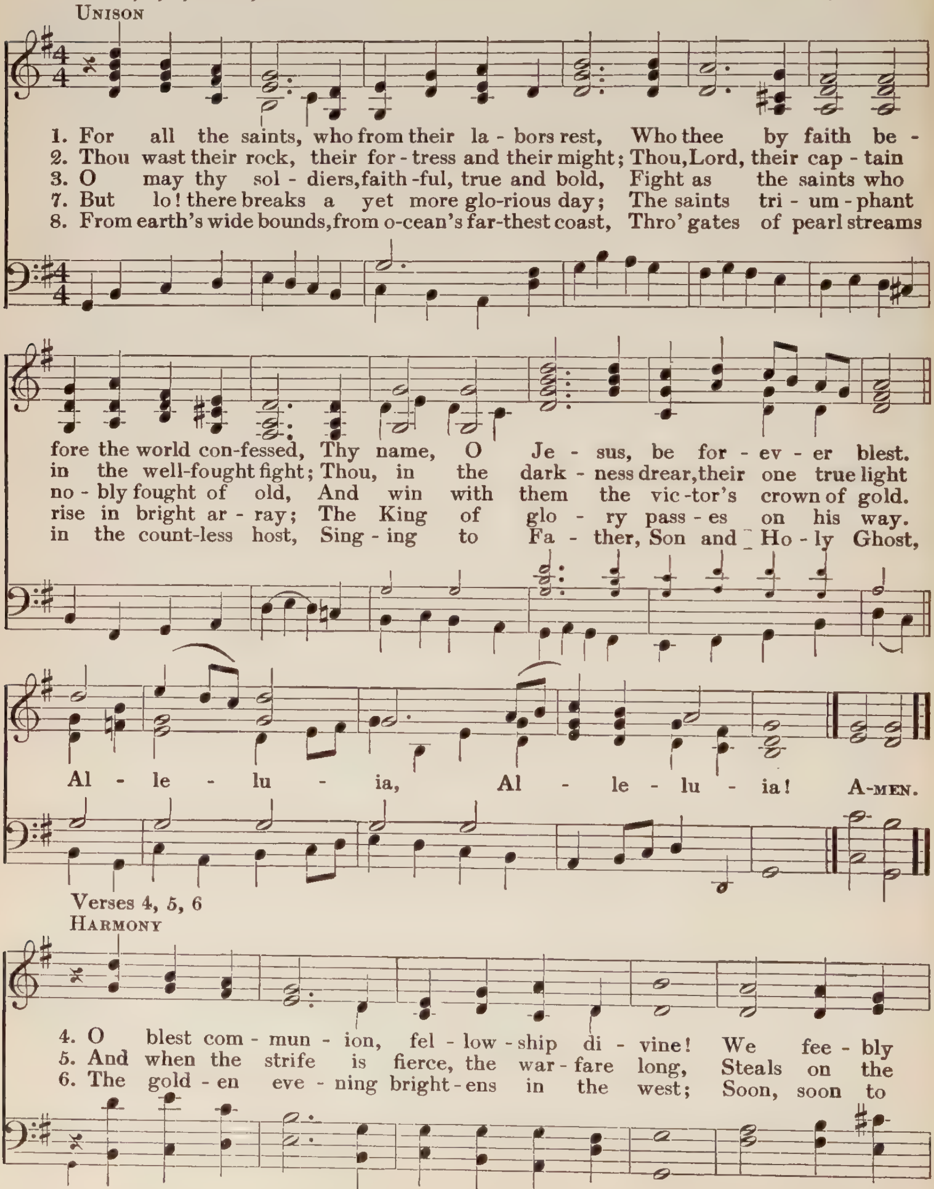
330 For All the Saints

(SINE NOMINE. 10, 10, 10, 4)

William Walsham How, 1864
Verses 1, 2, 3, and 7, 8

R. Vaughan Williams, 1906



Unison
1. For all the saints, who from their labors rest, Who thee by faith before the world confessed, Thy name, O Jesus, be forever blest.
2. Thou wast their rock, their fortress and their might; Thou, Lord, their captain in the well-fought fight; Thou, in the darkness drear, their one true light.
3. O may thy soldiers, faithful, true and bold, Fight as the saints who nobly fought of old, And win with them the victor's crown of gold.
7. But lo! there breaks a yet more glorious day; The saints triumphant rise in bright array; The King of glory passes on his way.
8. From earth's wide bounds, from ocean's farthest coast, Thro' gates of pearl streams in the countless host, Singing to Father, Son and Holy Ghost, Alleluia, Alleluia!
Amen.

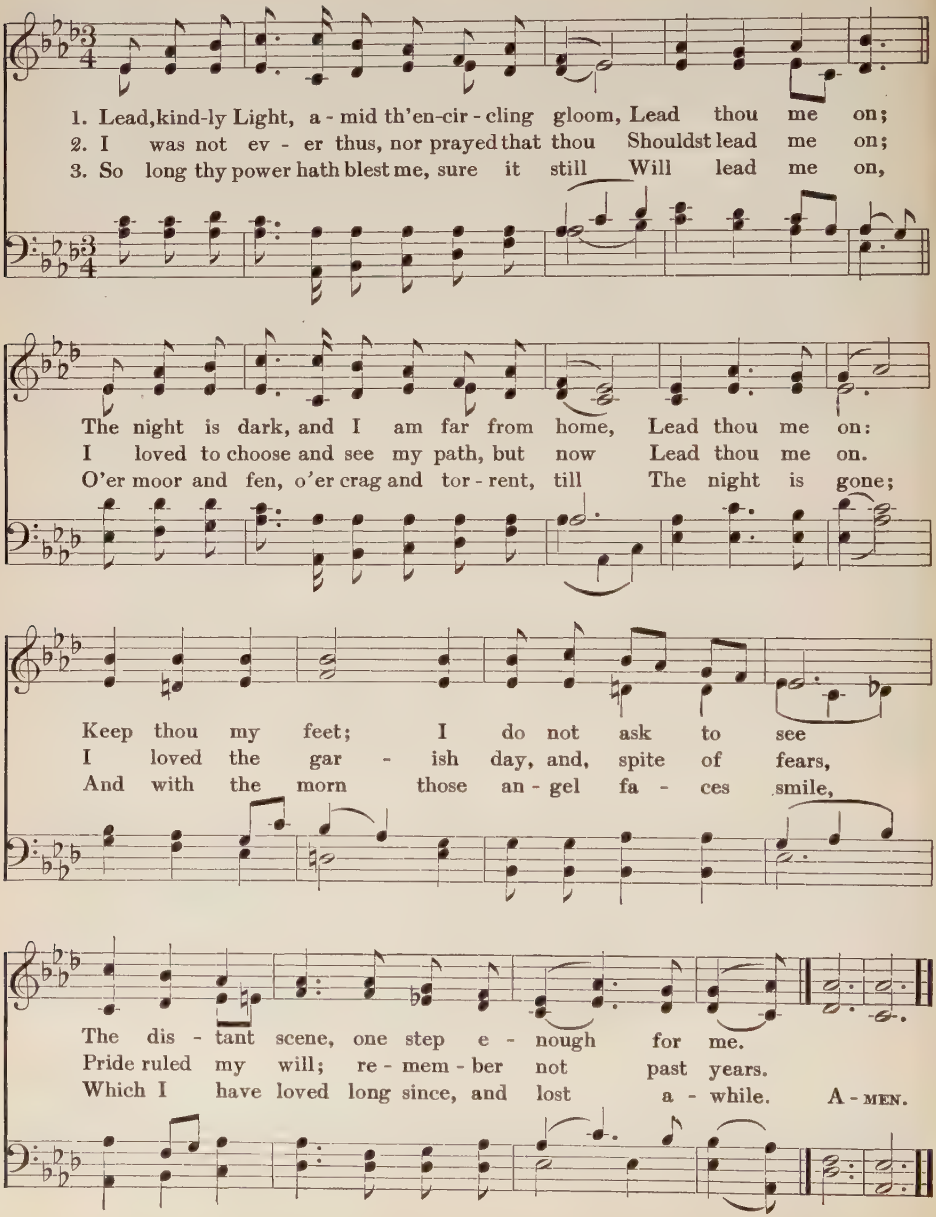
Lead, Kindly Light

(LUX BENIGNA. 10, 4, 10, 4, 10, 10)

John H. Newman, 1833

John B. Dykes, 1867



1. Lead, kind-ly Light, a - mid th'en-cir - cling gloom, Lead thou me on;
2. I was not ev - er thus, nor prayed that thou Shouldst lead me on;
3. So long thy power hath blest me, sure it still Will lead me on,
The night is dark, and I am far from home, Lead thou me on:
I loved to choose and see my path, but now Lead thou me on.
O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and tor - rent, till The night is gone;
Keep thou my feet; I do not ask to see
I loved the gar - ish day, and, spite of fears,
And with the morn those an - gel fa - ces smile,
The dis - tant scene, one step e - nough for me.
Pride ruled my will; re - mem - ber not past years.
Which I have loved long since, and lost a - while.

Introduction

The liturgical material which this book provides is prepared with the general aim, — to aid youth in the interpretation and expression of religious experience. To accomplish this the following objectives are in view:

(1) To present a limited number of services of worship, arranged according to vital and inspirational themes, such as will serve as representative of the types of services which young people themselves may build.

(2) To provide within these services of worship those elements which may contribute to a complete experience of worship.

(3) To provide a wealth of source material which will be of inspiration and value in itself, and which will enable young people to readily build services of worship according to individual and group initiative.

(4) To provide beauty in rhythm, sound and word which will minister to the aesthetic needs of youth.

(5) To provide spiritual content for self-expression such as will enrich the spiritual life of youth.

This book will be of value as a text book for the Week Day School of Religion where special courses in worship may be taught; it will be the worship manual for young people's societies and departments of the Church School; it will serve as guide to teachers and leaders of youth in the leadership of worship for every occasion.

If youth may be led to a greater reality of spiritual values, and to a deeper, richer experience in the expression of personal feeling, then the object of this compilation of material will have been realized.

Aids to Worship*

345. The Call to Worship

O come, let us worship and bow down,
Let us kneel before the Lord, our Maker:
For he is our God,
And we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our lips;

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord?
And who shall stand in his holy place?
He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart;
Who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity,
And hath not sworn deceitfully.

The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you?
For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are children of God.

Lord of life! Open wide the window of our spirits, and fill us full of light; open wide the door of our hearts, that we may receive and entertain thee with all our powers of adoration and love. Amen.

346. Spirit, Light, Love

God is a spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

O come let us worship and bow down, let us kneel before the Lord our maker.

God is light, and the Father of lights in whom is no variableness neither shadow that is cast by turning.

O Lord, send out thy light and thy truth, let them lead us to thy holy hill.

God is love, and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God and God in him.

O thou who makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice, keep us in thy love this day and forevermore.

347. Let Us Praise God

Let us praise God
For the Day, for the glory and warmth of the sun, for the stir of life, and for honest toil that wins food and rest.

God be praised for the Day.

For the gift of Children; may he help us to train them to be reverent and truthful, that they may gladden our hearts and bring joy to the world.

*For authors and copyrights see pages 285-6-7

God be praised for Children.

For good Friends to rejoice with us in our joys, to cheer us in trouble and to lighten our tasks; may he help us to repay them in fellowship and service.

God be praised for our Friends.

Let us praise God for Life.

All praise be to God.

348. Beatitudes of Light and Life and Love

Blessed are they that dwell in thy house, O Lord; they will still be praising thee.

Shine on us, O thou Light and Life and Love Divine.

Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delightest greatly in his commandments.

Let thy truth within us shine.

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful; but his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

O send out thy light and thy truth, let them lead me.

Blessed are they that keep the testimonies of the Lord, that seek him with the whole heart.

Lord, have mercy upon us, and incline our hearts to keep thy law.

Blessed is he that considereth the poor, the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.

Lord, have mercy upon us, and fill our hearts with the love of Christ.

Blessed are the people who know the joyful sound; they walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance.

O Lord, open thou our lips, and our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

349. Litany of Joy

For the gift of life in this wonderful world; for days of health, and for nights of quiet sleep,

We thank thee, our Father.

For the beautiful face of the year; for the glory of the seasons and the sure and bountiful harvests,

We thank thee, our Father.

For our homes and our friends, for the humble, the faithful and the loving people of the world,

We thank thee, our Father.

For the faith that makes us faithful, for thy gifts to every child of earth, for the privilege of sharing and helping others to obtain their share of thy bounty,

We thank thee, our Father.

For the good at the heart of our world, for the faith in the eternal Goodness, for all the gladness of life and for the heart's assurance of Life Eternal in thee,

We bless thee, and thank thee, O God of our joy.

350. Litany of Aspiration

For all thy protection and care this day,

We thank thee, our Father.

For the gift of life, and the ability to enjoy it,

We give thee thanks, our heavenly Father.

For friends and all that their companionship means to us,

We thank thee, Lord.

For the fact that we can share in thy work,

We give thee our thanks.

For the desire thou dost give us to work for great causes,

Accept our thanks, O Lord.

For the power to think great thoughts,

Dear Lord, we praise thee.

For the freedom of our land, and the challenge which that freedom brings,

We thank thee, our Heavenly Father.

For the opportunity to come apart and worship thee, and for rest that we may be prepared for the duties of the morrow,

For all these things, Lord, we give thee thanks.

351. Litany of Thanksgiving

For the poetry of spring, for the pageantry of summer, for the soft intonations of autumn, for the austere majesty of winter,

We lift up thankful hearts.

For all the unknown toilers in mine and field, in factory and office, whose strength has redeemed us from want, whose blood has purchased our welfare, the fruit of whose labor is our rich inheritance,

We lift up thankful hearts.

For the unsung dreamers in every land and age, whose undying faith has woven a fadeless tapestry of hope wherein we behold the pattern of a better world to be,

We lift up thankful hearts.

For the sustaining strength of those near and dear, whose understanding love brings serenity and peace to our restless souls, and assures us that our lives have value for others,

We lift our thankful hearts.

For the enchantment of wonder, the allurement of mystery, the appeal of beauty, the challenge of goodness, the sacrificial strength of love,

We lift our thankful hearts.

For the sacrament of work, through which we have fellowship with an unending creation that maketh all things new,

We lift up thankful hearts.

For the unbought privilege of life in a world wherein human souls may attain an eternal worth, and where great dreams come true,

We lift up thankful hearts.

352. Litany of Adoration

Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come.

All glory be to thee, O Lord most High.

Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the Ages. Who shall not worship thee, O Lord, and glorify thy Name? For thou only art holy.

All glory be to thee, O Lord most High.

Oh, the depth of the riches, both of the wisdom and the knowledge of God! How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out. For of him, and through him, and unto him are all things.

All glory be to thee, O Lord most High.

Now unto the King, eternal, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory forever.

All glory be to thee, O Lord most High.

353. Commandments with Responses

I am the Lord thy God; thou shalt have none other gods but me.

We cannot serve God and mammon. Let us worship the Lord our God, and him only let us serve.

Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image, nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or in the water under the earth; thou shalt not bow down to them, nor worship them.

God is a spirit; and we who worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.

Let us swear not at all; neither by heaven, for it is God's throne; nor by the earth, for it is his footstool.

Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath-day.

The Sabbath was made for man. Let us follow him who said, Come ye yourselves apart, and rest awhile.

Honor thy father and thy mother.

Let us be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love: in honor preferring one another.

Thou shalt do no murder.

Let us not be angry with our brothers. Let us love our enemies, and do good to them that hate us; that we may be the children of our Father which is in heaven.

Thou shalt not commit adultery.

Let us be pure in heart. that we may see God.

Thou shalt not steal.

If we have stolen, let us steal no more, but rather labor with our hands for the thing which is good, that we may have to give to him that needeth.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.

Putting away lying, let us speak every man truth with his neighbor for we are members one of another.

Thou shalt not covet.

Let us lay up for ourselves treasures in heaven; for where our treasure is, there will our hearts be also.

O Almighty Lord, and everlasting God, vouchsafe, we beseech thee, to direct, sanctify, and govern, both our hearts and bodies, in the ways of thy laws, and in the works of thy commandments; that, through thy most mighty protection, both here and ever, we may be preserved in body and soul; through our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

354. Te Deum Laudamus

We praise thee, O God; we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.

All the earth doth worship thee, the Father everlasting.

To thee all angels cry aloud;

The heavens, and all the powers therein;

To thee cherubim and seraphim continually do cry, — Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Sabaoth;

Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of thy glory.

The glorious company of the apostles praise thee.

The goodly fellowship of the prophets praise thee.

The noble army of martyrs praise thee.

The holy Church throughout all the world doth acknowledge thee,

The Father of an infinite majesty;

Thine adorable, true and only Son;

Also the Holy Ghost, the Comforter.

Thou art the King of Glory, O Christ; thou art the everlasting Son of the Father.

When thou tookest upon thee to deliver man, thou didst humble thyself to be born of a virgin.

When thou hadst overcome the sharpness of death thou didst open the kingdom of heaven to all believers.

Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father.

We believe that thou shalt come to be our Judge.

We therefore pray thee, help thy servants, whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious blood.

Make them to be numbered with thy saints, in glory everlasting.

O Lord, save thy people, and bless thine heritage.

Govern them, and lift them up for ever.

Day by day we magnify thee;

And we worship thy name ever, world without end.

Vouchsafe, O Lord, to keep us this day without sin.

O Lord, have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us.

O Lord, let thy mercy be upon us, as our trust is in thee.

O Lord, in thee have I trusted; let me never be confounded.

355. Meditation and Prayer

Let us remember Jesus: Who, though he was rich, yet for our sakes became poor and dwelt among us. Who was content to be subject to his parents, the child of a poor man's home. Who lived for thirty years the common life, earning his living with his own hands and declining no humble tasks. Whom the common people heard gladly, for he understood their ways.

(MOMENT OF MEDITATION)

Let us remember Jesus: Who was mighty in deed, healing the sick and the disordered, using for others the powers he would not invoke for himself. Who refused to force men's allegiance. Who was master and Lord to his disciples, yet was among them as their companion and as one who served.

(MEDITATION)

Let us remember Jesus: Who loved men, yet retired from them to pray, rose a great while before day, watched through a night, stayed in the wilderness, went up into a mountain, sought a garden. Who, when he would help a tempted disciple, prayed for him, and for the perfecting of those who received him.

(MEDITATION)

Let us remember Jesus: Who believed in men to the last and never despaired of them. Who through all disappointment never lost heart. Who disregarded his own comfort and convenience and thought first of others' needs, and though he suffered long was always kind. Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again, and when he suffered, threatened not. Who humbled himself and carried obedience to the point of death, even death on the cross, and endured faithfully to the end.

(UNISON PRAYER)

O Christ, our only Saviour, so come to dwell in us that we may go forth with the light of thy hope in our eyes, and thy faith and love in our hearts. Amen.

Unison Readings

(King James Version)

356. His Glory at Morn

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork.

Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard.

Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.

His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

Psalm 19: 1-6

357. With Joy and Rejoicing

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands.

Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name.

For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

Psalm 100

358. The King of Glory

The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place?

He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.

He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

This is the generation of them that seek him, that seek thy face, O Jacob.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in.

Who is this King of glory? The Lord strong and mighty, the Lord mighty in battle.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in.

Who is this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory.

Psalm 24

359. The Shepherd Divine

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me n the paths of righteousness for his ame's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the alley of the shadow of death, I will ear no evil: for thou art with me; hy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in he presence of mine enemies: thou nointest my head with oil; my cup unneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall ollow me all the days of my life: and will dwell in the house of the Lord or ever.

Psalm 23

360. The Keeper Eternal

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, rom whence cometh my help.

My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber.

Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.

The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand.

The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.

The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul.

The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

Psalm 121

361. The Growing Life

Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

The ungodly are not so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

Psalm 1

362. Nature Appreciation

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens.

Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;

What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?

For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honor.

Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet:

All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field;

The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea, and whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

Psalm 8

363. Sing Unto the Lord

O sing unto the Lord a new song:
Sing unto the Lord, all the earth.

Sing unto the Lord, bless his name;
Shew forth his salvation from day to day.

Declare his glory among the nations,
His marvellous works among all the peoples.

Honor and majesty are before him:
Strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

Give unto the Lord, ye kindreds of the peoples,
Give unto the Lord glory and strength.

Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name.
Bring an offering, and come into his courts.

O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness:
Fear before him, all the earth.

Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad;
Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof;

Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein;
Then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy: before the Lord, for he cometh; for he cometh to judge the earth:

He shall judge the world with righteousness, And the peoples with his truth.

Psalm 96

364. How Manifold Are Thy Works

Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honor and majesty: who coverest thyself with light as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind:

Who maketh his angels spirits; his ministers a flaming fire:

Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever. Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a garment: the waters stood above the mountains. At thy rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away. They go up by the mountains; they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.

Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over; that they turn not again to cover the earth.

He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run among the hills. They give drink to every beast of the field: the wild asses quench their thirst.

By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which sing among the branches.

He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth; and bread which strengtheneth man's heart. The trees of the

Let the peoples praise thee, O God; et all the peoples praise thee.

The earth hath yielded its increase: God, even our own God, will bless us.

God will bless us; and all the ends f the earth shall fear him.

Psalm 67

366. The Prince of Peace

The people that walked in darkness ave seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light hined.

For all the armor of the armed man in the tumult, and the garments rolled in blood, shall be for burning, for fuel of fire.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called, Wonderful Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, . . . to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from henceforth even forever.

Isaiah 9: 2-7

And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths.

And he will judge between many peoples, and will decide concerning strong nations afar off.

And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks;

Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig-tree; and none shall make them afraid.

Micah 4: 2-4

They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

Isaiah 11: 9

367. The Way of Wisdom

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.

Proverbs 9: 10

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.

For the gaining of it is better than the gaining of silver, and the profit thereof than fine gold.

She is more precious than rubies; and none of the things thou canst desire are to be compared unto her.
Proverbs 3: 13–15

My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the teaching of thy mother;

For they shall be a chaplet of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.
Proverbs 1: 8–9

Then shalt thou understand righteousness and justice, and equity, yea, every good path;

For wisdom shall enter into thy heart, and knowledge shall be pleasant to thy soul.

Discretion shall watch over thee, understanding shall keep thee;

To deliver thee from the way of evil, from the men that speak perverse things.
Proverbs 2: 9–12

When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened, and if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.

Enter not into the path of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men;

For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.

But the path of the righteous is as a dawning light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.
Proverbs 4: 12, 14, 17, 18

368. The Loyalty of Love

And Naomi said unto her two daughters-in-law,
Go, return each of you to her mother's house:
The Lord deal kindly with you as he hath dealt with the dead and with me.
The Lord grant you that ye may find rest,
Each of you in the house of her husband.

Then she kissed them, and they lifted up their voice and wept.
And they said unto her, Nay,
But we will return with thee unto thy people.

And Naomi said, Turn again, my daughters:
Why will ye go with me?

And they lifted up their voice and wept again:
And Orpah kissed her mother-in-law;
But Ruth clave unto her.

And she said, Behold, thy sister-in-law has gone back
Unto her people, and unto her God:
Return thou after thy sister-in-law.

And Ruth said, Entreat me not to leave thee,
And to return from following after thee;
For whither thou goest, I will go;
And where thou lodgest, I will lodge;
Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God;
Where thou diest, will I die,
And there will I be buried:
The Lord do so to me, and more also,
If aught but death part thee and me.
Ruth 1: 8–11, 14–18

369. Secrets of the Happy Life (Beatitudes)

Blessed are the poor in spirit:
For theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they that mourn:
For they shall be comforted.

Blessed are the meek:
For they shall inherit the earth

Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness:
For they shall be filled.

Blessed are the merciful:
For they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart:
For they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers:
For they shall be called sons of God.

Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake:
For theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you,
And say all manner of evil against you falsely,
For my sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad:
For great is your reward in heaven:
For so persecuted they the prophets that were before you.

Matt. 5: 3-12

370. The Master's Friendship

Herein is my Father glorified,
That ye bear much fruit;
And so shall ye be my disciples.

Even as the Father hath loved me,
I also have loved you:
Abide ye in my love.

If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love;
Even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

These things have I spoken unto you; that my joy may be in you,
And that your joy may be made full.

This is my commandment,
That ye love one another, even as I have loved you.

Greater love hath no man than this,
That a man lay down his life for his friends.

Ye are my friends,
If ye do the things which I command you.

No longer do I call you servants;
For the servant knoweth not what his Lord doeth:

But I have called you friends;
For all the things that I heard from my Father
I have made known unto you.

Ye did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you,
That ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide:

That whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name,
He may give it you.

These things I command you,
That ye may love one another.

John 15: 8-17

371. My Place in Life

And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up:
And he entered, as his custom was,
Into the synagogue on the sabbath day,
And stood up to read.

And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Isaiah.
And he opened the book, and found the place where it was written,

The spirit of the Lord is upon me,
Because he hath anointed me to preach good tidings to the poor:
He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives,
And recovering of sight to the blind,
To set at liberty them that are bruised,

To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

And he closed the book,
And gave it back to the attendant, and sat down:

And the eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him.

And he began to say unto them,
Today hath this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. Luke 4: 16-21

372. Likeness Unto Him

So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments,
And sat down again, he said unto them,
Know ye what I have done to you?

Ye call me, Teacher, and Lord:
And ye say well; for so I am.

If I then, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet,
Ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

For I have given you an example,
That ye also should do as I have done to you.

Verily, verily, I say unto you,
A servant is not greater than his lord;
Neither is one that is sent
Greater than he that sent him.

If ye know these things,
Blessed are ye if ye do them.
John 13: 12-17

373. The Good Shepherd

Jesus saith unto them: I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep.

I came that they might have life and have it abundantly.

I am the good shepherd and I know mine own and mine own know me.

And other sheep have I, which are not of this fold; them also must I bring, and they shall hear my voice; and they shall become one flock, one shepherd. John 10: 16

What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness and go out after that which is lost, until he find it?

And when he hath found it he layeth it on his shoulder, rejoicing.

And when he cometh home he calleth together his friends and neighbors, saying unto them,

Rejoice with me for I have found my sheep which was lost. Luke 15: 4-6

When Jesus saw the multitude he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, as sheep not having a shepherd.

And he called unto him his twelve disciples . . . saying, Go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.
Matthew 9: 36; 10: 1, 7

374. Marks of the Master

And it came to pass when Jesus had finished
Commanding his twelve disciples,
He departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.

Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ,
He sent by his disciples

And said unto him,
Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?

And Jesus answered and said unto them,
Go and tell John the things which ye hear and see:

The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk,
The lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear,
And the dead are raised up,
And the poor have good tidings preached to them.

And blessed is he,
Whosoever shall find no occasion of stumbling in me. Matt. 11: 1-6

375. In Love's Devotion

Now as they went on their way,
He entered into a certain village:
And a certain woman named Martha
Received him into her house.

And she had a sister called Mary,
Who also sat at the Lord's feet,
And heard his word.

But Martha was cumbered about much serving;
And she came up to him, and said,
Lord, dost thou not care
That my sister did leave me to serve alone?
Bid her therefore that she help me.

But the Lord answered and said unto her,
Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things:
But one thing is needful:
For Mary hath chosen the good part,
Which shall not be taken away from her. Luke 10: 38–42

376. Unto the Least of These

Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?

And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me. Matthew 25: 34–40

377. True Greatness

To sit on my right hand and on my left hand
Is not mine to give;
It shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

And when the ten heard it
They began to be much displeased with James and John.

But Jesus called them to him,
And said unto them,

Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles
Exercise lordship over them;
And their great ones exercise authority upon them.

But so shall it not be among you;
But whosoever shall be great among you
Shall be your minister.

And whosoever of you shall be the chiefest,
Shall be servant of all.

For even the Son of Man
Came not to be ministered unto
But to minister,
And to give his life
A ransom for many. Mark 10: 42–45

378. The Love That Abides

If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love,
I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal.

And if I have the gift of prophecy,
And know all mysteries and all knowledge;
And if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains,
But have not love, I am nothing.

And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor,
And if I give my body to be burned, but have not love,
It profiteth me nothing.

Love suffereth long, and is kind;
Love envieth not;
Love vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

Doth not behave itself unseemly,
Seeketh not its own, is not provoked,
Taketh not account of evil;

Rejoiceth not in unrighteousness,
But rejoiceth with the truth;

Beareth all things, believeth all things,
Hopeth all things, endureth all things.

Love never faileth:
But whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away;
Whether there be tongues, they shall cease;
Whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away.

For we know in part, and we prophesy in part;

But when that which is perfect is come,
That which is in part shall be done away.

When I was a child, I spake as a child,
I felt as a child, I thought as a child:
Now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things.

For now we see in a mirror, darkly; but then face to face:

Now I know in part;
But then shall I know fully even as also I was fully known.

But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three;
And the greatest of these is love.

I Cor. 13

379. The Well-Armed Warrior

Finally, be strong in the Lord,
And in the strength of his might.

Put on the whole armor of God,
That ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood,
But against the principalities, against the powers,
Against the world-rulers of this darkness,
Against the spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places.

Wherefore take up the whole armor of God,
That ye may be able to withstand in the evil day,
And having done all, to stand.

Stand therefore, having girded your loins with truth,
And having put on the breastplate of righteousness,

And having shod your feet with the preparation
Of the gospel of peace;

Withal taking up the shield of faith,
Wherewith ye shall be able to quench
All the fiery darts of the evil one.

And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit,
Which is the word of God.

Ephesians 6: 10-17

380. Glory in the Highest

And there were shepherds in the same country
Abiding in the field,
And keeping watch by night over their flock.

And an angel of the Lord stood by them,
And the glory of the Lord shone round about them:
And they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid;
For behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy
Which shall be to all the people:

For there is born to you this day in the city of David
A Saviour, who is Christ the Lord.

And this is the sign unto you:
Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes,
And lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel
A multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest,
And on earth peace among men
In whom he is well pleased.

And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven,
The shepherds said one to another,
Let us now go even unto Bethlehem,
And see this thing that is come to pass,
Which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph,
And the babe lying in the manger.

And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying
Which was spoken to them about this child.
And all that heard it wondered at the things
Which were spoken unto them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these sayings,
Pondering them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God
For all the things that they had heard and seen,
Even as it was spoken unto them.

Luke 2: 8–20

381. The Easter Story

The first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early
When it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre
And seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and the other disciple whom Jesus loved,

And said unto them,

They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre,
And we know not where they have laid him.

Peter therefore went, and that other disciple,
And came unto the sepulchre.

So they ran both together, and that other disciple did outrun Peter
And came first to the sepulchre.

And he, stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying,
Yet went he not in;

Then cometh Simon Peter following him,
And went into the sepulchre and seeth the clothes lie.

And the napkin that was about his head,

Not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre.

And he saw and believed.

For as yet they knew not the scripture, That he must arise again from the dead.

Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping;

And as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,

And seeth two angels in white sitting,

One at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

And they said unto her, Woman, Why weepest thou?

She said unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord

And I know not where they have laid him.

And when she had thus said she turned herself back,

And saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

Jesus said unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou?

She, supposing him to be the gardener, said unto him,

Tell me where thou hast laid him and I will take him away.

Jesus said unto her, Mary.

She turned herself and said unto him,

Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

Jesus said unto her, Touch me not;

For I am not yet ascended to my Father;

But go to my brethern and say unto them,

I ascend to my Father and your Father;

And to my God and your God;

Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Master

And that he had spoken these words unto her.

John 20: 1-18

Scripture Selections

Moffatt Translation*

382. New Life in the Valley

When poor, forlorn folk vainly seek for water,
With tongues that are parched by thirst,
I the Eternal will answer them,
I Israel's God will not forsake them;
On the bare heights I will open rivers,
And in the valleys fountains,
I will make deserts into lakes,
And dry land into springs of water;
I will plant cedars in the desert,
Acacias, myrtles, olive-trees;
I will put fir-trees in the wilderness,
And planes and cypresses;
That men may see and understand,
Consider and agree
That the Eternal's hand has done it,
That Israel's Majesty has made it all.

Isaiah 41: 17–20

383. This is the Way: Walk Here

So the Eternal longs to favor you,
And moves to show you pity;
For the Eternal is a loyal God;
Happy are all who long for him!
No more tears for you,
O folk of Sion in Jerusalem!
For he will show you favor when you sigh,
And answer you, soon as he hears your cry.
Though scant and scarce may be
Your bread and water from the Lord,
Yet he your Teacher never leaves you now;
You see your Teacher for yourselves,
And when you swerve to right or left,
You hear a Voice behind you whispering,
"This is the way, walk here."

Isaiah 30: 18–21

384. In Brotherly Love

Let your love be a real thing, with a loathing for evil and a bent for what is good. Put affection into your love for the brotherhood; be forward to honor one another; never let your zeal flag; maintain the spiritual glow; serve the Lord; let your hope be a joy to you; be steadfast in trouble, attend to prayer, contribute to needy saints, make a practice of hospitality. Bless those who make a practice of persecuting you; bless them instead of cursing them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, and weep with those who weep. Keep in harmony with one another; instead of being ambitious, associate with humble folk; never be self-conceited. Never pay back evil for evil to anyone; aim to be above reproach in the eyes of all; be at peace with all men, if possible, so far as that depends on you. Never revenge yourselves, beloved, but let the Wrath of God have its way; for it is written, Vengence is mine, I will exact a requital — the Lord has said it. No, if your enemy is hungry, feed him; if he is thirsty, give him drink; For in this way you will make him feel a burning sense of shame. Do not let evil get the better of you; get the better of evil by doing good.

Romans 12: 9–21

385. Tongues of Fire

We all make many a slip, but whoever avoids slips of the speech is a perfect man; he can bridle the whole of the body as well as the tongue. We put bridles into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, and so, you see, we can move the whole of their bodies. Look at ships too; for all their size and speed under stiff winds, they are turned by a tiny rudder wherever the mind of the steersman chooses. So the tongue is a small member of the body, but it can boast of great exploits. What a forest is set ablaze by a little spark of fire! And the tongue is a fire, the tongue proves a very world of mischief among our members, staining the whole of the body and setting fire to the round circle of existence with a flame fed by hell. James 3: 2–6

386. A Call to Wisdom

My son, if you take to heart what I say, and set store by my commands, bending your ear to wisdom and applying your mind to knowledge; if you cry to intelligence and call for knowledge, seeking her out as silver and searching for her like treasure; then you shall see what is reverence for the Eternal, and find what the knowledge of God means (for it is the Eternal who supplies wisdom, from him come insight and knowledge, he has help ready for the upright, he is a shield for those who live honestly, a safeguard for the straight life, a protection for the pious); then you shall understand duty and goodness, and keep to every honest course, living the life of honest men and keeping to the good man's road. Proverbs 3: 1–9

387. Meditation

Thou searchest me, Eternal One, thou knowest me, thou knowest me sitting or rising, my very thoughts thou readest from afar; walking or resting, I am scanned by thee, and all my life to thee lies open; ere ever a word comes to my tongue, O thou Eternal, 'tis well known to thee; thou art on every side, behind me and before, laying thy hand on me. . . . Where could I go from thy Spirit, where could I flee from thy face? I climb to heaven? — but thou art there; I nestle in the nether-world? — and there thou art! If I darted swift to the dawn, to the verge of the ocean afar, thy hand even there would fall on me, thy right hand would reach me. . . . Search me, O God, and know my heart, test me and try my thoughts; see if I am taking any course of wrong, and lead me on the lines of life eternal. Psalm 139: 1–12, 23–24

Prayers and High Resolves*

388. For Knowledge of God

O God, who art the light of the minds that know thee, the life of the souls that love thee, and the strength of the thoughts that seek thee, help us to know thee that we may truly love thee, so to know thee that we may fully serve thee, whose service is perfect freedom; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

389. For Abundant Life

O Blessed One, spirit of light and love, of truth and beauty, of freedom and joy; behold us a company of seekers for the abundant life. Amen.

390. That We May Hear Thee

O God, we hear thy call in the voice of nature, from the pages of history, from the lips of men, stirring in our own thoughts, crying from our own hearts. Amen.

391. That We May Learn

May we be quick to learn,
And eager to be taught,
And may thy Spirit lead us into all truth. Amen.

392. For Myself

Lord, take my lips, and speak through them;
Take my mind, and think through it;
Take my heart, and set it on fire.
Amen.

393. For All Gifts: Thanks!

Infinite Father,

We thank thee for the privilege of breath and the glory of living;

For the happy shelter of our homes and the inner circle of our friendships;

For the joy of the Lord and the genuine laughter thou hast put into our lives;

For health which makes hard work a pleasure and for sickness which ripens the soul;

For the fathers in whose love we found suggestions of thee,

For the mothers, because of whom all women have become sacred for us;

For all gentle souls and for the stimulus of all saintly lives;

For the great names of history, and for the forgotten toilers who have made our civilization possible;

For the temptations to do good and for the inward compulsions of conscience;

For the convictions which are anchors to faith and for doubts which blow away the unessential;

For the steady advance of man, since time began, and for the spreading Kingdom of human kindness;

For the Church of God, Mother of us all, and for Jesus Christ, Master of us all, to whom be praise forever and ever. Amen.

394. For the Kingdom of God

Almighty God, our heavenly Father; we praise and glorify thy holy name, for thou art the maker and the giver of all that makes life joyous and rich in human happiness.

* For authors and copyrights see pages 285-6-7

We praise thee for life and the power of all living things which are to be found in thy world. We rejoice that thou hast made us for thyself, and we would learn to find rest and contentment in thee.

For the many times that we have failed to acknowledge thy goodness, forgive us, Lord. Help us to find thee in every sign of divine goodness which is in our everyday life. As we feel within us the dynamic of life and the creative power of personality, may we live thy praise in deeds of love and mercy that thy kingdom may come and thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Amen.

395. The Temple of Health*

We thank thee, Lord, that thou hast yielded into our hands the keys of health and sickness, of life and death. Give us wisdom to search out, revere and obey thy laws of life. Give us grace to despise no instrument of health; whether material or physical or spiritual, it is from thy hand. O may we not limit thy power through holding that thou canst work through but one channel!

How many are the ways through which thou seekest us and wouldst woo us to health and strength! We thank thee for the healing balm of thy fresh air, and the antiseptic rays of the kindly sun! We bless thee for pure water!

Accept, O God, our thanks for thy humble servants, the scientists, whose microscope and test-tube have revealed to us the unseen helpers and foes of human life. We thank thee for consecrated physicians and nurses who have watched by bed-sides of pain, risking life and health in plague-camp or in homes. We praise thee for all good teachers who have strengthened our faith in the power of truth over inner discord and disease.

Recall us from the waywardness which seeks pleasure and ease through the breaking of thy laws. Chasten us with pain and sickness of body when we forsake thy greater good, lest our spirits die and life be spent in vain. Comfort us, heal us, strengthen us, as we hear thy call and obey. So may we find the universe thy Temple of Health to them that rest upon thee. Amen.

396. For Those Who Care for Us

Father, we thank thee for doctors and nurses; for those who provide for food and comfort; for those who keep the ways of communication open for our need and convenience; for mothers and all others who labor unceasingly for us.

We are ashamed to receive so thoughtlessly what costs them life.

We pray thee that the time may soon come when in every week there shall be a Day of Life for every man and woman and little child in thy great world family. Amen.

397. For Vigor of Life

O God, for whose spirit the bodies of men are a temple, forgive us that we are so regardless of them.

Forgive us for the ways in which we mistreat our own great gift of health and destroy the possibilities of mature strength.

Forgive us more for living so comfortably in a world where day by day thousands of beautiful bodies are crushed and broken by undue toil and the hazards of what we call industry. Help us to make this world a place in which all thy children may know the overflowing joy of health. Amen.

398. Prayer of a Camper

God of the hills, grant us thy strength to go back into the cities without faltering, strength to do our daily task without tiring and with enthusiasm, strength to help our neighbors who have no hills to remember.

God of the lake, grant us thy peace and thy restfulness, peace to bring into a world of hurry and confusion, restfulness to carry to the tired whom we shall meet every day, content to do small things with a freedom from littleness, self-control for the unexpected emergency and patience for the wearisome task, with deep depths within our souls to bear us through the crowded places. Grant us the hush of the night time when the pine trees are dark against the sky line, the humbleness of the hills who in their mightiness know it not, and the laughter of the sunny waves to brighten the cheerless spots of a long winter.

God of the stars, may we take back the gifts of friendship and of love for all. Fill us with great tenderness for the needy person at every turning. Grant that in all our perplexities and every-day decisions we may keep an open mind.

God of the wilderness, with thy pure winds from the northland blow away our pettiness; with the harsher winds of winter drive away our selfishness and hypocrisy; fill us with the breadth and the depth and the height of thy wilderness. May we live out the truths which thou hast taught us, in every thought and word and deed. Amen.

399. Out Door Prayer

We thank thee, O Lord, for the things that are out of doors; for the fresh air and the open sky and the growing grass and the tiny flowers and the setting sun and the wooded hill and the brown earth beneath our feet. They are all good and they all speak the truth, and we rest ourselves, and get new strength to go back to the world of restless men. Keep us ever like thy good world, rugged and wholesome and true. Amen.

400. For Cleanness of Life

Most merciful Lord, who hast taught us that the pure in heart shall see God, cleanse our hearts from all impurity. Give us such hatred of all that is evil and such love of all that is beautiful and strong, that we may be delivered from temptation and become a strength to others who are tempted. Amen.

401. For Right Conduct

Give us clean hands, clean words and clean thoughts, O God. Help us to stand for the hard right against the easy wrong. Save us from habits that harm. Teach us to work as hard and play as fair in thy sight alone as if all the world saw. Forgive us when we are unkind, and help us to forgive those who are unkind to us. Keep us ready to help others at some cost to ourselves. Send us chances to do a little good every day, and so to grow more like Christ. Amen.

402. For Consecration to Our Work

Give thy blessing, we pray thee, to this our daily work, that we may do it in faith heartily as to the Lord, and not unto men. All our powers of body and mind are thine, and we would fain devote them to thy service. Sanctify them and the work in which they are engaged; let us not be slothful, but fervent in spirit, and do thou, O Lord, so bless our efforts, that we may bring forth in us the fruits of true wisdom. Amen.

403. Day Unto Day

Our Father, each day is a little life, each night a tiny death; help us to live with faith and hope and love. Lift our duty above drudgery; let not our strength fail, or the vision fade, in the heat and burden of the day. O God, make us patient and pitiful one with another in the fret and jar of life, remembering that each fights a hard fight and walks a lonely way.

Forgive us, O Lord, if we hurt our fellow souls; teach us a gentler tone, a sweeter charity of words, and a more healing touch. Sustain us, O God, when we must face sorrow; give us courage for the day and hope for the morrow. Day unto day may we lay hold of thy hand and look up into thy face, whatever befall, until our work is finished and the day is done. In his name, Amen.

404. Purposeful Life

O thou Christ of Galilee, who didst go into the homes and the hearts of many folk, and kindle there a light which has burned through all the centuries, make us humble sharers of thy glory and goodness, that so, we may find a purpose and meaning in life.

Teach us to speak and act so that we may cheer and help men. Amen

405. For the Good Life*

O God, we bless thee for the joy of life, the wonder of life, the discipline of labor and sorrow, the glory of struggle and adventure.

Life is a capacity for the highest;

Help us to make it a pursuit of the best — a winged and singing life in thee, through Jesus Christ, the Lord of all good life. Amen.

406. Beauty and Joy

Creator of life and light,
We bless thee for the beauty of the world;
We thank thee for physical joy;
For the ectasy of swift motion; for deep water to swim in;
For the goodly smell of rain on dry ground;
For hills to climb and hard work to do;
For music that lifts our hearts in one breath to heaven;
For all thy sacraments of beauty and joy, we thank thee.
We thank thee, O God, for the poetry of movement;
For a bird on the wing, a hare at the run;
For a train thundering through the night;
For a yacht with spread of sail;
For a man running and a child dancing.
Amen.

407. The Quest

In the spirit of those in the past who have gone forth on great quests, we enter into the fellowship of worship.

May the spirit of an eager searcher enter into our hearts, O God.

In memory of all those who have searched unselfishly for the secrets of the world, we worship side by side.

And grant, our Lord, that we too may be willing to pay the price where the quest of our hearts becomes more costly than we now think. Amen.

408. For the Pioneer Spirit

Dear heavenly Father, be with us on the open road of life, be our good comrade in the every day burdens that we must carry on the road.

Help us to be pioneers in finding unknown truths of life.

Help us to discover in our adventures on the road new ways and byways of love, beauty, service and truth.

This we ask in the name of the Great Companion of the Way. Amen.

409. Friendship

O Lord, grant to us so to love thee with all our heart, with all our mind, and with all our soul, and our neighbor for thy sake, that the grace of charity and brotherly love may dwell in us, and all envy, harshness and ill will may die in us; and fill our hearts with feelings of love, kindness and compassion, so that, by constantly rejoicing in the happiness and good success of others, by sympathizing with them in their sorrows, and putting away all harsh judgments and envious thought, we may follow thee, who art thyself the pure and perfect love, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

410. The Sabbath

In thy wisdom and justice, O Father, thou hast given to us this special day in which to rest, to enjoy our beautiful world, to think of thee and all whom thou dost love.

Forgive us, we pray thee, that so often in carelessness and selfishness we forget thee.

On this holy day speak to our hearts and help us to remember the countless blessings thou hast prepared for our good.

May this be a day which we shall spend as Jesus did, worshipping thee in thy holy temple, walking through fields and by the lake, talking of thee, doing good to all who need our help.

Forbid that through our selfishness the day should be hard for others.

Teach us to be considerate, kind and just, doing unto others on this day as on all days, as we would that they should do unto us.

Accept, we pray, the worship of loving hearts and devotion of daily lives in which we remember others and forget ourselves. Amen.

411. Flames of Fire

God of the rushing wind and the flaming tongue, we pray for thy church of many names, so beset with bewilderment in a new and confused time.

Heal it of ancient schism, we pray thee; purge it of pride, and renew the vision grown dim in its heart.

Teach us, O Lord, that it is not by might, nor by power, but by thy spirit, that the Gospel will run and be glorified through us, sending thy light and thy truth into the dark places of the earth.

Spirit of light and power, at whose altar we bow,

Rekindle a heroic and mighty faith in the heart of thy Church;

Let not the gates of Hell prevail against it.

May it be baptized anew with the spirit of unity, the flame of vision, and the sacrificial passion of Christ, that its stammering voice may become a redeeming anthem in a discordant world;

In the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

412. The Book of Books*

Lord, we thank thee for a wise and deep-hearted book that tells us that thy goodness is over all, like the mercy of the morning,
and tenderness of the evening.
Help us to give our souls to its heavenly wisdom,
its vision of the unseen,
its passion for righteousness,
its pity for man.
Teach us to read it, love it and live with it,
until its spirit mingles with our spirit,
making us pure of heart and fruitful in goodness. Amen.

413. Prayer for all Workers

Guide, protect and inspire, our heavenly Father, all those who learn and labor truly to get their own living:
For men who face peril,
For women who suffer pain,
For those who till the earth,
For those who tend machinery,
For those who strive on the deep waters,
For those who venture in far countries,
For those who work in offices and warehouses,
For those who labor at furnaces and in factories,
For those who toil in mines,
For those who buy and sell,
For those who keep house,
For those who train children,
For all who live by strength of arm,
For all who live by cunning of hand,
For all who control, direct, or employ,
For all who enrich the common life through art, and science, and learning,
For all who guide the common thought, as writers or as teachers,
For all who may serve the common good as pastors, physicians, lawyers, merchants, and for all social workers, leaders, and statesmen, we beseech thee. Amen.

414. For Our City

O God, we pray thee for this, the city of our love and pride. We rejoice in her spacious beauty and her busy ways of commerce, in her stores and factories where hand joins hand in toil, and in her blessed homes where heart joins heart for rest and love. Help us to make our city the common workshop of our people, where every one will find his place and task, keen to do his best with hand and mind. Bind our citizens together, not by the bond of money and profit alone, but by the glow of neighborly good-will, by the thrill of common joys, and the pride of common possessions. May we ever remember that our city's true wealth and greatness consist not in the abundance of the things we possess, but in the justice of her institutions and the brotherly ways of her citizens. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

415. For True Patriotism

God of the nations, Father of all, we would worship thee in the spirit of true patriotism; with reverence to thy holy name, honor and glory to all that thy spirit, working in thy world, has created, and love shown in deeds of courage and true valor.

We praise thee for brave men and courageous deeds which have brought our country to its place of leadership among the nations. Help us to prize and guard the noble heritage which is ours in the heroic achievement of liberty and law.

Forgive us for any thought or deed hich might endanger the freedom rought for us by our forefathers. ive truth to our words, and courage our deeds as we make patriotism eautiful with loyalty and devotion. men.

416. A Bethany Home

Make this home a Bethany, our aviour. Sit with us at the table. raw us from our worldly cares as thou dst draw Martha. Be our life as ou wert the life of Lazarus. Show s, as thou didst Mary, the better art, we ask it in thy name. Amen.

417. For Our Home

Our Father in heaven, we would everently recognize thee in all that e do, and give thee thanks for all that ou dost make possible in our lives.

We thank thee for all the gentle and ealing ministries of life:

For gladness of the morning, for reedom of the wind, for music of the ain, for joy of the sunshine, and the eep calm of the night; for trees and owers and clouds and skies; for the ender ministries of human love, the nselfishness of parents, the love that inds man and woman, the confidence nd affection of little children, and the trength and devotion of friends.

We would dedicate our home to-day o a love and loyalty to thee, and to he service and blessing of our fellowen, in the name of our Master, who hared the friendship and hospitality f homes, when he was here upon arth. Amen.

418. Mother's Day

ord Jesus, thou hast known mother's love and tender care, nd thou wilt hear while for my own mother most dear
I make this Sabbath prayer.
Protect her life, I pray,
Who gave the gift of life to me;
And may she know from day to day,
the deepening glow
Of joy that comes from thee.
I cannot pay my debt
For all the love that she has given;
But thou, love's Lord, wilt not forget her due reward —
Bless her in earth and heaven. Amen.

419. Christmas

All the earth rejoices in the gladness of good will, and, everywhere, men's hungry hearts await the word of peace.

May we be messengers of Christmas joy to the world, our Lord Emmanuel, bearers of its glad tidings, servants of its gracious spirit, and toilers for its lasting good will.

May there be nothing selfish in our Christmas rejoicings, but may we ever seek to bring all mankind the happiness we crave for ourselves, and thus learn how much joy there is in giving. Amen.

420. Transcending All Differences

Almighty Father, we, who are members of different races and faiths, desire together to worship thy holy name in fellowship with each other. Thou art our Father, and we are thy children; show us that our hopes and fears and aspirations are one. Forgive, O God, the envies, suspicions and misunderstandings which have blinded our eyes and thrust us asunder. Purify our hearts, and teach us to walk together in the laws of thy commandments and in the ways of human friendship.

Help us, O God, to give honor where honor is due, regardless of race, color, or creed, following what our inmost heart tells us to be thy will. Deepen our respect for unlikeness and our eagerness to understand one another, that, in a higher unity of the Spirit, we may transcend our differences. Gladly may we share thy best gifts, working together to build thy City upon earth, we ask in thy holy name. Amen.

HIGH RESOLVES

421. The Morning

O Light, which scatters the shadows that have hidden the flowers and darkened the streets, thou art God's messenger to us.

Be the light of our minds, as the sun is the light of the day. Take away every evil thought that leaves its shadows there. Drive out the darkness of anger, selfishness and impurity. Make us centers of thy sunshine, that we may reflect thy Spirit and scatter cheerfulness about us. May we, with the birds and fields, catch the joy of the morning and carry from this prayer the feeling of thy nearness all through the day.

422. Everyday

O God, whose splendor fills the world, yet who revealest thyself in the song of a bird, in the face of a flower, in a cup of cold water given to a brother man; teaching us thereby that nothing set for us to do is so small that it may not be glorified in thy name, if we bring the highest truth to the humblest toil; mercifully grant that all our purest visions may ever tend to the plainest duty, and our holiest aspirations touch and transfigure the tasks of every day; that we may serve thy holy will, not fitfully, but in constancy and joy.

423. Motherhood

We bless thee for the great and precious ideal of motherhood.

We praise thee for the present joy and the lasting influence of all good mothers.

We think of the noble women all over the world and in all times who have prayed God to bless them with children, and then have prayed him to bless their children.

We thank thee, our heavenly Father, for the mothers who freely offered themselves that we might live.

We think of their love and their loyalty, their gentleness and their strength, their kindness and care, their sacrifice and patience.

Help us, O God, to honor them by our thoughts, by our words, by our actions, by our appreciation and by our gratitude.

Help us so to learn and grow and live that we may become the fulfilling of our mother's desires and prayers for us.

May we be kind to them as they have been kind to us; may we help them as they have helped us.

424. Christmas

Drive back the gray shadows which the years have cast over us, and let us see thy guiding Star and hear a music not of earth. Let not our souls be busy inns that have no room for thee and thine, but homes of prayer and praise, ready for thy welcoming. Make us to know that near us, even in our city, is Christ the Saviour, whom seeking with joy, we shall find. Humbly we offer our Christmas prayer.

425. For Friendship

We thank thee for the gift of friendship, that makes people care for one another, for the power of love that drives out that which is greedy and mean in human hearts.

We thank thee for those who make our lives happy. May we give them comradeship and love in return. Keep us from being fickle, and make us dependable and loyal.

Guide us in our friendships that we may choose high-minded and worthy companions, whose association will make us better men and women, and who will be our life-long friends. Above all, we want thee as our closest companion through life.

426. For a Worthy Career

We pray that high ambitions may guide us, that we may always keep in mind the goal for which we are working. As we study our daily lessons and go about our tasks, help us to keep our big purposes before us, so that we shall not get discouraged or give up through thinking only of the little job at hand. May we be dissatisfied with second-rate ambitions and seek for the highest place that we can fill.

Guide us in our plans. We pray for a vocation of usefulness, a big and challenging life which will draw out the best that is in us, and which will lead us to play our part in making the world better.

427. For Respect for Law

We are grateful for the government of our nation which protects us from danger and makes it possible for us to be free and happy. Help us to uphold its laws. May we never be guilty of destroying public property or making light of regulations about quietness, cleanliness and decency.

Help us when driving a car not to lose our heads for the sake of a momentary thrill and thus endanger the lives of others as well as our own. May we have backbone enough to resist the company of those who flippantly break the law. Help us to make our community what it ought to be by respecting its laws and being a public-spirited citizen.

428. For New Americans

Father of all people everywhere, bless the new Americans who come in year by year from foreign lands. Help them in their loneliness to find friends, to get work and to be happy. May they feel that America is their country.

Help us, as people from all countries, to live together in this great world-nation. May we forget all difference in color and language and work for the future of our land, seeking to make it a home of freedom and brotherhood. Help us to be more considerate of these immigrants, remembering that they may have more to give to America than we have. May we never speak disrespectfully of them, but treat them as our brothers and work with them for a greater America.

429. Youth's Desire

Teach me, Eternal, how thine orders run, and I will follow to the end; instruct me how to carry out thy law, and I will keep it with all my heart; lead me in thine obedience, for it is my joy. Incline my heart to thy behests, and to no love of gain, make me alive to follow thee, and turn mine eyes from cravings vain. Fulfil thy promise to thy servant, to advance thy faith; remove the insults that I dread, and intervene for good; as thou art true, revive me; I am yearning for thy will.

Devotional Poetry and Prose

MORNING AND EVENING WORSHIP

430. Some Gay, Adventurous Thing

The day will bring some lovely thing,
I say it over each new dawn;
"Some gay, adventurous thing to hold Against my heart, when it is gone."
And so I rise and go to meet
The day with wings upon my feet.

I come upon it unaware —
Some sudden beauty without name;
A snatch of song, a breath of pine,
A poem lit with golden flame;
High tangled bird notes, keenly thinned,
Like flying color on the wing.

No day has ever failed me quite —
Before the grayest day is done,
I come upon some misty bloom
Or a late line of crimson sun.
Each night I pause, remembering
Some gay, adventurous, lovely thing.

431. God's World

The year's at the spring;
The day's at the morn;
Morning's at seven;
The hillside's dew-pearled;
The lark's on the wing;
The snail's on the thorn;
God's in his heaven —
All's right with the world.

432. Purpose for This Day

I will this day try to live a simple, sincere and serene life; repelling promptly every thought of discontent, anxiety, discouragement, impurity and self-seeking; cultivating cheerfulness, magnanimity, charity and the habit of holy silence; exercising economy in expenditure, carefulness in conversation, diligence in appointed service, fidelity to every trust and child-like faith in God.

433. The Stainless White Radiance*

There comes the morning with the golden basket in her right hand, bearing the wreath of beauty, silently to crown the earth. And there comes the evening over the lonely meadows deserted by herds, through trackless paths, carrying cool draughts of peace in her golden pitcher from the western ocean of rest. But there where spreads the infinite sky for the soul to take her flight in, reigns the stainless white radiance. There is no day nor night, nor form nor color, and never, never, a word.

THE MIGHTY GOD

434. God

God is beauty.
God is love.
God is understanding.
God is quietness and rest.
God is peace.
God is the song of ecstacy, that bursts in the springtime.
God is the blue of a calm day in summer.
God is the faith that comes where there is no reason for faith.
God is the voice of a bell, the peal of a trumpet.

---

* From Gitanjali by Tagore, copyright by The Macmillan Company.

God is timeless, speechless.
God is all heights and all depths.
God is beyond all and in all.
God is simplicity, enveloped by us in complexity.
God is perfection among imperfections.
God is a perfect poem.
God is God.

MAKER OF HEAVEN AND EARTH

435. Voices of God

God! Let the torrents, like a shout of nations,
Answer! and let the ice-plains echo, God!
God! Sing the meadow-streams with gladsome voice.
Ye pine-groves, with your soft and soul-like sounds.
And they too have a voice, yon piles of snow,
And in their perilous fall shall thunder, God!
Ye living flowers that skirt the eternal frost,
Ye wild goats sporting round the eagle's nest,
Ye eagles, playmates of the mountain-storm,
Ye lightnings, the dread arrows of the clouds,
Ye signs and wonders of the elements,
Utter forth God, and fill the hills with praise.

436. Learn About God

Flower in the crannied wall,
I pluck you out of the crannies; —
Hold you here, root and all, in my hand,
Little flower — but if I could understand
What you are, root and all, and all in all,
I should know what God and man is.

437. God's Trees*

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray:

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair,
Upon whose bosom snow has lain,
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

438. The One Thousandth Psalm

O God, we thank thee for everything:
For the glory and beauty and wonder of the world,
For the glory of springtime, the tints of the flowers and their fragrance;
For the glory of the summer flowers, the roses and cardinals and clethra;
For the glory of the autumn, the scarlet and crimson and gold of the forest;
For the glory of winter, the pure snow on the shrubs and trees.
We thank thee that thou hast placed us here
To use thy gifts for the good of all.

439. The One Thousandth Psalm

O God, we thank thee for everything.
For the sea and its waves, blue, green and gray and always wonderful;
For the beach and the breakers and the spray and the white foam on the rocks;
For the blue arch of heaven; for the clouds in the sky, white and gray and purple;
For the green of the grass; for the forests in their spring beauty; for the wheat and corn and rye and barley.

* From Trees and Other Poems by Joyce Kilmer, copyright, 1914, by Doubleday, Doran & Company

We thank thee for all thou hast made and that thou hast called it good;
For all the glory and beauty and wonder of the world.
We thank thee that thou hast placed us in the world to subdue all things to thy glory,
And to use all things for the good of thy children.

440. Canticle to the Sun

O most high, almighty, good Lord God, to thee belong praise, glory, honor, and all blessing!

Praised be my Lord God with all his creatures, and especially our brother, the Sun, who brings us the day and who brings us the light; fair is he and shines with a very great splendor; he signifies thee to us, O Lord.

Praised be my Lord for our sister, the Moon, and for the Stars, which he has set clear and lovely in the heavens.

Praised be my Lord for our brother, the Wind, and for Air and Cloud, Calms and all weather, by which thou upholdest life in all creatures.

Praised be my Lord for our sister, Water, who is very serviceable unto us and humble and precious and clean.

Praised be my Lord for our brother, Fire, through whom thou givest us light in darkness; and he is bright and pleasant and very mighty and strong.

Praised be my Lord for our mother, Earth, who doth sustain us and keep us, and bringeth forth divers fruits and flowers of many colors and grass.

Praised be my Lord for all those who pardon one another for his love's sake, and who endure weakness and tribulation; blessed are they who peaceably shall endure, for thou, O most High, shalt give them a crown.

Praised be my Lord for our sister, Death, from which no man escapeth. Blessed are they who are found walking by thy most holy will.

Praise ye and bless the Lord, and give thanks unto him and serve him with great humility.

441. Life as Lovely as Nature

Who does not hear an autumn anthem singing low in his heart!
Help us, O God, to make the life of man
As lovely as the world in which he lives;
The brotherliness of humanity
Equal to the beauty of nature.

442. Wind in the Pines*

Oh, I can hear you, God, above the cry
Of the tossing trees —
Rolling your windy tides across the sky
And splashing your silver seas
Over the pine,
To the water-line
Of the moon.

Oh, I can hear you, God,
Above the wail of the lonely loon —
When the pine-tops pitch and nod —
Chanting your melodies
Of ghastly waterfalls and avalanches,
Swishing your wind among the branches,
To make them pure and white.

Wash over me, God, with your piney breeze,
And your moon's wet-silver pool;
Wash over me, God, with your wind and night,
And leave me clean and cool.

443. I Shall Arrive

go to prove my soul,
see my way as birds their trackless way,
shall arrive. — What time, what circuit first,
ask not: but unless God send his hail
Of blinding fireballs, sleet, or stifling snow,
In some time, his good time, I shall arrive;
He guides me and the bird, in his good time.

SHEPHERD OF SOULS

444. A Psalm of Faith

Thou art Infinite Love.
Who can approach nigh unto thee?
Whoso findeth thee in the beauty of blossoms,
In the promise of spring,
In the fulfillment of fall,
Thinketh he hath found all things;
But verily I say:
Thou art even in the grime and sweat of slums.
I have seen thy loveliness in the brow of the immigrant,
Who striveth even as I.
Thou vouchsafest thyself to us
In the unceasing miracle of friends.

In the rush and roar of trains, thou art there;
And in the toiling of cities, thou art there;
Thou art in the march of the thousands that throng in the great crusade:
Thou art of the homeless and of the outcast.
Thou sittest by us in the lonely places,
When we have come face to face with our sins;
And in the wonder of thine Infinite Love, thou takest us to thy heart —
Thou who art the pulse and entity of all our lives!

445. Care for My Needs

Out of my need you come to me, O Father,
Not as a spirit, gazing from on high,
Not as a wraith, gigantic in its outlines,
Waiting against the tumult of the sky!
Father, you come to me in threads of music,
And in the blessedness of whispered mirth,
And in fragrance of frail garden flowers
When summer lies across the drowsy earth!

Out of my need you come to me, O Father,
When I can scarcely see the path ahead —
It is your hand that turns the sky, at evening,
Into a sea of throbbing, pulsing red —
It is your call that sounds across the marshes,
It is your smile that touches fields of grain,
Painting them with pale gold; it is your nearness
That makes me see new beauty, after pain!

Out of my need you come to me, O Father —
Not as a presence vast and great and still,
But as the purple mist that clings, each morning
To the slim summit of a pine-crowned hill.
Not as a vague and awful power that urges,
Urges and prods and hurries me along —
But as a hand that paints a lovely picture,
But as a voice that sings a tender song!

THE ETERNAL SPIRIT

446. Beholding God

Why should I wish to see God better than this day?
I see something of God each hour of the twenty-four, and each moment then;
In the faces of men and women I see God, and in my own face in the glass;
I find letters from God dropped in the street, and every one is signed by God's name;
And I leave them where they are, for I know that wheresoe'er I go
Others will punctually come for ever and ever.

447. The Soul of Jesus is Restless

The soul of Jesus is restless today;
Christ is tramping through the spirit-world,
Compassion in his heart for the fainting millions;
He trudges through China, througn Poland,
Through Russia, Austria, Germany, Armenia;
Patiently he pleads with the Church, tenderly he woos her.

The wounds of his body are bleeding afresh
For the sorrows of his shepherdless people.
We besiege him with selfish petitions,
We weary him with our petty ambitions,
From the needy we bury him in piles of carved stone,
We obscure him in the smoke of stuffy incense,
We drown his voice with the snarls and shrieks
Of our disgruntled bickerings,
We build temples to him with hands that are bloody,
We deny him the needs and sorrows
Of the exploited "least of his brethren."
The soul of Jesus is restless to-day, but eternally undismayed.

THE LIVING WORD

448. The Universal Book

How many ages and generations
Have brooded and wept and agonized
Over this Book!
What untellable joys and ecstacies,
What support to martyrs at the stake!
To what myriads has it been
The shore and rock of safety —
The refuge from the driving tempest and wreck.
Translated into all languages,
How it has united this diverse world!
Of its thousands there is not a verse,
Not a word but is thick-studded
With human emotion.

449. God's Word

We search the world for truth. We cull
The good, the true, the beautiful,
From graven stone and written scroll,
And all the old flower-fields of the soul;
And, weary seekers of the best,
We come back laden from the quest,
To find that all the sages said
Is in the Book our mothers read.

450. A New Light

Softly I closed the Book as in a dream
And let its echoes linger to redeem
Silence with its music, darkness with its gleam.

That day I worked no more. I could not bring
My hands to toil, my thoughts to trafficking.
A new light shone on every common thing.

Celestial glories flamed before my gaze.
That day I worked no more. But, to God's praise,
I shall work better all my other days.

EMMANUEL — GOD WITH US

451. The Spirit of the Christ Child

The Christmas candles are burned out; the carols have died away; the star is set; all the radiant song-thrilled night is past.
Thou alone, the eternal, remainest, and thou art enough.
Remain to me more beautiful, more beloved, more real than any of the romance that clusters around thy Birthday.

452. Christmas Everywhere

Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas to-night!
Christmas in lands of the fir tree and pine,
Christmas in lands of the palm tree and vine,
Christmas where snow peaks stand solemn and white,
Christmas where corn fields lie sunny and bright,
Christmas where children are hopeful and gay,
Christmas where old men are patient and gray,
Christmas where peace like a dove in its flight
Broods o'er brave men in the thick of the fight;
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas to-night!
For the Christ child who comes is the Master of all;
No palace too great and no cottage too small.

453. Far Trumpets Blowing

A King might miss the guiding star,
A wise man's foot might stumble;
For Bethlehem is very far
From all except the humble.

But he who gets to Bethlehem
Shall hear the oxen lowing;
And, if he humbly kneel with them,
May catch far trumpets blowing.

454. Room for the Christ Child

The blasts of winter are fierce and cold,
The snow lies deep over hill and wold,
But a star shines bright through the deepening gloom,
Room for the Christ Child, room.

Where man's distrust and his greed for gain
Have frozen the floods of tender rain,
Till never a flower of hope can bloom;
Room for the Christ Child, room.

In homes that deepest griefs have borne,
'Mid silent forms of those that mourn,
In the shadows that gather round the tomb;
Room for the Christ Child, room.

Where nations are warring, life for life,
And a cry rings out from the fearful strife
As a dying people sinks to its doom;
Room for the Christ Child, room.

THE GROWING CHRIST

455. Christ, Straight and Wise*

The young child, Christ, is straight and wise
And asks questions of the old men, questions
Found under running water for all children,
And found under shadows thrown on still waters

---

* From Chicago Poems by Carl Sandburg, copyright by Henry Holt and Company

By tall trees looking downwards, old and gnarled,
Found to the eyes of children alone, untold,
Singing a low song in the loneliness.
And the young child, Christ, goes asking,
And the old men answer nothing, and only know love
For the young child, Christ, straight and wise.

456. Judean Hills are Holy

Judean hills are holy,
Judean hills are fair,
For one can find the footprints
Of Jesus everywhere.
One finds them in the twilight
Beneath the singing sky
Where shepherds watch, in wonder,
White planets wheeling by.

His trails are on the hillsides
And down the dales and deeps;
He walks the high horizons
Where vesper-silence sleeps.
He haunts the lowly highways
Where human hopes have trod
The Via Dolorosa
Up to the heart of God.

He looms a lonely figure
Along the fringe of night,
As lonely as a cedar
Against the lonely light.
Judean hills are holy,
Judean hills are fair,
For one can find the footprints
Of Jesus everywhere.

457. Joses, the Brother of Jesus

Joses, the brother of Jesus, plodded from day to day
With never a vision within him to glorify his clay;
Joses, the brother of Jesus, was one with the heavy clod,
But Christ was the soul of rapture, and soared, like a lark, with God.
Joses, the brother of Jesus, was only a worker in wood,
And he never could see the glory that Jesus, his brother, could.
"Why stays he not in the workshop?" he often used to complain,
"Sawing the Lebanon cedar, imparting to woods their stain?
Why must he go thus roaming, forsaking my father's trade,
While hammers are busily sounding, and there is gain to be made?"
Thus ran the mind of Joses, apt with plummet and rule,
And deeming whoever surpassed him either a knave or a fool, —
For he never walked with the prophets in God's great garden of bliss —
And of all mistakes of the ages, the saddest, methinks, was this:
To have such a brother as Jesus, to speak with him day by day,
But never to catch the vision which glorified his clay.

458. Jesus Saith

A little Child, a Joy-of Heart, with eyes
Unsearchable, he grew in Nazareth,
His daily speech so innocently wise
That all the town went telling: "Jesus saith."

MASTER AND FRIEND

459. Who are You, Jesus?

Who are you, Jesus?
I am the Light of the World,
I am the Water of Life,
I am the Good Shepherd,
I will see you again and your heart shall rejoice,
And your joy no one taketh away from you.
These things have I spoken unto you that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full.

The fruit of the Spirit is joy.
And God is like that.

460. The Song of a Heathen

(Sojourning in Galilee, A. D. 32)

If Jesus Christ is a man —
And only a man — I say
That of all mankind I cleave to him,
And to him will I cleave alway.

If Jesus Christ is a god —
And the only God — I swear
I will follow him through heaven and hell,
The earth, the sea and the air!

461. A Fisherman Speaks

Anno Domini 33

Oh, he who walked with fishermen
Was man of men in Galilee;
He told us endless wonder-tales,
His laugh was hale and free.

The water, changed he into wine,
To please a poor man's company;
I saw him walk one wretched night
Upon a troubled sea.

And when the rabble cried for blood,
I saw him nailed upon a tree;
He showed how a brave man could die;
The Prince of Men was he.

And rough men, we, who never wept,
Wept when they nailed him to the tree;
Oh, he was more than man, who walked
With us in Galilee.

462. Napoleon Speaks for Christ

Alexander, Caesar, Charlemagne and I have founded great empires, but upon what did these creations of our genius depend? Upon force! Jesus alone founded his empire on love, and to this very day millions would die for him. I think I understand something of human nature, and I tell you that all these were men, and I am a man. None else is like him. Jesus Christ was more than a man.

463. Fling Wide the Gates

Love Divine, love lowly-hearted,
Our city's gates stand widely open to thy welcome.
Without thee the people are uncrowned,
Tumult and rebellion break forth,
Truth is perished in the street,
And justice fallen at our gates.
Come and establish thy kingdom in our midst,
Sending peace on the earth,
Peace in the hearts of men.
Apart from thee all temples stand desolate,
Unblessed by sacrifice,
Unsanctioned by altar fires,
Unhallowed by thankful song.
Hear us as we cry:
Hosanna in the highest;
Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

464. Palm Sunday

He is coming! He is coming!
We hear triumphal shoutings from the eager marching throng;
We catch the thrilling music of the children's lifted song;
The very stones are throbbing to break into acclaim,
And all the hills exultant to re-echo back his name.
Break all our fronded branches and strew them in his way,
Our strength and all our beauty belong to him to-day.

THE LIVING CHRIST

465. He Still Lives!

The world cannot bury Christ.
The earth is not deep enough for his tomb;
The clouds are not wide enough for his winding sheet.
He ascends into the heavens,
But the heavens cannot contain him.
He still lives — in the church which burns unconsumed with his love;
In the truth that reflects his image;
In the hearts which burn as he talks with them by the way.

466. Nature's Victorious Life

O ice and snow, O frost and cold,
O bitter death, that bound the world!
O biting winds and frozen mold —
Farewell!
Ho, land! ho, living waters, sing!
For God has sent us back his spring!
Hark how the sylvan voices cry,
Our God is love! Love cannot die!
Sure as the peace that follows strife,
The resurrection's glorious life!

FOLLOWING THE CHRIST

467. I Know a Name

I know a soul that is steeped in sin,
That no man's art can cure;
But I know a Name, a Name, a Name,
That can make that soul all pure.

I know a life that is lost to God,
Bound down by things of earth;
But I know a Name, a Name, a Name,
That can bring that soul new birth.

I know of lands that are sunk in shame,
Of hearts that faint and die;
But I know a Name, a Name, a Name,
That can set those lands on fire.
Its sound is a brand, its letters flame,
I know a Name, a Name, a Name,
That will set those lands on fire.

468. The Everlasting Mercy*

The water's going out to sea
And there's a great moon calling me;
But there's a great sun calls the moon,
And all God's bells will carol soon
For joy and glory and delight
Of some one coming home to-night.

O glory of the lighted mind,
How dead I've been, how dumb, how blind.
The station brook, to my new eyes,
Was babbling out of Paradise,
The waters rushing from the rain
Were singing Christ has risen again.
I thought all earthly creatures knelt
From rapture of the joy I felt.

THE TEMPLE OF THE BODY

469. My Body

My body is a cathedral where I am supreme;
I am the priest,
The congregation,
The altar, and the white
Burning candles and their yellow light.
My solitude is multitude
For there I speak with God.

470. Life of My Life

Life of my life, I shall ever try to keep my body pure, knowing that thy living touch is upon all my limbs.

I shall ever try to keep all untruths out of my thoughts, knowing that thou art that truth which has kindled the light of reason in my mind.

I shall ever try to drive all evils away from my heart and keep my love in flower, knowing that thou hast thy seat in the inmost shrine of my heart.

And it shall be my endeavor to reveal thee in my action, knowing it is thy power gives me strength to act.

THE RULE OF THE SPIRIT

471. Self-Mastery

Let us fight the good fight of him who strives for self-mastery.
I will seek to win the noble victory of one who conquers himself.
Who liveth bravely?
He who fears nothing but to do wrong.
Who liveth greatly?
He who adorns each day with victories over himself.
Who liveth in freedom?
He who learns to do easily what at first was hard, — because it makes for the welfare of others.

472. Gifts of the Spirit*

These are the gifts I ask
Of thee, Spirit serene;
Strength for the daily task,
Courage to face the road,
Good cheer to help me bear the traveller's load,
And, for the hours of rest that come between,
An inward joy in all things heard and seen.

These are the sins I fain
Would have thee take away;
Malice and cold disdain,
Hot anger, sullen hate,
Scorn of the lowly, envy of the great,
And discontent that casts a shadow gray
On all the brightness of the common day.

473. Lord of the Mountain

Lord of the mountain,
Hear a young man's prayer.
Hear a prayer for cleanness.
Keeper of the strong rain
Drumming on the mountain;
Lord of the small rain
That restores the earth in newness,
Keeper of the clean rain,
Hear a prayer for wholeness.
Keeper of the paths of men,
Hear a prayer for straightness,
Hear a prayer for courage.
Lord of the thin peak,
Keeper of the headlands,
Keeper of the strong rocks,
Hear a prayer for staunchness,
O Lord and spirit of the mountain.

474. Temptation

Was the trial sore?
Temptation sharp? Thank God a second time!
Why comes temptation but for man to meet
And master, and make crouch beneath his foot,
And so be pedestalled in triumph? Pray
"Lead us into no such temptations, Lord!"
Yea, but, O thou whose servants are the bold,
Lead such temptations by the head and hair,
Reluctant dragons, up to who dares fight,
That so he may do battle and have praise.

475. For Loyalty

The spirit of loyalty be ours that we may make the most and the best of life: loyalty to convictions, which imparts strength of character and creates the straight path of action; loyalty to friends, which is the sign and token of a noble heart; loyalty to country, for enlightened patriotism is the very soul of our republic. Inspired by this spirit we shall walk, not in the darkness of indecision and weakness, but in the light, as loyal followers of him who was the Light of the world.

476. The Voice, the Power, and the Angel

For the Voice within us which bids us do right, and yet leaves us free,

For our Power to obey the Voice,

For the Angel of Shame that besets us, when we do not obey it, we are thankful: the Voice and the Power and the Angel, they all are from thee.

May we learn to say, — What we ought, that we can; what we can, God helping, we will!

COURAGE

477. For Strength

This is my prayer:

Give me the strength lightly to bear my joys and sorrows.

Give me the strength to make my love fruitful in service.

Give me the strength never to disown the poor or bend my knees before insolent might.

Give me the strength to raise my mind high above daily trifles.

And give me the strength to surrender my strength to thy will in love.

478. Fight On

When the fight begins within himself,
A man's worth something. God stoops o'er his head,
Satan looks up between his feet, — both tug —
He's left, himself, i' the middle: the Soul awakes
And grows. Prolong that battle through this life!
Never leave growing till the life to come.

479. Right and True

O, that I as right and true might be
As a flower or a tree.
That the sweetness of the wheat
Into my soul might pass,
And the clear courage of the grass.

GOOD WORKMANSHIP

480. Youth Builds

Youth of the world, unite!
Youth of the world, strive, fight
For what you deem the right.

Youth sees with surer eyes,
Because its eyes are clear
Of prejudice and fear.
Youth need not compromise.

No compromise with wrong —
Let this our slogan be.
The league of youth is strong,
Stretching from sea to sea.

This world is ours to take;
This world is ours to make.
Let us build true and sure
A world that will endure;
Build out of right and truth,
Reared with this tool — our youth.

481. Building Forever

When we build, let us think that we build forever. Let it not be for present delight, nor for present use alone; let it be such work as our descendants will thank us for, and let us think, as we lay stone on stone, that a time is to come when those stones will be held sacred because our hands have touched them, and that men will say as they look upon the labor and wrought substance of them — "See! This our Fathers did for us."

482. The Gift of Labor

"O, I will give you glory," said God, as he bent him over
Man, asleep in the Garden, breathing his soul awake;
"I give you the Urge of Doing, and it shall be like a lover,
To flower your life, and fruit it; you shall grow by the things you make."

So there were men in Iran who wrought black tents, and saddles;
And swarthy Egyptians, gladdened by the Cheop's slow increase;
So there were boatmen, northward, who hewed broadbladed paddles,
And set slim shallops for venture on the rim of the Seven Seas.

So came frowning Homer, with the poet's nice decisions,
Raphael at a canvas, bewitched by a dream sublime;
Plato's thought, rebuilding the world to its broader visions;
Prophets, stepping over the broken walls of time;

Statesmen, piecing nations from the scraps of a hundred quarrels;
Women, weaving baskets in a mist-blue mountain cove;
And not one thinking of silver, not one of the wreath of laurels,
But each of the lifting vision that should end in a thing to love.

"O, I shall give you gladness," said God, as he brooded over Man, awake in the Garden, with the ages before him laid;
"King, you may be, or peasant, builder, weaver, or rover —
But your soul must come to beauty through the things that your dreams have made."

483. We Shall Build On

We shall build on!
Firm on the Rock of Ages,
City of saints and sages,
Laugh while the tempest rages,
We shall build on!
Christ, though my hands be bleeding,
Fierce though my flesh be pleading,
Still let me see thee leading,
Let me build on!
Till through death's cruel dealing,
Brain-wrecked and reason-reeling,
I hear Love's trumpets pealing,
And I pass on!

TRUSTWORTHINESS

484. The Spirit of Reality

Christ, whom the common people heard gladly,
Lord of sincerity and truth,
Before whom all that is hollow
And unreal shrivels up and is consumed away;
Give us the spirit of reality;
Help us fearlessly and honestly
To seek for truth and to listen to thy challenge;
Cleanse us from prejudice and partisanship,
And purge out from our inmost souls,
O Lord, whatsoever loveth and maketh a lie.

485. Four Things

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true:
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellowmen sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust in God and heaven securely.

THE QUEST OF TRUTH

486. There is no Unbelief

There is no unbelief;
Whoever plants a seed beneath the sod
And waits to see it push away the clod —
He trusts in God.
There is no unbelief;
Whoever says beneath the sky,
"Be patient, heart; light breaketh by and by,"
Trusts the Most High.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever sees 'neath winter's field of snow,

The silent harvest of the future grow —
God's power must know.

There is no unbelief;
Whoever lies down on his couch to sleep,
Content to lock each sense in slumber deep,
Knows God will keep.

There is no unbelief;
For thus by day and night unconsciously
The heart lives by the faith the lips deny.
God knoweth why.

487. Great is Truth

Great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about and fetcheth his course again to his own place. Is not the Maker of these things great? All the earth calleth upon Truth, and the heaven blesseth her: for with her is no unrighteous thing. . . . As for Truth, she abideth and is strong forever; she liveth, and conquereth for evermore. . . . She is the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the God of Truth. . . . Great is Truth, and strong above all things.

THE QUEST OF BEAUTY

488. The Things of the Spirit

Thank God for the things of the spirit!
There! A meadow lark sings! Do you hear it?
For the sigh of the heart,
The contagion of laughter,
For the longing apart,
For the joy that comes after
For the things that we feel
When we clasp, when we kneel —
Thank God for the sharing,
The caring, the giving,
For the things of Life's living.

Thank God for the riches
Of flowers in the ditches,
For the roof from the weather,
The fireside together,
For the step at the portal,
For the love we have treasured,
For something unmeasured,
For something immortal,
For our grief, for our mirth,
For our heavens on earth.
For the things of the spirit!
There! A meadow lark sings! Do you hear it?

489. The Sky-Born Music

Let me go where'er I will
I hear sky-born music still;
It sounds from all things old,
It sounds from all things young,
From all that's fair, from all that's foul
Peals out a cheerful song.

It is not only in the rose,
It is not only in the bird,
Not only when the rainbow glows,
Nor in the song of women heard,
But in the darkest, meanest things
There alway, alway, something sings.

'Tis not in the high stars alone,
Nor in the cups of budding flowers,
Nor in the redbreast's mellow tones,
Nor in the bow that smiles in showers,
But in the mud and scum of things
There alway, alway, something sings.

490. Vision

Not for more beauty would our eyes entreat thee,
Flooded with beauty, beauty everywhere.
Only for keener vision that may greet thee
In all thy vestures of the earth and air.

491. The Inspirations of Beauty

A thing of beauty is a joy forever.
Its loveliness increases; it will never Pass into nothingness; but still will keep
A bower quiet for us, and a sleep
Full of sweet dreams, and health and quiet breathing.

If you get simple beauty and naught else,
You get about the best thing God invents.

Broad is the carpet God has spread, and beautiful are the colors he has given.
O God, whatever road I take joins the highway that leads to thee.

Earth's crammed with heaven,
And every common bush afire with God.

In mystery of arch and aisle, in splendor of massive towers and tall spires — in the towers of York and the spire of Salisbury, in Bach's Mass in B Minor — there is the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory.

492. O Beautiful Human Life

O beautiful human life!
Tears come to my eyes as I think of it.
So beautiful, so inexpressibly beautiful.
How willingly I would strew the paths of all with flowers; how beautiful a delight to make the world joyous!
The song should never be silent, the dance never still, the laugh should sound like water which runs forever.

493. The Inspiration of Nature

I pray that the life of this spring and summer may ever lie fair in my memory.
May I dare as I have never done.
May I persevere as I have never done.
May I purify myself anew as with fire and water, soul and body.
May my melody not be wanting to the season.
May I gird myself to be a hunter of the beautiful, that naught escape me.

494. Thanks

When I read a beautiful book or a great poem, or see lovely pictures — then it comes to me that I want to raise my hand to my forehead and salute, as the soldiers do when their officers go past. I want to say, "To all the great dead, to all the men and women who have been before me whose names will never be known, without whom I could never know what I know, or understand as I understand, or think as I think — Be Thanks!"

I want to say, "To all the gardeners that have been before me — to the little old first mother, who scratched earth and put in roots and grasses — to men and women of races whose names I shall never know, without whom I should never have this beauty — Thanks!"

THE QUEST OF GOODNESS

495. To Strive, to Seek, to Find

The lights begin to twinkle from the rocks:
The long day wanes: the slow moon climbs: the deep
Moans round with many voices.
Come, my friends,
'Tis not too late to seek a newer world.

Push off, and sitting well in order, smite
The sounding furrows; for my purpose holds
To sail beyond the sunset, and the paths
Of all the western stars, until I die.

It may be that the gulfs will wash us down:
It may be we shall touch the Happy Isles,
And see the great Achilles, whom we knew.
Though much is taken, much abides; and though
We are not now that strength which in old days
Moved earth and heaven; that which we are, we are;
One equal temper of heroic hearts,
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find and not to yield.

496. Life's Victors

Speak, History! Who are life's victors?
Unroll thy long annals, and say,
Are they whom the world called the victors — who won the success of a day?
The martyrs, or Nero? The Spartans who fell at Thermopylae's tryst,
Or the Persians and Xerxes? His judges or Socrates?
Pilate or Christ?

497. Faithful Souls

And I?
Is there some desert or some pathless sea
Where thou, good God of angels, wilt send me?
Some oak too for me to rend; some sod,
Some rock for me to break;
Some handful of his corn to take
And scatter far afield,
Till it, in turn, shall yield
Its hundredfold
Of grains of gold
To feed the waiting children of my God?
Show me the desert, Father, or the sea.
Is it thine enterprise? Great God, send me.
And though this body lie where ocean rolls,
Count me among all Faithful Souls.

498. Build Thee More Stately Mansions

Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul,
As the swift seasons roll!
Leave thy low-vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea!

499. Greatheart

Where are you going, Greatheart?
To lift to-day above the past;
To make tomorrow sure and fast;
To nail God's colors to the mast?
Then God go with you, Greatheart.

FRIENDSHIP

500. Unselfish Giving

The Holy Supper is kept indeed,
In what we share with another's need.
Not what we give but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare;
Who gives himself with his alms feeds three,
Himself, his hungering neighbor, and me.

501. Friendship Fire

One of the most winsome stories of Jesus is of the building of the friendship fire, the preparing of the picnic breakfast for those friends of his who were to find him there on the beach, after his resurrection, just where they may often have tramped and talked and broken bread with him before.

502. The Upward Road

I will follow the upward road to-day
I will keep my face to the light,
I will think high thoughts as I go my way,
I will do what I know is right.
I will look for the flowers by the side of the road,
I will laugh and love and be strong,
I will try to lighten another's load,
This day as I fare along.

503. The Arrow and the Song

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For, so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow still unbroke;
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.

504. Cooperation

Begin the morning by saying to thyself, I shall meet with the busybody, the ungrateful, arrogant, deceitful, envious, unsocial.

All these things happen to them by reason of their ignorance of what is good and evil.

But I who have seen the nature of the good, that it is beautiful, and of the bad and that it is ugly, and the nature of him who does wrong, that it is akin to me, not only of the same blood but that it participates in the same intelligence and the same portion of the divinity, I can neither be injured by any of them, nor hate them.

For we are made for cooperation, like feet, like hands.
To act against one another, then, is contrary to nature;
And it is acting against one another to be vexed and to turn away.
The best way of avenging thyself is not to become like the wrong-doer.
Men exist for the sake of one another.
Teach them, then, or bear with them.

THE CHALLENGE OF SERVICE

505. Pass on the Torch

I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community, and as long as I live, it is my privilege to do for it whatsoever I can.

I want to be thoroughly used up when I die, for the harder I work, the more I live.

I rejoice in life for its own sake.
Life is no "brief candle" for me,
It is a sort of splendid torch which I have got hold of for a moment, and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations.

506. The Surgeon's Hands

His face? I know not whether it be fair,
Or lined and grayed to mark the slipping years.
His eyes? I do not glimpse the pity there,
Or try to probe their depths for hopes or fears.
Only upon his wondrous hands I gaze,
And search my memory through so fittingly

To voice their loveliness. In still amaze
I bow before their quiet dignity.
They make the crooked straight and heal old sores;
The blind to see, the war-torn clean and whole.
Throughout the suffering world they touch the doors
That open wide to life. The bitter bowl
Of pain they sweeten till the weary rest,
As though the hands of Christ had served and blest.

TORCHBEARERS

507. Evidence of Faith in Modern Achievement

By faith Marconi reached out into the air, and sent the messages of mankind around the world, thus drawing all mankind into a unity of thought which makes for world friendship.

By faith Alexander Bell, in long, weary hours of study and work, achieved the telephone, linking towns, states, and continents into a fellowship of work and pleasure through the extended sound of the human voice.

By faith Edison, taking the spark of power generated in the worship of God, gave to our homes light and power for the comfort and efficiency of our daily lives.

By faith Lindbergh, solitary, and unknown, traced a pathway through the uncharted reaches of the heavens, daring the cold of the upper reaches, the depths of the waters below, and the hunger and weariness of long hours of heroic endurance, giving a new and swift way for the journeys of mankind.

What more shall we say of our great men of science, who seek out the uncharted paths of discovery; delving deep into the mysteries of the laws of the Creator, thinking God's thoughts after him, enduring many hardships and great dangers that they may make known his wonders through faith?

By faith they conquer the elements, discover the treasures of the earth, and increase the power of man until he is indeed but a little lower than God.

By faith these men have entrusted us with vast power and limitless strength in the use of their great inventions.

Wherefore, seeing that we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside evil habits, and the little sins that so easily beset us, and let us worthily maintain and increase our heritage, looking unto Jesus the Author and Finisher of our Faith.

508. Livingstone

"Recall the twenty-one years, give me back all its experiences, give me its shipwrecks, give me its standings in the face of death, give it me surrounded with savages with spears and clubs, give it me back again with spears flying about me, with the club knocking me to the ground, give it me back, and I will still be your missionary."

Forth to the fight he fared,
High things and great he dared,
He thought of all men but himself,
Himself he never spared.
He greatly loved,
He greatly lived,
And died right mightily.
He passed like light across the darkened land,

And, dying, left behind him this command:
"'The door is open. So let it ever stand.'
For mightily wrought he.

509. The Spirit of Amundsen

Your goal was not some island of the blessed,
A zone of gardens, sweet with pink and chrome;
You had no thought to find at last a home
Where you might pause, by labors unoppressed.

Fearless and strong, you set upon your quest;
Ice-fanged the ways that lured your dauntless ship,
Endless the night that held you in its grip,
But stout the heart that beat within your breast.

You are of Norman breed, brave Viking soul;
You rode the ice-bergs as a summer sea;
Their crystal peaks, their cold, strange mystery
Lured on and on, till Fate revealed your goal.

510. On! Sail On!

They sailed! They sailed! Then spake the mate:
"This mad sea shows his teeth to-night.
He lifts his lip, he lies in wait,
With lifted teeth, as if to bite.
Brave Admiral, say but one good word:
What shall we do when hope is gone?"
The words leaped like a leaping sword:
"Sail on! sail on! sail on! and on!"

* * * *

And then a speck!
A light! a light! a light! a light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled!
It grew to be Time's burst of dawn!
He gained a world; he gave that world
Its grandest lesson: "On! sail on!"

511. Latimer's Light

In Oxford town the faggots they piled,
With furious haste and curses wild,
Round two brave men of our British breed,
Who dared to stand true to their speech and deed;
Round two brave men of that sturdy race,
Who with tremorless souls the worst can face;
Round two brave souls who could keep their tryst
Through a pathway of fire to follow Christ.
And the flames leaped up, but the blinding smoke
Could not the soul of Hugh Latimer choke;
For, said he, "Brother Ridley, be of good cheer,
A candle in England is lighted here,
Which by grace of God shall never go out, —"
And that speech in whispers was echoed about, —
  Latimer's Light shall never go out,
  However the winds may blow it about;
  Latimer's Light is here to stay
  Till the trump of a coming judgment day.

COMMUNITY LOVE

512. What Makes a City Great?

What makes a city great?
Huge piles of stone heaped heavenward?
Vast multitudes who dwell within wide circling walls?
Palace and throne and riches past the count of man to tell, and wide domain?

Nay, these the empty husk!
True glory dwells where glorious deeds are done,
Where great men rise whose names, athwart the dusk of misty centuries, gleam like the sun!
In Athens, Sparta, Florence 'twas the soul
That was the city's bright immortal part.
The splendor of the spirit was their goal, their jewel, the unconquerable heart!
So may the city that I love be great,
Till every stone shall be articulate.

513. The Higher Citizenship

Athenians, I hold you in the highest regard and love,
But I will obey God rather than you;
And as long as I have breath and strength
I will not cease from philosophy, and from exorting you,
And declaring the truth to every one of you whom I meet,
Saying, as I am wont, You are a citizen of Athens,
A city which is very great and famous for wisdom and power of mind.
Are you not ashamed of caring so much for the making of money,
And for reputation?
Will you not think or care about wisdom,
And truth, and the perfection of your soul?

FATHERLAND

514. Lincoln's Speech at Gettysburg

Fourscore and seven years ago
Our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation,
Conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.
Now we are engaged in a great civil war,
Testing whether that nation or any nation,
So conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war.
We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live.
It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.
But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate,
We cannot consecrate,
We cannot hallow this ground.

The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here,
Have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract.
The world will little note or long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here.
It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is rather for us to be here dedicated
To the great task remaining before us:
That from these honored dead we take increased devotion
To that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion:

That we here highly resolve
That these dead shall not have died in vain;
That this nation, under God,
Shall have a new birth of freedom;
And that government of the people,
By the people, for the people,
Shall not perish from the earth.

515. America's Making

God built him a continent of glory and filled it with treasures untold;
He studded it with sweet flowing fountains and traced it with long winding streams;
He carpeted it with soft rolling prairies and columned it with thundering mountains;
He graced it with deep-shadowed forests and filled them with song;
Then he called unto a thousand peoples and summoned the bravest among them.
They came from the ends of the earth, each bearing a gift and a hope.
The glow of adventure was in their eyes, and in their hearts the glory of hope.
And out of the bounty of earth and the labor of men;
Out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls;
Out of the memory of ages and the hopes of the world,
God fashioned a people in love, blessed it with purpose sublime, and called it America.

516. The American Flag

I am whatever you make me, nothing more.
I swing before your eyes as a bright gleam of color,
A symbol of yourself,
A pictured suggestion of that big thing
Which makes this nation.
My stars and my stripes are your dream and your labors.
They are bright with cheer,
Brilliant with courage, firm with faith,
Because you have made them so out of your hearts.
We are all making the flag.

517. Dost Thou Prosper, Dearest Land?

They tell me thou art rich, my country;
Gold in glittering flood has poured into thy chest;
Thy flocks and herds increase, thy barns are pressed
With harvest, and thy stores can hardly hold
Their merchandise; unending trains are rolled Along thy network rails of East and West;
Thy factories and forges never rest;
Thou art enriched in all things bought and sold.
But dost thou prosper? Better news I crave.
O dearest country, is it well with thee
Indeed, and is thy soul in health?
A nobler people, hearts more wisely brave,
And thoughts that lift men Godward, make them free —
These are prosperity and vital wealth.

WORLD FRIENDSHIP

518. O Thrilling Age

To be alive in such an age!
With every year a lightning page
Turbed in the world's great wonder-book
Whereon the leaning nations look
Where men speak strong for brotherhood,
For peace and universal good;
When miracles are everywhere
And in every inch of common air
Throbs a tremendous prophecy
Of greater marvels yet to be.
O Thrilling Age!
O Willing Age!
When steel and stone and rail and rod
Welcome the utterance of God;
A trump to shout his wonder through
Proclaiming all that man can do.

519. Let the People Love

There is an enticing dream: the dream of wise freedom made contagious;
The dream of nations in love with each other, without a thought of hatred, of danger.
Clear the field for the grand tournament of the nations!
Clear the field for the tournament of man.
And who will lead the way? The good and wise must lead.
Let the people love, and they will lead.
Let the people love, and theirs is the power.

520. In the Dawn

We are standing in the great dawn of a day they did not know,
On a height they only dreamed of, toiling darkly far below;
But our gaze is toward a summit loftier, airier, mist-encurled,
Soaring skyward through the twilight from the bases of the world.
Up and up, achieving, failing, weak in flesh but strong of soul.
We may never live to reach it.—
Ah, but we have seen the goal!

521. Make Way for Brotherhood

Of all things beautiful and good,
The kingliest is brotherhood;
For it will bring again to earth
Her long lost poesy and mirth;
And till it comes these men are slaves,
And travel downward to the dust of graves.
Clear the way, then, clear the way;
Blind creeds and kings have had their day.
Break the dead branches from the path;
Our hope is in the aftermath.
To this event the ages ran:
Make way for brotherhood — make way for man.

522. Vision

Men, my brothers, men the workers, ever reaping something new;
That which they have done but earnest of the things that they shall do.
For I dipped into the future, as far as human eye could see,
Saw the Vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be;
Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails,
Pilots of the purple twilight, dropping down with costly bales;
Heard the heavens filled with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew
From the nation's airy navies grappling in the central blue;
Far along the world-wide whisper of the south-wind rushing warm,
With the standards of the peoples plunging thro' the thunder-storm;
Till the war-drum throbbed no longer, and the battle-flags were furled
In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world.

(Written 1842, fifty years before a practical airplane was flown.)

523. World Fellowship in Christ

In Christ there is no East or West,
In him no North or South,
But one great fellowship of love,
Throughout the whole wide earth.

THE LIVING CHURCH

524. The Christian Church

Let us have a church that dares
Imitate the heroism of Jesus;
Seek inspiration as he sought it;
Judge the past as he;
Act on the present like him;
Pray as he prayed;
Work as he wrought;
Live as he lived.

Let us have a church for the whole man:
Truth for the mind,
Good works for the hands,
Love for the heart;
And for the soul, that aspiration after perfection,
That unfaltering faith in God,
Which, like lightning in the clouds,
Shines brightest when elsewhere it is most dark.

525. The Church of God

Thou, whose unmeasured temple stands,
Built over earth and sea,
Accept the walls that human hands
Have raised, O God, to thee.

May erring minds that worship here
Be taught the better way;
And they who mourn and they who fear,
Be strengthened as they pray.

May faith grow firm, and love grow warm,
And pure devotion rise,
While round these hallowed walls, the storm
Of earthborn passion dies.

526. Church of the Living God

This is the church of my dreams:
The church of the warm heart,
Of the open mind,
Of the adventurous spirit;
The church that cares,
That heals hurt lives,
That comforts old people,
That challenges youth;
That knows no divisions of culture or class,
No frontiers, geographical or social;
The church that inquires as well as avers,
That looks foward as well as backward,
The church of the Master,
The church of the people,
High as the ideals of Jesus,
Low as the humblest human;
A working church,
A worshipping church,
A winsome church;
A church that interprets the truth in terms of truth;
That inspires courage for this life and hope for the life to come;
A church of courage,
A church of all good men,
The church of the living God.

HOME SHRINES

527. House Blessing*

Bless the four corners of this house,
And be the lintel blest;
And bless the hearth and bless the board
And bless each place of rest;
And bless the door that opens wide
To stranger as to kin;
And bless each crystal window-pane
That lets the starlight in;
And bless the roof-tree overhead
And every sturdy wall.
The peace of man, the peace of God,
The peace of love on all.

528. Beatitudes for the Home

Blessed are they who rejoice in their children;
To them is revealed the Fatherhood of God.
Blessed are they who know the power of love;
They dwell in God, for God is love.
Blessed are the songful of soul;
They carry light and joy to shadowed lives.
Blessed are they that see visions;
They shall rejoice in the hidden ways of God.
Blessed are they that have understanding hearts;

To them shall be multiplied kingdoms of delight.
Blessed are the childless, loving children still;
Theirs shall be a mightier family — even as the stars of heaven.
Blessed are they whose memories we cherish;
Our thoughts add jewels to their crowns.

529. The Family Altar

We build an altar here, and pray
That thou wilt show thy face.
Dear Lord, if thou wilt come to stay,
This home we consecrate to-day
Will be a Holy Place.

Lord, look upon our family kneeling before thee;
And grant us a holy, happy hour.
Help us to make this home a place of love,
A place of prayer,
A place of all beautiful living,
A place sweet with heaven's fragrance.
Help us to live each for the other,
And to find our happiness in doing good and denying ourselves.
O dear God, love this home of mine,
And all who dwell therein;
Care for our bodies, bless our hearts,
And keep our lives from sin.
God make my home a house of joy,
Where love and faith are given,
Make it the dearest place to you,
The nearest place to heaven.

530. The House Beautiful

Prayer for This House*

May nothing evil cross this door,
And may ill-fortune never pry
About these windows; may the roar
And rains go by.
Strengthened by faith, the rafters will
Withstand the battering of the storm.
This hearth, though all the world grow chill,
Will keep you warm.
Peace shall walk softly through these rooms,
Touching your lips with holy wine,
Till every casual corner blooms
Into a shrine.
Laughter shall drown the raucous shout
And, though the sheltering walls are thin,
May they be strong to keep hate out
And hold love in.

SEASONS AND HOLY DAYS

531. Outward Bound

The tugging ship is unmoored; her sails are filling with the breeze; she sniffs the spray in her nostrils; her rigging grows taut like giant muscles; the course is set; the pilot is at the helm — the New Year is outward bound!
We, too, are a ship.
Each New Year we sail forth upon a sea heretofore untraveled by our humankind.
The winds of ambition fill our sails, and the waves of adversity dash upon our decks.
We touch at ports of call — the old familiar duties; but, O, the new ports with wealth of experience and color and adventure!
Sail out, O soul of mine!
That which alone matters is that the pilot has enough faith to trust the unknown!

532. A Blessing for the Loaf

Back of the loaf is the snowy flour,
And back of the flour, the mill;
And back of the mill is the wheat and the shower,
And the sun and the Father's will.

533. Autumn

A haze on the far horizon,
The infinite tender sky,
The ripe, rich tints of the cornfields,
And the wild geese sailing high, —
And all over upland and lowland
The charm of the golden-rod,
Some of us call it Autumn
And others call it God.

534. All Hail to the New

All hail, all hail to the New!
The future lies like a world new born,
All steeped in sunshine and mists of morn,
And arched with a cloudless blue:
All hail, all hail to the New!

LIFE EVERLASTING

535. Building Eternity

We men of earth have here the stuff of paradise.
We have enough.
We need no other stones to build the stairs into the Unfulfilled.
No other ivory for the doors, no other marble for the floors,
No other cedar for the beam and dome of man's immortal dream.
Here on the common, human way is all the stuff to build a heaven.
Ours the task sublime to build eternity in time!

536. Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

537. Some Late Lark Singing

A late lark twitters from the quiet skies:
And from the west,
Where the sun, his day's work ended,
Lingers as in content,
There falls on the old, gray city
An influence luminous and serene,
A shining peace.

The smoke ascends
In a rosy-and-golden haze. The spires
Shine and are changed. In the valley
Shadows rise. The lark sings on. The sun,
Closing his benediction,
Sinks, and the darkening air
Thrills with a sense of the triumphing night —
Night with her train of stars
And her great gift of sleep.

So be my passing!
My task accomplished and the long day done,
My wages taken, and in my heart
Some late lark singing,
Let me be gathered to the quiet west,
The sundown splendid and serene,
Death.

WHAT YOUTH LIVES BY

538. My Life Dynamic

I believe in the wonder of the out-of-doors, in the inspiration of the stars; I believe in the strength of the hills, in the silence of the night, and in the music of the birds and trees; I believe that my body was made for action, that my mind was made for thinking, and that my heart was made for loving.

539. My Future

I believe that he whose mercies are new every morning and fresh every evening, who brings into every epoch of my life a new surprise, and makes in every experience a new disclosure of his love, who sweetens gladness with gratitude and sorrow with comfort, who makes every year better than the year preceding and every new experience an evidence of his skill in gift-giving, has for me a future of glad surprise, which I would not forecast if I could.

540. Immortality

I believe that the life everlasting flows from the Fatherhood of God as the stream from the spring.

I believe that the Risen Christ is the visible witness to the sublime truth that the grave has no victory, and death no sting.

I believe that immortality is something to be lived rather than something to be proved.

I believe that the universe is God's house, that this world is not the only habitat of the living, but that in his house are many rooms.

I believe in holding daily life under the quiet light of eternity, and in pasturing our thoughts in the amazing love of God.

I. Mountains of Vision

A Service, using Unison and Responsive Readings from the King James, American Revised, and Goodspeed Translations of the Bible.

(For the New Year, Anniversary Occasions, and Rally Day)

Prelude—There's a Light upon the Mountains, No. 285

Preparation for Worship—(Responsive)

Exalt the Lord, our God, and worship at his holy hill. For the Lord, our God, is holy.

I will give thanks unto thee.

I will pay my vows unto the Lord. I will meditate on thy precepts, I will observe thy statutes.

Hymn Stanza—(To "Canonbury," No. 251)

Good Father, we thy children pray
For light and guidance on the way,
Reveal thy truth and give to each
Thy blessing of the upward reach. Amen.[1]

Visions of God in the Past—(Responsive)

The Lord spake unto Joshua: have I not commanded thee: be strong and of good courage; be not affrighted, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord, thy God, is with thee whithersoever thou goest. Joshua 1: 9

By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. Hebrews 11: 8

(Elijah on Mount Horeb)

Behold, God the Lord passed by.

A great strong wind rent the mountains, and break in pieces the rocks before the Lord; but the Lord was not in the wind: after the wind an earthquake; but the Lord was not in the earthquake; after the earthquake a fire; but the Lord was not in the fire; after the fire a still small voice, and in that still voice onward came the Lord. I Kings 19: 11, 12

Mountains of Vision

(The Vision of Isaiah)

I saw the Lord, sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple.
Above him stood the seraphim; and one cried unto another and said:
Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.
Then flew one of the seraphim unto me, having a live coal in his hand; and he touched my mouth with it.
And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying:
Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?
Then said I: Here am I; send me. Isaiah 6: 1-9

(Christ in the Synagogue at Nazareth)

The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he anointed me to preach good tidings to the poor.

He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. Luke 4: 18, 19

(St. Stephen's Vision and Martyrdom)

When they heard Stephen, they were enraged and ground their teeth at him. But he, full of the holy Spirit, looked up to heaven and saw God's glory and Jesus sitting at God's right hand. And he said,

"Look! I can see heaven open, and the Son of Man sitting at God's right hand!"

But they uttered a great shout and stopped their ears, and they rushed upon him all together, and dragged him out of the city and stoned him, the witnesses throwing down their clothes at the feet of a young man named Saul. As they stoned Stephen, he prayed,

"Lord Jesus, receive my spirit!" Then falling on his knees, he cried out, "Lord, do not lay this sin up against them!"
With these words he fell asleep.[1]

Hymn Response—(To "All Saints New," No. 262)

The martyr first whose eagle eye
Could pierce beyond the grave;
Who saw his master in the sky
And called on him to save:
Like him with pardon on his tongue,
In midst of mortal pain,
He prayed for them that did the wrong.
Who follows in his train? Amen.

I bind myself to-day
The virtues of the starlit heaven,

Declaration of Purpose—(The Vow of St. Christopher)

(All uniting)

I stand up to do thy will, O God;
Thou hast kindled the desire in me to give myself to no master but the Highest;
In the way of this, my destiny, thou from my mother's arms hast blessed me even until now.
Unto thee be the glory in my life, world without end. Amen.

Hymn—We Bless Thee, Lord, for All This Common Life, No. 221

Prayers—(All uniting)

Help us, our Father, to enjoy the blessed surprise of a beautiful Vision: the Master who preached among the glorious lilies of the field, above the Sea of Galilee, in full sight of the high city on the hill, and the snowy peaks of Hermon: the convincing, intimate good news of a heavenly Father, who careth even for the sparrows on the housetop, and how much more then for us, his foolish, human children?
Lift us up, day by day, to the heart of heaven, with a cry from our inmost being:
"Up with me, into the sky, singing, singing, and all the heavens about me ringing,
O thou God of our never dying aspiration and eternal peace." Amen.[1]

(Alternative prayer for Younger Group)

We praise thee, O God, for thy great, wonderful world, larger than we can measure, more beautiful than we can see, and continually becoming more marvelous as we learn more about it.

A Service with Pledges of Loyalty and Salutes to the Flag

(For Patriots' Birthdays, Flag Day, Fourth of July, and Home Missions)

Prelude—The Land We Love is Calling, No. 276

Scripture Words of Counsel—(Responsive)

Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it.

Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people.

Hymn—God of the Nations, Who from Dawn of Day, No. 274

or

O Beautiful, My Country, No. 275

Words of Instruction and Petition—(Unison)

Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father and to tear down the character of his own and his children's liberty.[1]

No nation can live without vision, and no vision will exalt a nation except the vision of real liberty and real justice and purity of conduct.[2]

We will never bring disgrace to this nation by any act of dishonesty or cowardice.
We will respect our nation's laws and obey them, that we may be an example to others.
We will seek to make justice, peace and brotherhood prevail.
We will pass on this nation not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it came to us.[3]

Almighty God: we make our earnest prayer that thou wilt keep the United States in thy holy protection; that thou wilt incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government; and entertain affection and love for one another. Amen.[4]

Offertory Sentences—(Optional for leader or congregation)

To the preaching of good tidings of salvation
we consecrate our powers;
To the healing of broken bodies and the relief of distress
we consecrate our gifts;
To the leading of every soul to the knowledge and love of Christ
we consecrate our influence;
To the Christianization of our city,
To the building of the kingdom of God;
we consecrate our money, our efforts and our lives. Amen.[1]

America First—(Responsive)

Not merely in matters material,
but in things of the spirit;
Not merely in science, inventions, motors and skyscrapers,
but also in ideals, principles, character;
Not merely in the calm assertion of rights,
but in the glad assumption of duties;
Not flaunting her strength as a giant,
but bending in helpfulness over a sick and wounded world like a good Samaritan;
Not in splendid isolation,
but in courageous cooperation;
Not in pride, arrogance and disdain of other races and peoples,
but in sympathy, love and understanding;
Not in treading again the old, worn, bloody pathway which ends inevitably in chaos and disaster, but in blazing a new trail along which, please God, other nations will follow into the New Jerusalem where war shall be no more.
Some day some nation must take that path unless we are to lapse once again into utter barbarism, and that honor we covet for our beloved America;
So in that spirit and with these hopes we say with all our heart and soul: AMERICA FIRST.[2]

Hymn—O Beautiful for Spacious Skies, No. 271

("America the Beautiful" is being used the world around. It is sung in Canada with the refrain, "O Canada", and in Mexico with "Mi Mejico." When asked about the popularity of this hymn, Miss Bates remarked: "That the hymn has gained, in these years, such a hold as it has upon our people, is clearly due to the fact that Americans are at heart, idealists, with a fundamental faith in human brotherhood.")

Broad Stripes and Bright Stars

Responsive Service with Pledges of Loyalty

Our flag symbolizes for us all the beauty and charm and high ideals of our homeland.

Its red stands for courage, moral as well as physical.

Its white is symbolic of purity, which cannot flourish amidst hate and fear and prejudice.

Its blue stands for truth and loyalty.

Let us then pledge allegiance to our flag, with a renewed sense of being loyal every day of our lives.

Let us see that everyone in this country gets an equal opportunity to enjoy its privileges.[1]

Salute to the American Flag:

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and to the Republic for which it stands: one Nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Hymn Stanza—(To "America," No. 279)

Our father's God, to thee,
Author of liberty,
To thee we sing.
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light,
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King. Amen.

One holy Church, one army strong,
One steadfast, high intent,
One working band, one harvest song,
One King omnipotent.

Salute to the Christian Flag

I pledge allegiance to the Christian Flag, and to the Saviour for whose kingdom it stands,—one brotherhood, uniting all mankind in service and love.

Hymn Stanza—(to "Waltham," No. 304)

Fling out the banner, let it float,
Skyward and seaward, high and wide;
The sun that lights its shining folds,
The cross on which the Saviour died. Amen.

III. Following the Master[1]

A Picture Service using Zimmermann's "Christ and the Fishermen"

(For the Lenton Season, Decision Days and Youth Conferences and Camps)

(Purpose: The purpose of this service is to use objects of art as avenues by which one may enter into the realm of true worship. We are about to relive the experiences of the artist as well as to experience the real message of the picture. Such a picture service opens the doors to treasure houses which we have, thus far, passed by unnoticed.)

Hymn Prelude—Great Master, Touch Us with Thy Skilful Hand, No. 222

(The words should be read silently while the music is being played.)

Call to Worship—(Responsive)

The Lord, our God, is a creative Spirit, the leaping flame which lights men's hearts, which makes clear the pathways of men.

Let us seek to hold high this spirit of creation in beauty and in truth.

Hymn—Thou Who Taught the Thronging People, No. 113

Unison Scripture Reading

And Jesus, walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

And he saith unto them: Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

And going on from thence, he saw two other brethren, James, the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them.

And they left the ship and their father, and followed him.

Litany of the Creators—(Responsive)

Since the first sunrise of primeval man, there has always been some one with the urge to capture nature. The man who made vivid the walls of his cave with red and yellow clays, was the beginning of a long line of artists.

For this man, whoever he may have been, we thank thee, Lord.

The tribesman who stretched dried skins and painted upon them records of the rising and the setting of the sun, and of the happiness and the sorrows of his tribes, was also a creator.

For this man we thank thee, Lord.

---

[1] Service prepared by Frank Grebe

Giotto, who dared to be different, who painted what he thought, raised the flag of true art higher than it had ever been before.

For this pioneer we thank thee, Lord.

Fra Angelico, devout, gentle soul who sang quiet songs in gold and red, was never known to have painted the Child Jesus without kneeling before his canvas all the while he painted.

For this gentle soul we thank thee, Lord.

Michael Angelo, giant wielder of color and colossal hewer of marble was an indomitable spirit in the hand of God. The work of his hands has struck men dumb.
The subtlety of his vision has lifted men to unparalleled heights.
The power of God within him has renewed the faith of men.

For this mighty spirit we thank thee, Lord.

Men to-day see the work of God's hands about them.
They who follow in their steps will perfect their work with even greater skill and keener insight into the beauties of God.

For these artists who are, and who are still to come, we thank thee, Lord.

An Interpretation of Zimmermann's "Christ and the Fishermen":

(To be read by the Leader or three Pupils)

FIRST VOICE

It is a late spring afternoon in Galilee. The sun has clothed the distant hills of Moab with golden brown and dusky amber. The sea has quieted to a silent blue. No longer do its quick, short ripples catch the gleam of the sun, for a brooding silence rests over all the water. Rough fishermen of the nearby village of Tiberias are warming themselves in the afternoon sun, as they mend their drying nets which they had used during the morning. Zebedee, with his two sons, James and John, have been talking about the prospects of the fishing season.

SECOND VOICE

Jesus, who has been in Tiberias, comes walking by the sea. When he sees James and John again, he remembers his conversations with them on previous evenings. He meets Zebedee for the first time. The old fisherman asks Jesus to repeat the words he had told James and John. Zebedee hears for the first time: "Love the Lord, thy God, with all thy strength, with all thy heart, with all thy soul, with all thy might, and love thy neighbor as thyself." Zebedee questions: "But, is this all?" For the first time does this old toil-wearied man of Galilee hear so simple a formula for life. James and John, young in body and elastic in mind, have no difficulty in comprehending Jesus' message. Zebedee, however, seems unable to understand. It is bewildering and perplexing. Jesus shows his skill in understanding men by his gentle, patient and persistent efforts to lead Zebedee into the light.

THIRD VOICE

It is just here that Zimmermann shows his greatest skill as a painter. He has not only portrayed the figure of Jesus with both hands resting on the arm of him who cannot understand, but he has placed us in the picture also. If we abide by the commandments of Jesus, we assume the position of him who sits in the right hand side of the picture. Our mission in life will be not only that of helping those who are easily helped, but more. We will seek to lift unusual burdens and help sorely tried men and women. Then we become not merely fishermen on the Sea of Galilee, but fearless fishermen on the Sea of Life.

Prayer—(All uniting)

Almighty God, we thank thee for all beauty everywhere, for the rapture of a Madonna's face, for the invigorating challenge which hurls itself from the brush of one inspired by thee.

Help us that we may, in turn, create new beauty by living in thy presence. Cause us to live in the spirit of that inspiration so that we may become holy artists of life. This we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Offertory

Hymn Stanza—(To "Hesperus," No. 63)

All things are thine, no gift have we,
Lord of all gifts, to offer thee;
And hence with grateful hearts to-day,
Thine own before thy feet we lay. Amen.

For the life of the world, the love which begetteth our life, our Lord, is song.

Sing unto him, let us sing; for our Lord is song.[1]

Hymn Stanza—(To "Old Hundredth," No. 334)

We'll crowd thy gates with thankful song,
High as the heavens our voices raise;
And earth, with her ten thousand tongues,
Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise. Amen.

Our Lord is he who maketh the desolate places musical, with the rushing of waters, mingling together.

God is at the organ:
I can hear a mighty music echoing
Far and near.
God is at the organ,
And the keys are storm-strewn billows,
Moorelands, trees.[2]

Prayer—(All uniting)

Give us thy harmony, O Lord, that we may understand the beauty of the sky, the rhythm of the soft wind's lullaby, the sun and shadow of the woods in spring, and thy great love that dwells in everything. Amen.[3]

Songs from the Torchbearers of History

LEADER:

Praise we the great of heart and mind,
The singers nobly gifted,
Whose music like a mighty wind
The souls of men uplifted.

1. Gloria Patri—The Hymn of the early Christian Martyrs

LEADER:

What a record for this doxology! Seventeen hundred years of uninterrupted singing in many languages.

How many millions of Christians have chanted it in cathedrals, at festive rites, on pilgrimages, in caves and dungeons, amid perils of the sea?

In the gardens of Nero, in the runways at Ephesus, chained to burning galleys and sinking hulls, with death lurking everywhere in its most hideous form, the early Christians sang:

Gloria patri et Filio et Spiritui Sancto; Sicut erat in principio, et nunc, et semper, et in saecula saeculorum, Amen.

Let us sing it in English: No. 335

Chant—

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

2. Shepherd of Tender Youth

LEADER:

A Strong and Beautiful Apostrophe to Christ coming from Alexandria, Egypt, Third Century. Let us read in unison some of these vivid words of Saint Clement translated from the Greek:

Shepherd of tender youth,
Guiding in love and truth
Through devious ways;
Christ our triumphant King,
We come thy name to sing,
And here our children bring
To shout thy praise.

Ever be thou our Guide,
Our Shepherd and our Pride,
Our Staff and Song;
Jesus, thou Christ of God,
By thy perennial Word,
Lead us where thou hast trod,
Make our faith strong.

3. The Canticle to the Sun (The Hymn and Its Story)

LEADER:

No one loved the birds and flowers and the eternal hills, the Apennines, more than Francesco.

Troubadour he was, living like a prince, dressed in silk and in the latest fashion, singing under the dark blue of an Italian night with his gay young companions.

At the age of twenty-five the reveler became Little Brother of the Sun.

He called all creatures his brothers, loving them and caring for them, and even preaching to them.

One year before his death, he lay prostrate and depressed by blindness, unable to endure any light on his weak eyes, and plagued by swarms of field mice that ran over his face, so that he had no peace day or night. Precisely in this wretched illness, he composed his Canticle to the Sun.

This summer of 1225 was everywhere remembered throughout Italy because of the fierce heat and drought.

(Read John Ruskin's translation of the Canticle, No. 440)

4. The Day of Resurrection

An Easter Festival of Song and Light in Greek and Russian churches throughout a thousand years.

LEADER:

The scene is this:

On the evening before Easter (Athens) as midnight approaches, the archbishop and his priests, with the king and queen, leave the cathedral and take their places on a high platform outside.

Thousands of people with unlighted tapers gather expectantly, while the priests begin chanting softly. At precisely midnight, the archbishop elevates the cross and sings, "Christos anesti!" (Christ is risen), which echoes and re-echoes as caught up by thousands of voices. Simultaneously a burst of light spreads everywhere through hundreds of lighted tapers. Bands play, rockets burst in mid-air, while voices everywhere join in the grand old Easter Hymn:

(Let us all unite to sing)

The Day of Resurrection, No. 127

Dramatization: Darkness everywhere, then one light, multiplying to twelve in the hands of selected singers, and amid a crescendo through the three stanzas, a lighting of all lights and tapers everywhere until church is aglow with light and vibrant with tone.

The Easter Story—(No. 381.)

An Act of Adoration—(Responsive)

For laughter, for cheery companionship, for old recollections revived, of labors and joys and dangers gone by.

God's name be praised.

For the humor, the genial good-will of everyday friendship,

God's name be praised.

For music,
Music that lifts a man's heart from earth
And flings wide the portals of heaven,

God's name be praised.

And for song,
The gracious flower of perfect song,

God's name be mightily praised.[1]

V. Friendship

A Brief Service for General Use

Prelude—O Son of Man, Our Hero (The Londonderry Air), No. 109

Salutation—(Leader) The Upward Road, No. 502

Ruth and Naomi, No. 368

Hymn—Along the Road of Friendly Hearts
O Son of Man, Our Hero, No. 109
or
Heaven Is Here, Where Hymns of Gladness, No. 240

Responses—The Fellowship of Love

This is the message that we have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren,

Let us not love in word, neither in tongue but in deed and truth.

Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend.

There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear.

Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love.

Unison Prayer—Ambassadors of God Among Men
Master and Lord, teach us to love our fellow men
With a love that shall be thy love breaking into the world through us.
Illumine our souls with a knowledge of thy divine beauty and truth
That shall fill us with joy and peace.
Make us messengers of thy grace, ambassadors of God among men.
Make us doorways through which thou thyself mayest enter freely into thy world. Amen.

Offertory

Closing Stanza—(To "Sardis," No. 90)

Father, give thy benediction;
Give thy peace before we part.
Still our minds with truth's conviction,
Calm with trust each questioning heart. Amen.

VI. The Temple of the Out-of-Doors

A Service of Prayers and High Resolves, with Special Music

(For All Seasons of the Year)

Prelude—The Spacious Firmament on High, No. 47

Opening Hymn—This Is My Father's World, No. 39

Exaltation—(Leader)

Lord, I do fear
Thou hast made the world too beautiful this year.
My soul is all but out of me—let fall
No burning leaf; prithee, let no bird call.[1]

Stanza of Joy—(To "Chautauqua," No. 17)

Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Hosts,
Heaven and earth are full of thee,
Heaven and earth are praising thee,
O Lord, most high. Amen.

High Resolves—(Reading alternately)

The Mountains (First Group)

We think of thee as we look out over the green valleys to the mountain peaks.

The whole earth seems silent and peaceful.

The clouds move off unto the unending sky, and our thoughts go with them out into the vastness of the world.

We thank thee for the thrilling, uplifting beauty of the sky and hills!

As we watch them, all the low desires go out of our hearts, and we pray that we may be stronger and nobler than we have ever been before.

Help us to live a mountain-top life.[2]

Instrumental—Hymn to the Mountains—Torjussen[3]

In the Woods (Second Group)

Maker of trees, flowers and birds, we love to steal away to the Temple of the Out-of-doors, and think of thee.

As we lie on the warm earth and look out toward the sunlight, we pray that we may live closer to nature, that we may have the calm spirit of the out-of-doors, be brave like the creatures of the woods, clean and upright like the trees.

Help us to keep our lives in tune with the law of the forest.[4]

Vocal—("Trees" Rasbach.[1] Poem by Joyce Kilmer, No. 437)

At the Seashore (First Group)

We feel that thou art very near as we look out on the wonder of the ocean.

When the ships are sailing off toward the sunset sky and to distant lands, when the beach echoes with the thunder of the deep, our hearts turn to thee as the Maker of the majestic scene.

The endless water, the rising tide and the roar of the breakers tell us something of thy power.

We thank thee, God of nature, for the ocean, for the treasures that it holds, for the courage that it teaches, for its ships and islands and inspiring beauty.

May we have more faith in thy power to help us do wonderful things.[2]

Instrumental—The Majesty of the Deep—Hamer[3]

Autumn Splendor (Second Group)

Thy beauty, O God, is upon us; autumn splendor everywhere! days lucid with vision, or dim with mist, haze and smothered sunshine; nights wistful with summer memories.

Thou hast made our life a summer sowing, an autumn harvest and a great white winter; too short for hate, and only long enough for the love that lifts the load we all must bear.

Who does not hear an autumn anthem singing low in his heart.

Help us to make the life of youth as lovely as the world in which he lives; the brotherliness of humanity equal to the beauty of nature.[4]

Hymn—God of the Earth, the Sky, the Sea, No. 49

Offertory

LEADER:

Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said:
It is more blessed to give than to receive.

Hymn Stanza (To "Wellesley," No. 55)

Grant us, Lord, the grace of giving
With a spirit, large and free,
That ourselves and all our living
We may offer unto thee. Amen.

All cattle rest upon their herbage,
All trees and plants flourish,
The birds flutter in their marshes,
Their wings uplifted in adoration to thee.
All the sheep dance upon their feet,
The fish in the river leap up before thee,
And thy rays are in the midst of the great sea. (Egyptian)

Unison Prayer

O Lord, our God, thou art greater than the ocean, more beautiful than the sunset, more powerful than the earthquake, more tender than a mother's heart. Thy mercies unto us are countless, as the sands of the seashore, or the stars of a summer sky. Help us to feel our incompleteness and dependence upon thee. May we worship thee in the sanctuary, acknowledge thee in the place of business, enshrine thee in the home and praise thee all the day long. Amen.

Closing Hymn—For the Beauty of the Earth, No. 46

VII. Be Still, and Know That I Am God

A Service of Silences

(For Vespers, Summer Camp, and General Worship)

Prelude—Hark! the Vesper Hymn Is Stealing, No. 16

Period of Meditation—(During which the Leader will quietly direct the thinking as follows)

Let us think of the woods and flowers and streams and hills—gifts of the Father God.

Let us think of the sun and moon and stars—lights in God's heaven.

Let us think of man, to whom the Father God has given all these things, for his use and personal development.

Father God, for all thy material gifts we give thee thanks, in Jesus' name. Amen.

Silence

Hymn—Slowly, by Thy Hand Unfurled, No. 217

Prayer

Lord, we thank thee for thy inward voice, which ever and again calleth us away from the clamor and dusty strife of this life, into the cool, quiet groves of eternity. We thank thee that close around us, ever pressing in on us, is thine eternal world, full of peace and joy. We thank thee that a hundred times a day we may take refuge therein, feel thy cool fingers soothing our fevered foreheads, look steadily into thy quiet eyes, drink in unto our souls from that gaze the strength and peace of eternity. Amen.[1]

Silence

My soul, wait thou in silence for God only, for my expectation is from him.
He leadeth me beside the still waters,
He restoreth my soul.

Thanksgiving—(Responsive)

We thank thee, Lord,
For all thy Golden Silences—
For every Sabbath from the world's turmoil;
For every respite from the stress of life;
Silence of moorlands rolling to the skies,

Be Still, and Know That I Am God

Silence of deep woods' mystic, cloistered calm;
Silence of wide seas basking in the sun;
Silence of white peaks soaring to the blue;
Silence of dawnings, when, their matins sung,—
The little birds do fall asleep again;

For the deep silence of high golden noons;
Silence of gloamings and the setting sun;
Silence of moonlit nights and patterned glades;
Silence of stars, magnificently still,
Yet ever chanting their Creator's skill;

For that high silence of thine Open House,
Dim-branching roof and lofty-pillared aisle,
Where burdened hearts find rest in thee awhile;

Silence of friendship, telling more than words;
Silence of hearts, close-knitting heart to heart;
Silence of joys too wonderful for words;
Silence of sorrows, when thou drawest near;
Silence of soul, wherein we come to thee,
And find ourselves in thine Immensity;

For that great silence where thou dwell'st alone—
—Father, Spirit, Son, in One,
Keeping watch above thine Own,
Deep unto deep, within us sound sweet chords
Of praise beyond the reach of human words;
In our souls' silence, feeling only thee—

We thank thee, thank thee, thank thee, Lord.[1]

A. The Star

Responsive Reading

Now when Jesus was born, behold there came wise men from the east, saying:

Where is he that is born king of the Jews?
For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary, his mother, and fell down and worshipped him.

And when they had opened their treasures they presented unto him gifts: gold and frankincense and myrrh.

And they, having heard the king, went their way; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

Hymn—Christians, Lo, the Star Appeareth, No. 90

Offertory—(All uniting)

We open here our treasures and our gifts; and some of it is gold, and some is frankincense, and some is myrrh; for some has come from plenty, and some from joy, and some from deepest sorrow of the soul. But thou, O God, dost know the gift is love, our pledge of peace, our promise of good will. Accept the gift and all the life we bring. Amen.[1]

Hath not one God created us?

Hymn Stanza—(To "St. Peter," No. 299)

In Christ there is no East or West,
In him no North or South,
But one great fellowship of love
Throughout the whole wide earth. Amen.

Prayer—(All uniting)

May naught mar our fellowship and joy, O Father. May none remain lonely and hungry of heart here among us. Let none go hence without the joy of new friendships. Give us more capacity for love and richer consciousness of being loved. Overcome our coldness and reserve that we may throw ajar the gates of our hearts, and keep open house this day and every day. Amen.[1]

Hymn—O Brother Man, No. 244

Dedication—(All uniting)

Lord of Life and Love: I would make my actions show love to all persons whom I meet. I will accept them as they are, with all their mistakes and failures, and declare my common interests and responsibilities with them. If any have wronged or hurt me, I will place my mind within the all-understanding and all-loving mind of God, and here and now forgive. I desire to give forth God's love to men and to make no hinderance to his love coming through me. Amen.[2]

We bless thee, our Father, for the stirring ministry of the past, for the story of noble deeds, the memory of holy men.

God be praised for holy men.

We bless thee for the dawning of the light in far-off ages, as soon as human eyes could bear its rays.

God be praised for the light.

We remember those who bore aloft the torch of truth when all was false and full of shame; the far-sighted souls who from the mountain-tops of vision heralded the coming day; those who labored in the darkened valleys to lift men's eyes to the hills.

God be praised for torchbearers.

Most of all we thank thee for Jesus,
The light of the world.

Light of the world, we hail thee!

Prelude and Opening Hymn—
God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand, No. 273

Salutation (Leader)
Let us now praise famous men,
in whom the Lord showed forth his glory;
his mighty power in the days of old.

Response (All uniting)
Praise be to these who by faith removed mountains and bridged rivers;
who brought waters to a thirsty land
and made the desert rejoice and blossom as the rose;
who gave sight to the blind, cleansed the lepers,
and caused the lame to walk;
who went over the sea to share the perils of oppressed peoples;
who suffered torment and death from fire and smoke;
who took food to the starving in strange lands;
who went down to the sea in ships and into the air like eagles.

Prayer (All uniting)
O thou who art Heroic Love,
keep alive in our hearts that adventurous spirit,
which makes men scorn the way of safety,
if only thy will be done.
For so only, O Lord, shall we be worthy of those courageous souls who in every age have ventured all in obedience to thy call, and for whom the trumpets have sounded on the other side; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.[1]

Hymn Response (Solo or choir or sung softly), No. 330

Thou wast their rock, their fortress and their might,
Thou, Lord, their captain in the well-fought fight;
Thou in the darkness drear, their one true light,
Alleluia.

O may thy soldiers, faithful, true and bold,
Fight as the saints who nobly fought of old,
And win with them the victor's crown of gold,
Alleluia. Amen.

Litany of Heroes (Responsive)

Sound the name of Columbus, brave Admiral;
He gained a world; he gave that world
Its grandest lesson: On, sail on.

O thou Preserver of men, we thank thee for mariners who smote the sounding furrows, who sailed beyond the sunset and the western stars.

By faith the Pilgrim Fathers left their homes, seeking liberty to worship God in the savage wilderness of the western world.

We bless thee, our Father, for the stirring ministry of the past, for the story of noble deeds,
the memory of holy men.

Who was the man who made us.
Who smote for the world to be,
Breaking the bonds of an old world,
Welding with mighty strokes
The thirteen links of the new;
Who, midst the blackening war-storm,
Baffled but unconquered, firm,
Stood like a rock at Valley Forge,
Triumphed for freedom at Yorktown's field,
And gave the nation a soul?
Honor the memory of Washington![1]

We thank thee, our Father, for each mighty one through whom thy living light hath shone.

With courage undaunted our fathers crossed the prairies, as, of old, their fathers crossed the sea, to make the West as the East, the homestead of the free.

Our grateful thanks for Western Youths,
So impatient, full of action,
Full of manly pride and friendship,
Tramping with the foremost; Pioneers, O Pioneers.

Litany (Continued)

Who was the man who saved us.
Our Captain through the storm;
Who dreamed of the Union's faith,
Firm, 'midst the clash of passions,
Deserted, threatened, denounced,
Bowing his head in prayer;
Who held great love in his soul,
Love and anguish of love,
Love for North and South.
Honor the memory of Lincoln![1]
And so they buried Lincoln?
Strange and vain!
Has any creature thought of Lincoln hid
In any vault, 'neath any coffin lid,
In all the years since that wild spring of pain?
They slew themselves, they but set Lincoln free.
In all the earth his great heart beats as strong,
Shall beat, while pulses throb to chivalry
And burn with hate of tyranny and wrong.[2]

(Reading or Solo and Congregation, No. 261)

Who goes there, in the night,
Across the storm-swept plain?
We are the ghosts of a valiant war —
A million murdered men.

Who goes there, at the dawn,
Across the sun-swept plain?
We are the hosts of those who swear:
It shall not be again.[3]

Remembered be all those who gave their lives for liberty, for righteousness, for truth and peace;
whose love, and service and devotion glorify
our earth and make it holy ground.

Offertory (Leader)

The great and brave who have gone before us and blazed the trail, gave freely of their talents, their strength, their lives. We who would remember them today, unite our offerings in memory of their noble giving.

Response after Offering (All uniting)

We dedicate our gifts to the memory of those whom we honor this day;
O Lord, bless what we have given to the building of thy kingdom on earth as it is in heaven. Amen.

A Ceremonial of Maps

(For Armistice Day, Christmas, Missionary and Peace Sundays)

Introduction to the Service—(To be read by the Leader)

A Ceremonial of Maps

I stand before the maps of the world: before the rain map and the map of winds, and I know where rain is falling and where wind is blowing; before a road map of the world, and I see the roads of all lands, and people traveling on them; before a train map, and watch the trains going up and down the earth with pilgrims, guided, all, by a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night; before a map of the lights of the world, and the fires; before a map of the homes of the world, and of the uncharted regions of the human hearts, which in all lands are fashioned alike. What possessions we have in common! Rain and wind and roads and trains and lights and fires and trees and birds and homes and hearts.

On this day I go into all the world, I make room in my heart for my brothers and sisters EVERYWHERE.[2]

A Little Child Shall Lead Them—(Responsive)

The wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid: and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together, and a little child shall lead them.

In hearts too young for enmity
There lies the way to make men free.
When children's friendships are world-wide
New ages will be glorified.
Let child love child, and strife will cease;
Disarm the hearts, for that is peace.

The Human Race

Prayer—(All uniting)

Dear God, help children everywhere to be friends of one another and help us to be friendly to the children of all lands. May we remember that they are thy children, as we are, and so with us a part of God's family on earth. Teach us ways in which we may share our best with them, and in knowing them better, learn to love them more.

This we ask in the spirit of Jesus, who came a little child to earth to reveal thy love to all peoples. Amen.[1]

Many nations shall come and say:
Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord,
And to the house of the God of Jacob.
He will teach us his ways and we will walk in his paths.
They shall beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning-hooks.

Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.
But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid, for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

Pledge of Good Will and Love toward All (Unison)

I pledge my loyalty to the goal of human brotherhood.
I will try to think of all peoples in a kindly spirit.
I will remember that they have rights and duties, as have I; that they are like myself, human beings.
I will work for some form of international organization that will outlaw war and bring the nations together, under common laws, and for the common good. (America)

The Peace Pact, Outlawing War

(Signed by representatives of fifteen nations, August 27, 1928. Over thirty other nations have since indicated their intention of ratifying the pact.)

Article 1

The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the name of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

Article 2

The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

The Pledge of this School or Congregation (Unison)

The teachers and pupils of this school, assembled together, gratefully praise Almighty God, our Father, for this great step toward the final end of the curse of war; and we dedicate ourselves anew to the cause of world peace and brotherhood.

Closing Meditation—(To be read silently)

Peace in our hearts, our evil thoughts assuaging,
Peace in thy church, where brothers are engaging,
Peace, when the world its busy war is waging;
Grant us thy peace, Lord.

Dismissal—(Unison)

Peace be within these walls.
Peace to young and old who enter here.
Hasten the time, O Lord God, when not alone the holy places where thine honor dwelleth, but the whole earth shall be full of thy glory. Amen.
